Tecumseh Goes Over The Top

CHECK FOR TECUMSEH'S $1200 IN RED CROSS DRIVE SENT TO COUNTY

Again, Tecumseh is over the top, this time in the county's drive for funds for emergency relief by the Red Cross.

Tecumseh's quota was $1,200 and it has been exceeded, Perry M. Hayden, chairman, announced this morning. It is believed that this village was the second, if not the first, in Lenawee to reach its goal.

The campaign for the emergency funds was conducted on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, with complete public cooperation. Children in the Tecumseh schools gave 100 percent, for a total of over $155. Nearly $8 was subscribed in the Brownville school. The balance of the fund was raised through public subscription in accordance with a program worked out by some 22 business leaders last Friday evening. At this meeting a Red Cross committee for Tecumseh, to carry on for the duration of the war was named. It is headed by Mr. Hayden as chairman, with Wade L. Jones as secretary, John R. Thompson, as treasurer, and Guy E. Belding and Lester Rogers the other members.

In announcing that the drive was "over the top", Mr. Hayden said: "Actions speak louder than words. We are over the top and a check for $1,200, which was Tecumseh's share, is already in the hands of the American Red Cross county committee.

"The spontaneous response to our appeal is one of the most thrilling chapters in the history of our community, and the beautiful thing about it all is that folks are still giving.

"We want people who have not yet turned in their gifts to do so at once, as we want to really show our fighting forces and our stricken nationals in the war zones of the Pacific that there's a little town in Southern Michigan that has a heart as big as its reputation.

"Gifts may be left at the United Savings Bank, Butler Motor Sales, Wade Jone's office, Heilman's Jewelry Store, Hanna's office, or at the Hayden Flour Mills.

"We expect to give a more detailed report of the drive at the meeting to be held in he Presbyterian church this coming Wednesday night, January 14, when the Red Cross benefit colored motion pictures of the Pacific battle ground will be shown."

Herrick Quits Hospital Board

ASKS FOR RELIEF BECAUSE OF PRESSURE IN DEFENSE WORK; BELDING NAMED

Ray W. Herrick, president of the board of trustees of Tecumseh hospital tendered his resignation to the village council, Monday evening, urging that it be accepted forthwith, that he might be relieved of the responsibiliy and in the future give all of his time and effort toward the operation of his business, now engaged in the National Defense Program. Mr. Herrick s president of the Tecumseh Products Company.

The council, recognizing the increasing demands upon Mr. Herrick's time, accepted the resignation. To succeed him as a member of the board, Mayor J. Floyd Elliott named Guy E. Belding, and the appointment was immediately confirmed by the council. Mr. Belding's term will continue until 1943. Other members of the board are R. K. Anderson, Ned Baldwin, Clarence Wagner and L. E. Brown.

Tecumseh hospital is Mr. Herrick's "dream come true." It was the manufacturer who first conceived the building of the hospital here, and he gave his own time, effort and finances to make possible the building and equipping of the $45,000 institution, which was handed over to the village, debtfree, at its opening. Every penny of the cost of building and equipping the hospital was raised through public subscription. When the hospital was opened, Mr. Herrick was named to the board by the council and he has served since as its president. The hospital has operated at a profit during all of the time it has been open, and three years ago a $25,000 addition was built through a public bond issue, to provide much needed room for patients.

Mr. Belding, the new member of the board, served with Mr. Herrick on the building committee, during the construction of the hospital.

In his letter of resignation to the council, Mr. Herrick pointed out, that the demands made upon him in the National Defense Program, are ever-increasing, and that much of the time he is out of the city. He said that he has been forced to resign other civic offices, and he requested that he be relieved of the hospital trusteeship that he might devote all of his time to that part of building equipment for the government.

The council expressed regret in accepting the resignation, but agreed to grant Mr. Herrick's request until the emergency is past.

There was little other business to come before the council. Current bills were audited and ordered paid, and reports of committees and department heads were read and placed on file.

Paper Campaign

VILLAGE-WIDE COLLECTION OF WASTE PAPER TO BE MADE JANUARY 10

Another village-wide collection of waste-paper will be made in Tecumseh on Saturday, January 10, and the Scouts are asking people to respond without a special canvass of homes.

The pick-up on December 27th, proved immensely successful and this was attributed to the cooperation of the village at large. Bundles were placed on porches, most of them tied for ease in handling and the response was so overwhelming many had to be left for later pick-ups. Palman's donated store space for storing and trucks were loaned by Jack Smith, Tayden Mills, Baldwin Hdwe, and Phlco. Donald Nixon, superintendent of the Quaker Oats Co., loaned the use of the company's baler, which was a great help.

The committee in charge composed of Mrs. Chas. W. Howe, Mrs. L. A. Carlson, M. J. Dannells, Jr., Bert and Robert Dannells, hopes for continued cooperation in these paper drives which are scheduled for every two weeks, commencing January 10 and residents are asked to save all waste paper for National Defense.

Farm Records Made Available By Newspaper

SUBSCRIBERS OFFERED ACCOUNTING PLAN FOR FARM INCOME REPORTS BY THE HERALD

A special offer helpful to its farm readers is made in this issue by the Herald. As a result of arrangements completed through the state newspaper association this paper can offer a copy of "Agricultural Records", the easy accounting system for farmers, with each one year new or renewal subscription to this newspaper for a total combination price of $3.79.

This newspaper has arranged to make this offer possible because of the increased importance of farm records under the new federal revenue law which requires millions of farmers throughout the nation to file an income tax return this year for the first time. Law Requires Records

The revenue law specifically requires the keeping of records as well as the filing of an income tax return by all farmers who have an annual gross income of $750, if single, or $1,500 if married. The law, (Section 54 A) reads:

"Every person liable to any tax imposed by this title or for the collections thereof, shall keep such records render under oath such statements, make such returns and comply with such rules and regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe."

Penalties Listed by Law

Another section of the act (Section 145 A) further provides:

"Any person required under this title to pay any tax or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return, keep any records, or supply information for the purpose of the computation, assessment, or collection of any tax imposed, by this title, who wilfully fails to pay such tax, make such return, keep such records, or supply such information at the time or times required by law or regulations, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000.00—or

ANOTHER JOB FOR THE FARMER

HUNDREDS OF Lenawee county farmers who never before have made an income tax return will do so this year under the new law which requires that a return be filed by all single persons who have taken in a gross of $750 during the year and by all married persons who have taken in $1,500. Whether he has made a profit or not, the farmer must file the income tax return.

The obligation to make the return and to pay such taxes as it shows to be due is one which every American farmer will accept as a patriotic duty to his country which now at great expense is defending him from gangster foes abroad.

But even though the filing of an income tax report is a task which the farmer accepts with patriotic cheerfulness, it is also one which may be burdensome, particularly to those who must fill out the blanks this year for the first time.

The farmer faces a far more complicated accounting task than does the citizen whose income is in salary or wages. To make his income tax report he must have complete financial records showing not only all items of income but all expenses as well for many farm expenses may be deducted from income thus reducing the amount of tax to be paid. The farmer must fill out the usual income tax return and Form 1040-F, a schedule of Farm Income and Expenses.

If the farmer's records consist merely of receipts and other notations tucked away in a drawer, box, or tin can, his task is almost impossible and before March 15 he must go for help to an accountant or attorney whose fee will be increased by the amount of time required to turn these scattered records into an orderly account.

Proper financial records will prove of special value should the farmer's tax return be questioned after it has been filed. If the inspector finds that a mass of disordered records has been the only basis for the return, his doubts concerning the accuracy of the farmer's report naturally will be increased. Long, tedious investigation requiring much of the farmer's time and possibly costly legal aid may follow. If the return is finally found to have been in error due to the faulty records from which it was compiled, expensive penalties may be assessed under terms of the law.

To avoid such difficulties many farmers are adopting the practice of keeping monthly reports on their financial operations. If entries in these monthly records of income and expense are kept according to classifications required for income tax reports, all the farmer must do to make his annual report to the government is to copy off the totals of his various entries at the year's end.

Progressive farmers will start the New Year right by preparing to keep complete records of their 1942 operations in order to protect themselves and to play fair with Uncle Sam. It's good business and good citizenship.

URGES SACRIFICE—SERVICE

Calling for sacrifice and service in the war against America's foes, and pointing to an arduous path that lies ahead for the people of this nation, Lynn U. Stambough, national commander of the American Legion, in an article in The National Legionnaire for December, declares that "as a people we are on the threshold of an era which will require sacrifice on the part of each of us."

Commander Stambough's editorial follows in it's entirety:

An embattled America today needs every man and woman of The American Legion.

Again we count it a privilege to serve the country we love.

Sunday evening your National Commander in Washington pledged the unqualified support of The American Legion to our government.

We pledged that support at Milwaukee in September. We reiterate that pledge on this fateful December 7th.

We pledged our best efforts for national unity at Milwaukee. The menace which confronts our very existence today makes doubly important a completely loyal and devoted America.

All controversy as to why we were put in our present situation should be forgotten as we follow the lead of our government.

Nothing must be allowed to impede the full productive capacities of this nation. Management and labor must and will, I am sure, see eye to eye in this regard.

As a people we are on the threshold of an era which will require great sacrifices on the part of each of us.

Our ordinary round of individual daily tasks will be interfered with necessarily in each community. Legionnaires will be glad to put in extra hours—doing their share to aid in protecting America. Numerous are the jobs to be done. Not only the Legion but all patriotic citizens will aid in the doing thereof.

Let us look squarely at the true facts. We suffered severe losses in the first surprise attack of this war. We face a powerful enemy, well armed and fearless. We face an enemy who is without fairness, decency, or honor.

This may be a long war. We have no illusion that it can be won in a few weeks. We recognize that war is won only through tears and blood.

We of the Legion need to tell America that there can be no easy path to victory.

It will be part of the task of our older, more experienced men and women to give leadership and wisdom to younger Americans. Let us do it truthfully, calmly, honestly, and fearlessly. We are not of such soft stuff that we must have our news softened by censorship.

There will be no war of nerves in the United States. There must be no occasion for panic, for indecision, for hysteria. There must be a great deal of firmness, of courage, of willingness to sacrifice.

We are not going to shout Japan into submission. We are going to shoot her there. The die is cast. There can be no turning back.

Facing the brutal realities of life, we of America must go forward in our strength, must pay the price, and win the victory, whatever the cost in blood and treasure.

America must be defended.

And it's this kind of defense we want to talk to you about. In particular, it's your heating problem. We want you to have the best possible kind of coal, at the lowest possible price.

If you are having heating problems, if your fuel bill is larger than you think it should be, we ask that you consult us. We'd like to prescribe one of our fuels, a kind that is suitable for your furnace or stove needs.

Blackout of State's Capitol Is Symbol of a New Order

LANSING — Michigan's capitol dome illuminated at night with 738 electric lights and a beacon visible for many miles, has been blacked out.

The precautionary step was taken at the recommendation of military authorities, and aside from its economy to the state—an economy incidentally that was not made during the depression— the blackout is significant for its reflection of a drastic and complete transformation of popular thinking in Michigan since the fateful December 7.

By itself, the blackout of the capitol dome will not greatly affect the lives of the people of Michigan. As a symbol of the new order, it foreshadows events and attitudes.

For, as it seems to us now, Michigan has had a bad case of war jitters and near hysteria. Smugness that we were safe from attack has been replaced by positive apprehension for the safety of our cities and our own lives. Since the Japanese raided Pearl Harbor some 4,000 miles from home bases and since military officials insist that enemy planes actually flew over the Golden Gates at San Francisco, w ehave concluded: "It can happen here!"

Liberties

Among war's first results is curtailment of civil liberties. When our collective liberties are endangered, we willingly accept temporary loss of individual liberties.

Freedom of speech and freedom of the press, for example, are subordinated to national security.

In Chicago last week a youth, 23 years old, was fined $200 for booing the President of the United States in a loop newsreel theatre. He said he was peeved because his draft number was 1799 out of 2,000 because the navy, air corps and marines all had rejected him because of defective eyesight, and because he was a Republican. "But I'm as good an American as anybody," he insisted.

Disloyal Speech

Examples of how freedom of speech was curtailed during the last World War, largely as a result of mass hysteria, may be found in these recorded cases:

In Yorkville, New York, Adam Lori was sent to the workhouse for 60 days for shouting "Hurrah for the Kaiser."

In New York City a waiter, Henry Schneider, was jailed 6 months for sneering at the Liberty Loan.

In Jackson, Minnesota, A. C. Townley was found guilty of violating the Minnesota espionage act seven months after the Armistice because he made speeches in behalf of the Non-partisan league, a farm protest group founded in North Dakota.

Myron T. Herrick, former governor of Ohio and former ambassador to France was quoted in the Daily Patriot of Concord, New Hampshire: "This is no time for leniency. We should lock up all those who utter words that prejudice our cause."

Food, Gasoline

During 1918 the federal fuel administrator invoked "gasless Sundays". Louis A. Koch, Detroit, with his wife and another couple had planned to leave early Saturday for an automobile tour to Cleveland. Rain delayed their departure until Saturday afternoon, they spent the night in Toledo.

The next morning, en route to Cleveland, a member of the American Protective League—a group of volunteer vigilantes—spied the foreign automobile license and stopped the car.

From a report of the league, Koch was summoned before the Michigan state fuel administrator and was fined $15 for driving his car on a gasless Sunday.

Another Detroit citizen, J. M. Lieberman was fined $5 for permitting the lights to burn in his store showwindow on the evening of October 28, 1918, in violation of a "lightless night" order.

In Albion a citizen made application to three different coal dealers for anthracite coal. In each case he said he had placed no other orders. When the case was heard by the fuel administrator, he was instructed to take the coal out of the basement and to donate it to Albion officials for free use of the poor, and to show within 48 rours a receipt for the sum of $200 contributed to the Red Cross.

Censhorship of News

Freedom of the press is another civil liberty to be curtailed during war.

Close censorship of news at the military source has already been applied by the federal government.

A Detroit newspaper was banned from Camp Custer for one month during the first World War because a reporter was charged with writing an objectionable article.

Actually, the reporter (now a prominent newspaper executive in Detroit) wrote a news article to limitations previously approved and accepted. After he had filed the dispatch, he learned from the commanding officer to refrain from mentioning unusual camp activities and wired a request to kill the dispatch.

Although the news article was promptly suppressed by the editor, the newspaper was banned from camp for 30 days and the reporter was put permanently on the banned list.

Hysteria

Michigan's first weeks under the war conditions were spent by citizens and officials under unusual circumstances.

Peace-time thinking had been drastically revised. The transformation was unparalled in its swiftness. Whereas many citizens had been divided in attitudes about isolation and intervention, or suspicious at the administration, they became overnight intensely indignant, feverishly at white heat in anger, thoroughly aroused and embittered and determined to do something about it at once, without delay.

The result, of course, was inevitable. Calm thinking gave way to jittery thinking. In view of the sudden outbreak of war, it was perhaps inevitable.

War To Change Daily Routine

SACRIFICES ARE ONLY BEGINNING FOR THE FOLK LIVING IN MICHIGAN

LANSING, January 7 — Life in Michigan will be different in 1942.

Looking upon an "all-out" tug of war with the Axis as ever a "temporary interruption in the normal course of business", Michigan may expect changes during the coming year to include the following:

Added to the selective service list of 600,000 men will be 500,000 men between the ages of 36 and 65 —or a total of more than one million Michigan men subject to war duty, if physically qualified and if needed by the nation. Of this group the men between the ages of 29 and 45 will be liable to call for combat service.

The registration call, issued last Monday, January 5, affects 25,000,000 men between the ages of 18 and 65 years. Michigan's total thus will be about one-twentieth of Uncle Sam's potential manpower for prosecution of the war. Even a half million men, taken from normal economic use, would result in drastic changes throughout the state.

Yes, life is going to be different.

Old, Old Story

The blunt plain talk of Winston Churchill at Washington and Ottawa made a profund impression on Americans.

Just as our pre-Christmas prosperity claim was shattered by the treacherous Japanese raids on Pearl Harbor, later duplicated by bombing of Manila during the holidays, so our attitude on the war underwent a major readjustment during the Churchill-Roosevelt conferences.

Despite the encouraging headlines of Nazi defeats in Russia, the fact remains that Washington now plans for a three-year war. Production of arms, growing as it has been, is totally inadequate to meet new needs. Unless the German nation collapses from weak morale or lack of needed supplies, we must wait until 1943 and possibly 1944 before there are sufficient arms and trained men to justify a full-fledged military offensive. Unless we strip for action quickly, we may be "too late".

It's the same old, old story of American unpreparedness which you find again and again in American history. Only this time, we have a few Allies, less time in which to overcome the appalling handicaps.

Start of Sacrifices

And so when the news breaks that the United States, fighting a two-ocean war, must make great sacrifices, greater than ever dreamed of during the World War I, some how or other it fits into the usual pattern which democracies can expect. Our sacrifices in Michigan are just beginning.

Michigan automobile factories are to be converted nearly 100 per cent into war arsenals. What had been expected to be a gradual transition may become an arbitrary overnight halt to production of the cars. Net result will be temporary unemployment of several hundred thousand workers, plus the readjustments imposed upon thousands of automobile dealers.

Automobile advertising will cease to emphasize new models, but will center on servicing present cars.

Because of metal priorities, the manufacture of refrigerators, radios, washing machines, stokers, stoves and many other household appliances may be temporarily suspended.

How world-wide the war has become was illustrated recently when the government revealed the extent of restrictions on sale of automobile tires. Only persons who have urgent and vital need for the rubber product will be permitted to buy in 1942. Thousands of automobiles may be forced off the highways. In England tire blowouts have caused thousands of deaths.

Tourist Business

The 1942 tourist business in Michigan should not be drastically affected by the tire restriction, but some curtailment may be anticipated. The 1943 season will be uncertain.

Retreaded tires will replace new tires, to a certain degree, just as automobile repair work is expected to replace sale of new models.

A 35 per cent reduction in demand of gasoline is also forecast. In turn, curtailment of gasoline will reduce the state's income from gasoline taxes for highway use. Fewer car licenses will be needed. The 1941 income of nearly $60,000,000 may shrink to $45,000,000 or $40,000,000. In turn this would force retrenchment in highway building, and so on. The cycle is long.

Experience of the Michigan tourist business during the last war was favorable. When pressure mounts, need for relaxation rises. Paradoxically, night clubs in England and Canada have been doing a thriving business.

Defense Needs

Last week the state deficit was wiped out, just one year earlier than Budget Director Leo Nowicki thought was possible.

A year-end check of $4,356,000 from the state liquor control commission, representing payment to the general fund from Michigan's liquor sale monopoly was responsible. On top of this the commission paid $1,269,000 to the federal government in liquor taxes.

Thus the state ended 1941 with a balance of around $60,000 in the bank.

Augmented state income from sale and liquor taxes will be needed to meet new demands due to the war. If the legislature is called into special session—and such may be the case—around $5,000,000 may be asked for use of the state troops, state police, and other wartime functions.

Belts will be tightened in 1942, when Congress enacts higher income taxes and other war-time levies. When the Michigan wage-earner turns over in payroll deductions a fifth to a third of his annual wages to Uncle Sam, then he'll know he s in the war.

Yes, life will be different. The price of victory is just starting.

Philadelphia. — When police examined the body of Wayne Harper Mullins, 30, in the hospital to which he had been sent after being struck by a car, they discovered that his ring had no setting. They returned to the scene of the accident and found a large diamond in a pool of blood.

COLOMA, MICH. —Opening a package left by the postman, Mrs. Charles Nichols found a purse she had lost in November, 1919. Its contents—two large-size $1 bills, some change, two rings and receipts—were intact. The identity of the sender is unknown.

Would Your Family Enjoy Fresh Strawberry Shortcake?

Well, we hardly know a family in Tecumseh that isn't fond of shortcake, so we make this suggestion:

If you're looking for something tempting and delicious for a dessert, get a box of fresh-frozen berries from our locker. Serve them tonight or tomorrow night—or Sunday—with home-baked biscuits or cake. Watch the family's reaction. It's a swell way, mother, to please them all. And it's an inexpensive way, too.

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 11. The Golden Text (I Cor. 5:8): "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 22:41, 42): "And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast and kneeled down, and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me; nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.33): "When the human element in him struggled with the divine, our great Teacher said: 'Not my will, but Thine, be done!'—that is, Let not the flesh, but the Spirit, be represented in me."

Of all virtues and dignities of the mind, goodness is the greatest, being the character of the Deity; and without it man is a busy, mischievous wretched thing.—Bacon.

Mr. Farmer:
Start the New Year RIGHT!

Avoid Income Tax Trouble
in 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Herald has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agrcultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes each week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

"We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.

HOLD YOUR BREATH

I met her in the garden
One night was still as death.
I knew she knew her onions,
I could smell them on her breath.
I left her in the garden
She breathed a fragrant sigh.
Her best friends wouldn't tell her.
So why the heck should I?

Farm Records

imprisoned for not more than one year or both together with the costs of prosecution."

Form 1040F which must be filled out with the income tax return requires a detailed record of all income from live stock, grain, hay, cotton, tobacco, potatoes, sugar beets, vegetables, fruit, nuts, dairy products, eggs, meat, products, poultry dressed, wool, honey, sorghum, merchandise received for produce, machine wor, hire of teams, breeding fees, rent received in crop shares, work off farm and forest products.

Records Must Be Complete

The farmer must also report sale of livestock and other items purchased, depreciation of property and equipment and farm operating expenses which are broken down into 17 classifications.

Because it is obvious that no farmer can make the report required by this income tax form, without a careful system of records, this newspaper is making its present offer to aid him in handling this task with the least trouble. "Agricultural Records," which is being offered to farm readers by hundreds of newspapers throughout the nation, is a simple system of records which requires no knowledge of bookkeeping and little time. It will enable the farmer to keep the facts required for income tax filing with less trouble than any other system which has come to our attention.

A copy of "Agricultural Records" will be on display at the Herald office. A member of the paper's staff will be glad to explain the working of the record system to any farmer who calls at the office for that purpose. Complete details of the special combination offer will be found in an advertisement in this issue.

A FISH STORY ...

WEST BRANCH, Cecil Bedtelyon of Selkirk, one of the first fishermen to try the new ice on Boughner lake, succeeded in getting a good mess of crappies and perch and caught himself a minnow bucket with two dozen live minnows in it as well.

Bedtelyon was looking through the clear ice in search of a deep place to fish when he saw the minnow bucket. After chopping a hole he hooked the bucket, pulled it up, and to his surprise found the two dozen large chub and sucker minnows very much alive. As there had been no fishermen on the lake for some time, Bedtelyon believes the minnows lived there imprisoned for at least two weeks, probably longer.

Conservation officers reporting the incident, rate it the best story of the ice fishing season thus far.

Uncle Sam Urges that you protect YOUR MOTOR CAR

Insofar as the average motorist is concerned, motor cars are "off the market." The car that you are driving today will undoubtedly be the only car you will have until the war is over. Automobiles, you know, are a definite part of our great National Defense Program.

It is, therefore, every motorist's duty—if he desires to continue to operate his car—to see to it that it is in good running condition. He also must keep it in that condition if he desires to continue to use it.

And to the motorists of Tecumseh and its trading area, we make this pledge:

We will give to you the best possible, and the quickest service we know, regardless of the make of your car. We will do all in our power to keep your car operating, so long as we can secure the necessary repair parts.

We urge motorists to use extreme care in the operation of their cars. Don't neglect the protection of batteries and radiators. See to it that generators are operating, check the oil regularly, and keep tires inflated properly. These are a few of the things that will assure longer life.

If you get into trouble, bring your car to us for service. We'll help you if we can, and you may be assured that our price will be as reasonable as we can make it.

We want to do our part in this National Defense Program by making the motor cars on the road today last longer—to operate at best efficiency.

Tire Rationing Board Is Ready

BUT FOR THE AVERAGE CITIZEN, NO NEW TIRES WILL BE AVAILABLE

Lenawee county's tire rationing board has been established and is functioning, but to the average citizen it doesn't make any difference. Unless you happen to fall under the federal government's very limited classification of "essential" users, you can't get a new tire, anyway.

Harry Bradley, county treasurer, is the new administrator of the three-man board, succeeding Robert B. King, county clerk, who resigned the post under the advice of the doctor. Mr. King was told that acceptance of the rationing post, plus his ordinary duties for the county, was too much for his health.

The procedure to purchase new tires requires that applicants go to the court house and obtain an application blank, fill it out and take it to an authorized tire inspector and return it to the board which will meet to decide on issuance of the certificate of purchase.

The authorized tire inspectors must be tire dealers whose duty it is to make a thorough investigation determining the absolute investigation determining the absolute necessity of the new tire purchase.

Lenawee county's quota for the month of January is 46 tires and 30 tubes for automobiles and 131 tires and 110 tubes for trucks. These must be rationed evenly throughout the month that it all may not be rationed at once or in a short period of time.

The board already has been designed by requests for permission to buy tires but previous to this week, all requests have been turned down pending the receipts of all remaining blanks and nformation.

Although the tire rationing board is functioning, most automobile drivers need take little notice of it. You still can't buy a tire unless you fall into the very limited classifications permitted by the government, physicians, visiting nurses, certain public officials, transportation companies and certain motor freight lines. New tires for pleasure cars and ordinary business driving definitely are out.

Tire inspectors, who have been authorized under the emergency and whose job it will be to judge the condition of tires on cars of persons who make applications for new ones, have been named throughout the country. It was point out that a inspector must determine whether or not a tire is sufficiently worn to warrant a new one, or whether it can be repaired or retreaded, as the case may be.

In Tecumseh, the inspectors are: Buler Motor Sales, Frank Gruber, Schneider Bros. Garage, and Geo. Wilson, in Ridgeway the work will be done at the Reynolds Garage of Britton, in Macon William Gibson is the inspector, and in Franklin, Earl Luce of Tipton, in Clinton, inspections will be at the Leicester Garage and by Fred Geiger.

Car Tax Stamps On Sale Jan. 26

WILL COST $2.09, GOOD TILL JULY 1, THEN THE TAX WILL BE $5

The new automobile tax stickers, required by the federal government, will go on sale in Tecumseh and throughout the United States on January 26, according to an announcement from the Treasury Department. The stickers may be purchased at any postoffice or federal revenue office.

The first sticker, which every private automobile or truck will have to carry after February 1, will cost $2.09 and will be good until July 1, when new stickers will be sold at the annual rate of $5 apiece. Other stickers at varying costs will be sold for all other types of motor vehicles and motor boats.

To begin with, the Treasury is going to ask motorists to go to post office or revenue offices and buy stickers on their own initiative. A record will be kept of those who pay and compared with registration lists to find out how many will have to be reminded of the new tax, which was enacted by Congress last fall.

The sticker will be a green revenue stamp showing a liberty bell design.

The Treasury said that because these stamps have an actual value, they will be sold only for cash, money orders or certified checks No personal checks will be accepted.

Dutch E. I. Key To Jap Success

REINFORCEMENTS ARE ON WAY TO SINGAPORE, GUARDIAN, RAW MATERIALS MART

By H. S. Sims

That the Japanese are winning important victories in the Far East can not be questioned. That it will take a large army and vast supplies to retake what has been lost is self-evident.

Nevertheless, the Japs have not yet won the capital prize of the Far East: the raw materials in the Dutch East Indies. Without these she can never be self-suffient; with them, she will be practically blockade-proof.

The great British base at Singapore is the gateway to these riches. When singapore falls, the fate of the Dutch East Indies is sealed. The main object of the Allied defanse is to reinforce Singapore, or rather to reinforce the troops fighting on the Malaya Peninsula.

To get enough troops here to stop a Jap drive is a very hard job, inasmuch as the Japs will have an unhampered supply line. The seasoned Jap soldier, coupled with the short supply line, makes it almost impossible for the United State and Britain to stop the onrush of the Jap soldiers, unless the picture changes by an unannounced move, such as a Russian entry into the cofflict.

Of course, Japan can be stopped if the United States and Great Britain decide to concentrate enough of their strength nto the fray. However to do this might prove very costly. Help could be sent from the African battlefront, or from the British Isles themselves; such action would play into Hitler's hands and would probably be sheer folly.

Reinforcements will be sent to our Far East outposts but they will not be sent in such quantities as to warrant offensive action. Allied strategy, for the present, is to fight defensively, until U. S. production can reach full momentum. The present estimates expect the United States to reach a war-time footing about the middle of 1943.

There is much speculation as to what the Navy is doing now. The President has announced that they are executing previously prepared battle plans. What these plans are remain a military secret.

It is possible that the U. S. Fleet may be out seeking contact with the Japanese: this does not seem plausible in view of the recent needs that have been impressed upon it by Jap successes. it is more likely that the fleet is on its way to Singapore with the aim of gaining air supremacy in that area in order o turn the tide of battle. To harass Jap supply lines would also be an objective of such an expedition.

Another possibility is that the Navy is approaching American shores to provide convoy for an American Expeditionary Force to the Far East. Such action will be an invitation for a major fleet engagement. That the United States Government will not risk having an A. E. F. sunk at sea is likely; thus, a large body of soldiers probably will not be sent across the ocean, until sea supremacy is assured.

On the Russian front, Stalin's boys continue to push the Germans back. Although the Russian offensive includes over 1000 miles, the Russians are only nibbling at the land that Hitler has taken from the Soviet nation. They continue to gain, but their gains are only small comparatively speaking.

Russian gains should not rock Americans into a sense of security against Herr Hitler. We should note that the Russian offensive is progressing just slowly enough to give Hitler plenty of time to launch another major attack in another direction.

Hitler would like England and America to think that he has his hands tied in Russia; then as forces are weakened to send to the Japanese front, he will strike with his fury and he will make most of his opportunity to surprise the democracies.

But the democracies will not be caught off guard again. The Churchill - Roosevelt conferences testify to the fact that the free peoples of the world will act with a unity in combating the aggressors, it is worth noting that while this conference was going on in Washington, conferences were going on in Russia and China also. This is not a case of an airport. Was this the best that Tecumseh could do? When informed that the town they had seen was not Tecumseh but Clinton and that the 'airport' was just a pasture the pilot departed feeling somewhat chagrined. Schools Here To Get $4,000

IS TECUMSEH'S FIRST PAYMENT OF STATE AID FOR YEAR 1942

The first regular payment of school aid for 1942, amounting to $5,010,074, has been sent to all county treasurers. School districts should receive their allotments within a few days.

The Lenawee county allotment is $56,973, of which Tecumseh's share is $4,030. Other allotments are Adrian $12,217; Addison, $3418. Blissfield, $5931; Britton, $1857; Clinton, $2613; Clayton, $1351; Deerfield, $735; Hudson, $3008; Sand Creek, $2532.

Because hundreds or small school districts qualify for very small payments of school aid, payments in full will be made at this time to all districts due to receive less than $200.

School districts qualifying for over $200 will receive their payments in five monthly installments, each installment being approximately one-fifth of the total. Checks will be available to districts not later than the 15th of the month.

During the first six months of the current school year, many school districts have requested an advance payment of their school aid. For these districts, the monthly payments will be one-fifth of this balance due the district.

Within a few days, each county commissioner will be sent a copy of the work sheets showing the method by which the amount of school aid for each district within his county has been determined.

School districts desiring an analysis of the state aid law as it applies to their district should obtain the information from their county school commissioner.

Will Collect Scrap Metal

DRIVE TO BE CARRIED ON BY SCHOOL; FUNDS TO BUY DEFENSE STAMPS

W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, today announced a scrap metal drive to be conducted by students here, the metal to be sold and the funds thus obtained to be used to purchase Defense Savings Stamps for the school treasury.

"There is an urgent need on the part of our government for scrap metal," Mr. Berkhof said, "and we desire to cooperate. Any person in Tecumseh, or in this area (rural districts included) who has scrap metal to dispose of, may call the school, telephone 63, and we will send a truck to collect it. The drive undoubtedly will be made next Thursday, Friday and Saturday."

Mr. Berkhof pointed out that all over the state the government is appealing for scrap metal with which to keep foundry workers employed. In Adrian this week a similar appeal was made, junk dealers declaring that many persons are holding the old metal until prices rise. This will do them no good, however, inasmuch as the government has established a ceiling on the price.

The board of education discussed the program at its regular monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, and gave it their approval. They also considered air raid precautions at the local schools, a definite program to be announced soon.

Plans and specifications for the installation of new boilers in the heating system at the central building were authorized, and this program will be carried out early in the coming spring or summer.

A new metal lathe has been purchased and installed in the high school shop, and will be a valuable tool for the teaching of metal work, and in the preparation for defense work, officials believe.

A conference of grade school teachers and parents, will be held at the school during the coming week. The first semester program will be discussed and plans for the new semester considered. This activity is in keeping with the chool's P. T. A. program.

2 Children Die As Home Burns

BOY, 5, AND SISTER, 3, PERISH WHEN FLAMES RAZE SAND LAKE COTTAGE

Frederick James Morin, 5, and his sister Jacquelin Ann, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Morin of Sand Lake, were burned to death in their home about 10:15 Friday night, while their parents were working at the Sand Lake roller skate rink nearby, oblivious of the catastrophe.

Mr. and Mrs. Morin have been assisting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry McSwain, in the operation of a roller skating rink in the former Sand Lake dance hall, and occupied a cottage east of the pavillion near the road. Mr. Morin had been to the cottage a short time before the fire and found everything in order.

A passing motorist saw the flames and spread the alarm. State Police were notified and several attempted to enter the cottage but could not penetrate the wall of flames. The fire was completely beyond control when discovered, spreading quickly in the light construction of the cottage which was heated by stove. It is thought the pipes became overheated causing the blaze. The children were asleep on the second floor and their bodies were recovered by State Police Saturday.

Clinton and Onsted fire departments responded but could not save anything. All furniture and personal belongings of the tenants were lost.

Private funeral services for the children were held Monday afternoon at the Hause Funeral Home in Clinton with burial in the Clinton cemetery.

Indians Ready For Redskins

TO PLAY CLINTON HERE FRIDAY EVENING. TECUMSEH LEADS LEAGUE

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school cagers will meet the Clinton Red skins on the local court tomorrow evening at 7:15 for the eighth battle of the season. Clinton to date has not won any of their games while the Indians have won seven out of seven starts. Dopsters expect the Indians to win an easy victory.

Beginning the year 1942 with a bang, the Tecumseh squad defeated the Morenci Bulldogs by a score of 35-32 on the Morenci court last Friday and the Milan five of the local court last Tuesday. This gives the Indians a perfect score. Five of these games have been league games and since Tecumseh defeated Morenci, the only undefeated team in the league, they stand at the top of the county undisputed leaders.

Tecumseh is engaged in a sportsmanship contest with the other schools in the county and while those who are still in school are doing their best to win the award, they urge some of those who have gone on to cooperate to the fullest extent.

The reserves have been doing well having won all of the games played to date. They will, however, meet some stronger opposition when they meet the Clinton reserves tomorrow.

RUBBER RESTRICTIONS HURT MANY

The war comes closer home to millions of Americans with the order prohibiting the sale of automobile tires to almost everybody.

While the United States has acquired a stockpile of crude rubber to meet basic war needs for more than a year, there is not enough for unrestricted civilian consumption. Meanwhile, the Japanese have apparently gained control of certain Malayan areas on which American-owned plantations are situated and their naval superiority in the Far East threatens the supply lines that connect us with niney-five per cent of the world's crude rubber supply.

It is interesting to observe, in connection with this situaton, that if the defenders of the Far East apply the "scorched earth policy" to the rubber plantations it will require between ten and fifteen years to again provide sufficient crude rubber for the normal needs of the world. This might mean, according to P. W. Litchfield, executive of a rubber company, that our way of life might be changed as a result of the war.

MEXICO PROVES A FRIEND

In the rush of more important events, the people of the United States have, to some extent, overlooked the action of Mexico and other Central American countries, in coming to the support of this country in the present world crisis.

It is interesting to observe that Mexico recently severed diplomatic relations with Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary and that the Foreign Ministry, in its announcement, said that the action was taken because these countries had declared war on the United States.

Not many years ago was it the common belief among many responsible officials of this country that, in the event of war, Japan would promptly establish bases on the west coast of Mexico and it was believed possible that the Mexicans might passively permit such action against the United States. This opinion flourished during the strained diplomatic relations which existed between the United States and Mexico, but today, thanks to an enlightened policy of forbearance, the United States is happy to be able to count Mexico among its good friends and to rely upon the Mexicans to assist in the necessary steps to protect Mexico territory from being used by the enemies of the United States.

SUGAR HOARDERS

During the fifteen day period beginning on the Monday following the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor, a month's supply of sugar was bought by the American buying public.

In other words, for every five pounds of sugar that was bought to feed us Americans, another five pounds of sugar was bought to hoard.

A small group of buyers who anticipated a shortage of sugar bought up large supplies, so that they would not have to suffer with their fellow-Americans if a shortage should come. To us, this group of hoarders was not only unpatriotic in the attempt to escape its share of sacrifices but also out of harmony with the Amercan spirit.

A CONGREGATION UNDERSTANDS

The First Baptist Church of Sullivan, Indiana, with $1,083.85 in its building and organ fund, recently voted to invest the money in defense bonds.

The pastor of the church explains that, "If we win the war, eventually we can buy an organ and build a new building. But if the American form of government cannot survive this crisis, we won't need churches or organs."

Evidently, the Rev. C. B. Atkison and his congregaton have gotten over the idea that life and business in the United States can proceed as normally. Apparently, they understand that the time has come for all Americans to support the Government in its fight against the enemies of freedom and what we consider to be the proper religion.

The acid test of any farm program, according to our notion, is the net cash left in the farmers' pockets after the expenses of the crops have been taken care of.

Advertising is an old custom that is observed by most successful business men.

Optimism, to be worth anything, should be based on intelligent knowledge, not on super-heated hot air.

Our own idea is that those people who were yelling for cold weather last summer have been getting a taste of what they wanted.

The new "interrupted silhouette" this year is achieved with peplums, tiers and tunics. This New York creation features a perky, pleated peplum that fastens on like a little apron over this featherweight wool dress of rascal red. Slanted pockets are hidden beneath the peplum to complement the high pockets on the bodice. The look is soft and feminine, typical of this season's fashion trend.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 17:3): "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

Mr. Farmer: Start the New Year RIGHT!

Avoid Income Tax Trouble in 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Herald has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agricultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes each week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

"We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.

Ford Will Make Synthetic Wool

FIBER COMES FROM SOY-BEANS; PRODUCTION WILL Be 1,000 TONS A DAY

DEARBORN, January 14.—The Ford Motor Company announced today that it is ready to begin a limited production of synthetic fiber developed from soybeans. The fiber is similar to sheep's wool.

Spun by ingenious methods from a molasses-like substance that contains soybean protein as its principal ingredient, the fiber is derived from the lowly farm crop that Henry Ford brought into industrial prominence.

The company has been operating a "pilot" mill at its Highland Park plant for several months which is capable of spinning upwards of 1,000 pounds of the fiber a day.

Now that the preliminary experimental work has been completed, the entire operation is being moved to Dearborn, where it will occupy part of a new building opposite the Ford Airport. For the present, the fiber production rate will be approximately 1,000 pounds a day, company officials said.

The synthetic product is said to be best used when blended with sheep's wool. Ford research chemists who developed the material estimate that eventually the thousands of pounds of wool now being used annually in upholstery can be supplemented by at least 25 percent of this new fiber.

Developed after nearly a dozen years of farm crops research, the soybean fiber takes its place beside the company's plastic automobile body as another milestone in Henry Ford's intensive effort to bring industry, and agriculture into partnership.

The fiber, which can be produced for considerably less than half the cost of sheep's wool, will probably be used in numerous ways eventually, officials said. However, early production will go into upholstery, for which the new product is ideally suited because of natural crimp and a high degree of resiliency.

Mr. Ford, who prizes a suit made in part of soybean fiber, sees wide peace time use of the new material after the present emergency. He is convinced that the synthetic product will spur the sale of natural wool rather than curtail it, inasmuch as the materials must be used together. The auto maker looks for the less expensive soybean fiber to stimulate the sale of fabrics.

So far as is known, the company said, the soybean fiber is the first produced from the protein of a plant or vegetable. All other proteins are of animal origin.

The complicated processing begins now at the company's Rouge plant, where the oil is extracted from the bean. Protein from which the fiber is made, after being removed from the oil-free meal at the farm products laboratory, is dissolved to produce a viscous, stringy substance that emerges from a 500-hole spinneret looking not unlike fine noodles.

The extruded filaments are run through an acid bath and later, after immersion in formaldehyde to completely set the fiber, they are cut to desired staple length and dried under controlled temperature and humidity conditions.

At the Highland Park mill, the fiber is submitted to a half dozen other operations, all of which prepare it for spinning. After being spun, it is shipped to the mills that weave Ford upholstery. Wool and other fibers are added there.

BOY, 14, LASSOES DEER

Helena, Mont.—Flushed by a horseback party, a 200-pound deer charged 10-year-old Marie Nettleton's horse. The horse reared up and threw the child but Ted Schuele, 14, tossed his lariat about the buck's horns, then wheeled his horse to bring the animal to the ground. Clifford Nettleton, Marie's father, raced to a nearby house, secured a gun and shot the deer.

World's Toughest Tank Put Through Paces

Shown here in action is the world's toughest tank being dramatically tested before delivery to the U. S. Army. Called by military experts the "world's deadliest weapon of its kind", with firing power heavier and usefulness greater than the German tanks in Flanders and Greece, this very tank pictured above is the first 28-tonner completed in the U. S., with regulation armor-plate and guns, and ready for front line action. With K. T. Keller (right) President, Chrysler Corporation, which made this first tank in its new $20,000,000 arsenal near Detroit, and Major General Charles M. Wesson, Chief of Ordnance, U. S. Solons To Meet In War Session

SESSION AT LANSING ON JANUARY 19; GOVERNOR MAY ASK FOR $5,000,000

A session of the Michigan legislature with no partisan politics!

If assurances from the leaders from both camps of the state's divided government carry through Michigan citizens will witness a strange and unusual spectacle Monday, January 19, when the Republican controlled legislature answers the call for a special war session issued by Democratic Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Calling the legislators back to Lansing, Governor Van Wagoner made it clear that he wanted the legislature to confine itself to "this war emergency." That means the Governor wants it understood beforehand that there will be no injection of partisan disputes or other controversy into the consideration of strictly necessary war measures.

Simultaneously, Republican Speaker Howard Nugent notified the Governor that the dominant Republican majority in the House of Representative would co-operate fully in the consideration of wartime measures.

War Needs In State

Just what the wartime measures will include were not definitely outlined by Governor Van Wagoner in his announcement.

He may ask appropriations totalling $5,000,000 for wartime spending.

Possible expenditures would include expansion and equipment of the Michigan State Troops (Home Guard organizations), further subsidy for the State Council of Defense to finance its program of civilian recruiting, auxiliary police, fire protection, air raid wardens, medical units, state police expansion and tie-in civilian defense activities.

Echoes of the storm which wrecked the fragile structure of bi-partisan government in 1941 still ring through the State House as the legislature approaches its war special session.

Memories of the legislature which refused to adjourn are still fresh and the politicians in both camps are inclined to be a bit jittery.

The personnel of the legislature which defied the governor at the regular session, is unchanged. There is no indication that the temper of the leaders of the opposition has undergone any definite change. The "show me" attitude is apparent in both houses on the part of at least some of the members, who will be alert for any semblance of an attempt to play politics in the special session.

At the same time there is strong evidence of the desire of Republican leaders to cooperate with the Governor to the fullest extent possible in the matter of wartime emergency legislation. Requests of the Governor, within that category, will be speedily granted. No one seems to doubt that. Further, Republican leaders may be depended upon to avoid any controversy, which may tangle up the defense program or stall quick and united action on Michigan's part toward meeting the national crisis. It is to their party's best interest that a Republican legislature goes along in that phase of bipartisan government.

Test At Hand

Governor Van Wagoner has stated that he does not contemplate injecting such issues as the appropriation of funds for civilian non-defense governmental activities into the special session picture. This does not preclude action on other matters, mutually agreed upon, however. It is here that the bi-partisan government idea may be put to another test.

"We would need a pretty clear understanding that there would be no opposition to any non-defense items brought into the special session," the Governor has been quoted as saying.

There has been increasing pressure upon the Governor from several of the state departments and commissions for additional funds, with which to operate for the remainder of the year. One such request comes from the Labor Mediation Board, which has been concededly under-financed from its inception. Most departmental budgets have been upset by salary increases ordered by the Civil Service Commission.

Some of these requests for funds may be considered if the executive office and the legislature can reach a mutual agreement. They may furnish the test as to whether or not bi-partisan government is more than a dream.

Defying Superstition

Can Governor "Pat" Van Wagoner defy a superstition and get away with it?

The Governor's "advisors" are said to have called his attention, with fear in their voices, to an old superstition of the Capitol that the governor who calls back the legislature for a special session pays with his job. The rumor is that the Governor paid some attention to those who begged him beware, but decided to risk his political neck anyway. So the legislature will come back. A survey of gubernatorial history does not bear out the superstition and indicates that some governors, who went down in defeat after calling back the legislature, would have lost at the polls anyway.

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald called back the legislature late in 1936, but he had already been defeated at the November election and convened the special session at the request of Governor-elect Frank Murphy to consider social security legislation.

Wartime necessity has chased away fear of the jinx from the "front" office.

Public Pressure

Sometimes, in the whirl of governmental procedure, John Q. Public rises up and takes over a function usually performed by special groups and interests. He puts pressure on government for something HE wants.

From the outside, it looks as though public pressure is being recognized in the matter of bi-partisan administration of the state's defense program. At any rate, public demand for some such arrangement may have something to do with action of the state officials responsible only to the electorate. And such public pressure is not unwelcome to the officials of the bi-partisan administrative board, composed of all the elective state officers, because it may remove some of the party pressure from their own necks.

Obituary

DALE EDWARD CRAIG

"Asleep in Jesus! Blessed sleep:" And thus Dale Edward Craig, bearing testimony of the beauties of a heavenly vision, fell into a sleep "from which none ever wakes to weep". Into a calm and undisturbed repose, Unbroken by the last of foes."

His death occurred at 7:15 o'clock, December 20, 1941 in the Tecumseh Hospital where he was taken for treatment for burns suffered earlier in the day.

Dale was the eldest of a family of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Craig and was born August 24, 1922 in Macon township. His untimely death leaves a place that will be hard to fill in the home where he is survived by his parents, one brother, Oliver, seven sisters, Janice, Geraldine, Isabelle, Virginia, Dorothy, Catherine, and Phyllis; several aunts, uncles and cousins. Two brothers have preceded him by death.

Dale received his education in the Wright school near his home and attended the Milan High School for two years. For the last several months he was employed on the Ford Farms, and more recently by the Tecumseh Products.

He was a loyal member of the Cone Methodist Church and Sunday School. His kindly, genial disposition made him a favorite among his associates and won him many friends where ever he went. Truly, his death is a severe shock to the entire community.

Funeral services were held December 23 at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton. Rev. E. O. Davis and Rev. Leo Burch officiated and Mrs. Belva Weichner sang "In the Garden" and "Abide With Me," accompanied by Mrs. Carmen Brown. Bearers were Gene, Earl, Jesse, John, Stephan and Ivan Olds. Burial was in the family lot in Ridgeway cemetery.

238 Car Stamps Sold This Week

POSTMASTER EXPECTS TOTAL TO REACH 1,200 BY FIRST OF MONTH

Two hundred and thirty-eight internal revenue stamps for motor cars had been sold at the Tecumseh postoffice, late yesterday afternoon and P. A. Bowen, acting postmaster, said that he expected the number would near the 1,200 mark before the end of the month. On February 1, all motor cars operating on the highways must bear one of the $2.09 stamps.

The new use tax automobile stamp went on sale at the local office last Monday morning, and the sale has been increasing daily, Mr. Bowen said. Yesterday's sale was the heaviest this week, but if the 1,200 total is to be reached by the end of the month about 100 stamps must be sold daily at the local office for the next eight days.

The revenue stamp, a little larger than a postage stamp, must be affixed to the automobile in some conspicuous place, either on the windshield, dash or window of the car.

Beginning the first of next month a new series of stamps will be put on sale, these to be sold for cars that were not operating this month, but will be operating next month. And each month thereafter, until July 1, a new series stamp will be issued by the government.

The $2.09 stamp purchased at this time is good until July 1, when a new fiscal year begins for the government. At that time another stamp must be purchased, costing $5 and will be good until July 1, 1943.

Motorists buying stamps need not present their car titles or certificates of ownership. The local office records the name of the buyer, who is given a post card, which must be filled in with license number, motor number, etc., and returned to the internal revenue office at Detroit.

Five Inspectors Needed At Products Plant Here

Uncle Sam needs five men with factory inspection experience to work in Tecumseh.

American citizens, 18 to 55 years old, engaged in non-defense work, and familiar with precision metal work, inspection techiques, and the use of gages and micand the use of gauges and micrometers, are urged to report at once to the Army Ordnance resident inspector at the Tecumseh Products Company, Tecumseh.

There are immediate openings for three grades of inspectors, salaries ranging from $1260 to $1620 per year.

The minor inspector position, $1260 per year, requires at least three months experience in testing mechanical materials such as metal parts and parts machined from castings, or six months experience in the machining of parts requiring the use gauges and micrometers. Courses in materials inspection and testing approved by the U. S. Office of Education may be substituted.

The under inspector position, $1440 per year, requires similar qualifications to that of the minor inspector, except that six months experience in testing or one year experience in machining work is asked.

Applicants for junior inspector, $1620 per year, must show at least one year experience in inspection or the completion of two years in a recognized College of engineering or metallurgy.

It is expected that these positions under the United States Civil Service will help provide jobs for men who are becoming unemployed as a result of industry's change over from civilian to war production.

Dairy Farmers Meet Tonight

SECOND SESSION IN SERIES OF TEN TO BE HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL HERE

The second in a series of ten public meetings, of interest to the dairy farmers, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the agricultural rooms of the Tecumseh high school, according to George Parsons, instructor. The first meeting was held last week, Thursday evening.

Tonight's session will include a discussion on the feeding of grain to the dairy herd, and Mr. Parsons is interested in having as large an attendance as possible. Admission is free and farmers are urged to participate in the conference.

At last week's meeting, the part the dairy farmer will play in the nation's defense system was discussed at considerable length. According to figures compiled for 1941, the milk production of the United States was 117 billion pounds. Today the government is asking that this amount be increased to 125 billion pounds. For the State of Michigan this will mean on increase of eight per cent, with an increase of only two per cent in the total number of cows milked. In other words, each dairy cow in Michigan must produce one extra quart of milk per day for the next 365 days.

It was pointed out that since the production increase cannot be brought about by milking more cows, each dairyman must adopt improved practices of caring for and feeding his herd. The present price structure is favorable, and grains are relatively cheap and the addition of small amounts of high protein concentrates to the grain mixture is profitable in terms of increased milk production.

It also was declared that the farmer has at his disposal one of the finest forms of roughage the industry has known, alfalfa hay. In a recent check on the amount of hay being fed to cows in Michigan it was found that a tendency existed not to feed enough of the good, green, leafy alfalfa and too much corn silage. There is much more milk in a ton of good quality alfalfa hay, it was declared, than in many tons of silage.

Farmers in doubt as to the amount of hay and silage to feed were told to feed all the hay a cow will eat and a limited amount of corn silage, not over 35 pounds per day to the low producing cow, and not over 10 pounds to the high producer.

Tonight's meeting, touching on grain feeding, will be of vital importance to farmers who are interested in increasing their milk production, it was said.

Will Collect Scrap Metal

DRIVE TO BE CONDUCTED BY SCHOOL CHILDREN HERE NEXT FRIDAY

The Tecumseh public schools will cooperate in a statewide program planned by the State Office for Emergency Management for the collection of scrap metal which is urgently needed for war industries, it was announced today. The campaign is scheduled for Friday of this week and all Tecumseh residents are, therefore urged to search their premises and to place all junk articles containing steel, iron, copper, zinc and lead in any appreciable amounts along the curb so that it can be conveniently picked up by the high school boys who will accompany the trucks. Calls for assistance in moving heavy articles from the home should be directed to the high school office before 9 o'clock Friday morning. The names of the boys who are cooperating in the program are: Seniors, Bob. Mohr, Bob Wilson, Kenneth Wills, Donald Carlson; Juniors, Russell Collins; Sophomores, Bob Furkey, Lee Coffey, Dean Ammer, Jack Brown; Freshman, Jim Osburn, Jack Slater, Malcolm Duncan, Arthur Cubberly, Dean Hamilton. Funds which are derived by the students through the sale of the scrap will be invested in United States Defense Stamps.

The need for scrap metal can best be realized by pointing to the fact that within recent weeks the largest steel mill in Michigan was forced to cut its production sharply because of the lack of scrap metal, which, in normal times, is used in equal proportions with pig iron in the production of steel. The importance of the campaign is also evident from the following exerpt of Governor Murray D. Van Wagner's letter addressed to the citizens of the state and dealing with the campaign. "By cooperating with our boys and girls in every way possible, you will help them relieve a serious shortage in industries building arms for democracy. Moreover, you will enable them to contribute to the defense of Amrica in which they, as citizens and leaders of the future, have the greatest stake of all."

Tecumseh's regular waste paper drive is being combined with the metal campaign, and persons having waste paper for the children should put it on their porches, in boxes, sacks or other containers.

Grade teachers this afternoon will hold conferences with parents, and on Friday, all teachers will meet with Superintendent Berkhof to plan for the second semester program, starting on Monday.

Joan Bergrdis, first and second grade teacher at the East Branch school, has resigned her position, because of illness in her family, and it was announced that Mrs. Hubert Van Camp will act as a substitute teacher until the vacancy can be filled.

MAKES SOLO FLIGHT

E. J. Burleson of Tecumseh, who has been an aviation student of Victor Tidswell instructor at the Tecumseh Airport, made his solo flight last Sunday afternoon.

War Problems Worry Solons

RUSHTON TO FIGHT GREAT LAKES WATER DIVERSION; LACK OF FINANCES WORRIES SCHOOL MEN

LANSING, Jan. 22—Michigan's harbor towns are again fighting threats to their shipping. Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton has notified Secretary of War Stimson that Michigan proposes to join the fight against a new "grab" of water from the Great Lakes by the Chicago Sanitary District.

Chicago wants to increase its permitted flow of 1500 cubic feet per second of lake water through the Chicago Drainage canal to 10,000 cubic feet for the duration of the war. Following a long fight which went to the U. S. Supreme Court, Chicago is permitted, by the high tribunal, to divert a maximum of 1500 cubic feet every second from Lake Michigan.

Michigan's attorney general declares the Chicago plea of impairment of health has no merit, and that remand for more water is merely an attempt to nullify the court's order. Rushton insists that the diversion of more water will greatly impair Great Lakes navigation at a critical time when waterborne commerce is so essential for the movement of defense material. He charges the Chicago Sanitary district would save $1,500,000 a year for itself, in wages by such an increase.

Shipping interests and commercial fishermen have consistently claimed that diversion of lake water, reduces water levels in harbors and on shoals to the danger of lives and property. Rushton says he considers it his duty to vigorously oppose any attempt to take more water from the lakes.

Plates for Tanks

Michigan schoolmen are a bit worried about what is going to happen to the schools under wartime conditions. Realizing that state government cannot hope to cope with the crisis in school financing and meeting the needs of boards of education, educators are looking to the feredal government for help.

Territory adjacent to industrial areas, where defense plants are operating are finding the need for new school housing most serious. If a proposed Michigan school project is approved by the federal authorities a total of $41,247,104 building expansion and new construction.

Rural education problems are so increased by the threatened threatened shortage that Superintendent of Public Instruction Elliott has asked Michigan educators to consider the task of getting 22,000 rural students to school.

Farming for Freedom

Michigan farmers should have a better idea of where they appear in the defense picture when they go back home from East Lansing after Farmers Week, February 2 to 6, at Michigan State College. Agricultural Dean E. L. Anthony has announced that the theme for the 27th Annual Farmers' Week will be "Farming for Freedom."

AS BAD AS WAR—

More than 4,000 Americans were killed in automobile accidents in November and while final figures for 1941 are not yet available, it is probable that an all-time record has been established for traffic deaths.

During the first eleven months of 1941, 35,690 persons were killed in traffic accidents. This is a terrific price to pay for speeding, liquor drinking, love-making and whatever else causes the deaths of so many Americans.

The entire nation was shocked by the death of less than 3,000 persons when the Japanese treacherously attacked Pearl Harbor and yet every month, more than 3,000 people, including women and children, are horribly injured, often suffering agonies, until death mercifully releases them.

It is time for Americans, which means the readers of this message, to determine to do something to stop traffic deaths. Every individual who drives an automobile can make it a point of honor to observe traffic regulations and a matter of spiritual growth to practice courtesy on the highways.

CUCUMBERS 80 CENTS EACH

It will surprise Americans to hear that cucumbers sell for eighty cents a piece in the markets of London, that grapes bring from $3 to $4 a pound and that a bunch of asparagus costs anywhere from $3.40 to $4.40.

Of course, these are wartime prices but even in times of peace the British diet does not include many foods that Americans take for granted. This is particularly true of fruit, milk and some vegetables.

Now that the United States is helping to feed the British people, it may be possible to devise some plan to create a permanent market in the British Isles for some of our farm products. This would be beneficial both to the British and the American people.

—o—

EAT THE RIGHT FOODS

This war, like the last one, brought to the attention of the American people the fact that we are undernourished. Not eating the right kind of food has been responsible for a large per cent of the selectees who have been disqualified from military service.

Realizing the importance of keeping Americans strong, the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services has begun a nutrition campaign. The first poster issued in this campaign listed seven foods that should be eaten every day to enable the average man, woman and child to keep in good health:

(1) "Milk—at least a pint for everyone, more for children—or cheese, or evaporated or dried milk."

(2) "Oranges, tomatoes, grapefruit or raw cabbage—at least one of these."

(3) "Vegetables — green, leafy and yellow—one big helping—some raw, some cooked."

(4) "Potatoes and Apples—and other vegetables and fruit."

(5) "Lean Meat, Poultry or Fish — or sometimes dried beans or peas."

(6) "Eggs—at least 3 or 4 a week, cooked any way you choose or in 'made' dishes."

(7) "Bread and cereal—whole grain products or enriched bread and flour."

Every housewife in Lenawee County should study the above list, which is based in the research findings of the government, industry, and educational institutions, in order that she may be able to serve meals with the needed vitamins. The health of our nation depends upon the housewives of our nation.

—o—

The habit of loafing is not hard to acquire; in fact, many people are born with it.

With tires gradually wearing out, maybe we won't have as many traffic fatalities in 1942.

When you talk to an individual who wants full agreement with his, or her, views, you are wasting your time.

Our nomination for the surprise performance of the year 1941 goes to the Russian Army and we suspect that, for once, Herr Hitler is in agreement with us.

The automobile revolutionized social and economic activity; if the war lasts, the absence of automobiles may lead to another revolution. It may not be altogether bad.

With business, labor and agriculture well-organized, and exerting tremendous involuence and pressure upon office-holders, it might be a good idea for somebody to organize the white-collar crowd.

Remodeling or Repairing is a part of the nation's defense program.

Yes, it's mighty important in times like these that you see to it that that property you own is kept in repair.

Especially is this true of the farmer. The man on the farm, you know, has been called upon to do a big job—it is up to him to feed not only this nation, but a large part of the nations allied with us to defeat Hitler and his partners.

We cannot, therefore, urge too strongly that you "keep your house in order." Don't put off until summer or fall the repairs needed now to your house; don't wait until spring to repair barns and sheds that will be further damaged by rain, snow and freezing.

We will be glad to cooperate with anyone who is considering a defense repair program. Call upon us for free estimates of cost.

The Abundant Life

CHRIST JESUS declared (John 10:10), "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." What an inspiring promise is contained in this statement! But men, while quick to see the promise which engenders within the heart a hope of fulfillment, often fail to prove practical this promise of the Master.

If we have failed individually to prove the truth of this promise, we may be helped by considering how far we have applied the rules which Jesus has given for experiencing abundant life. The difficulty may have come from reading into his words a material concept of abundance for oneself, as a surplus of material holdings. But the latter concept certainly conflicts with Jesus' precept (Luke 12:15), "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." Another reason for the failure of mankind to perceive the abundance of good in our present experience may be the mistaken supposition that the Master's promise was limited to his immediate followers. But those today who wish to prove true his promises, may, as Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, says on page 92 of "Retrospection and Introspection," "unloose the latchets of his Christliness, inherit his legacy of love, and reach the fruition of his promise: 'If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.'"

Thus it may be perceived that abundant life is not to be found in material goods, chattels, or possessions, nor was it confined to Jesus' contemporaries. Then it may be asked, "If the abundant life does not consist of physical comforts and material possessions, just what is the life which Jesus promised was to be had 'more abundantly'?" The answer to this question may be found by contemplating Jesus' own declaration. Do not his words imply that the manifestation or unfoldment of the Christ, Truth, in individual consciousness reveals God as the only Life, and that those who would be his followers must gain an understanding of Life as God, as a prerequisite to having or manifesting life "more abundantly"?

This brings up another point for consideration if we would prove the promise of Jesus, namely, adherence to the rules which he gave for our guidance. In his Sermon on the Mount the Master said (Matthew 6:31, 33): "Take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? . . . But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." And the Master proved what he said; for he demonstrated the abundance of needful supply in feeding multitudes on more than one occasion, in arranging for the payment of taxes, and in providing for the last supper with his disciples and the breakfast on the shore of the Sea of Galilee.

It is well for us to ask ourselves, "Are we taking thought — that is, worrying or being doubtful — as to where or how or when our human need will be met?" It is well, too, to ask ourselves, "What are we seeking?" Do we desire to satisfy our selfish wants rather than our actual needs? Are we coveting personal adornment, material success? Do we desire in our employment or our environment? Or are we striving to understand God better, to recognize and exemplify the attributes of His divine nature? Are we earnestly seeking to express good qualities in daily experience? Are we really trying to be more loving and kind, more tolerant and patient, more willing, helpful, and obedient, in our daily contact with others? To express the qualities of the divine nature is to have life "more abundantly," for these demonstrate that of which spiritual existence is comprised. . . . — The Christian Science Monitor.

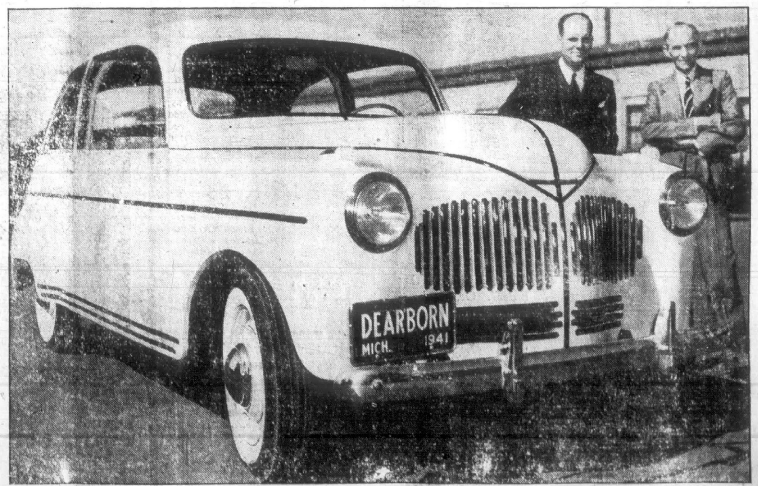
Henry Ford Builds Plastic Car Body from Farm Crops



This is a picture of the world's first complete plastic automobile body. Made largely from ordinary farm crops, it was introduced recently at Dearborn, Mich., by Henry Ford, shown (right) with R. A. Boyer, Ford Motor Company research chemist. The plastic body marks a big stride in Mr. Ford's intensive effort to bring agriculture and industry into partnership. Ford officials point out, however, that the plastic body still is an experimental stage and that substituting it for the conventional steel body on a production scale may take several years.

Mr. Farmer:
Start the New Year RIGHT!

Avoid
in 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Herald has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agrcultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes each week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

"We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 25. The Golden Text (Psalm 57:3) is: "God shall send forth his mercy and his truth."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 14:5,6): "Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 26): "The Christ was the Spirit which Jesus implied in his own statements: 'I am the way, the truth, and the life;' 'I and my Father are one.' This Christ, or Godliness, or the man Jesus, was his divine nature, the godliness which animated him."

Uncle Sam Farmers' Best Customer; 30 Marketing Centers Established

Uncle Sam, the American farmer's best individual customer, spends $750,000 a day every day in the year on foodstuffs for his army.

To afford the best possible facilities in handling these immense sales, it is announced that 30 regional marketing centers are being established throughout the country where producers may sell direct or through community or farm cooperatives. In this manner the Quartermaster Corps bought 750 tons of turkey together with all the trimmings for the soldiers' Thanksgiving dinner, and just now Uncle Sam is stocking up for the Christmas holidays and all the hearty meals that will come in between.

Through the marketing centers it is declared that Uncle Sam and the millions of American farmers will get better acquainted. Uncle Sam will get fresh produce of the highest quality and the farmers will get higher prices. An example of the volume of goods taken by the army is reported in recent requisitions for rations during the autumn maneuvers in the Carolinas where the purchases in Columbia and Wellington marketing centers included: 2,600,000 dozen of eggs, 1,600,000 pounds of butter, 420,000 pounds of cheese, 315,000 pounds of turkey and 704,000 pounds of chicken.

At the same time a program has been announced for the purchase of a large part of the seasonal output of local canneries, smaller industries situated in the various fruit and vegetable growing regions. These district purchases will augment the recent buying of 126,000,000 cans of vegetables through the Chicago Quartermaster Depot.

Of the 50,000 horses and mules doing their bit in the army the great majority of these equine recruits were brought from the farms within the last few months, the purchases amounting to $239,372. The spring program calls for a still greater number of riding horses and draught animals.

From all sections of the country come reports that Uncle Sam's marketbasket is a symbol of prosperity on the farm.

War Problems

Speakers who will tell farmers how they can help in the fight against the destruction of the American idea of self-government, will include M. Clifford Townsend, director of agricultural relations, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Col. Harold Furlong, director of the State Council of Defense. Edgar A. Guest, Michigan poet, will be an inspirational speaker on one of the main programs.

Dean Anthony says the programs this year will stress poultry, dairy and meat products and more efficient family nutrition.

New Constitution?

An important question of state government, which must be answered by the voters next November, has been over-shadowed by the war crisis and other issues of more or less political complexion.

That is the proposal to revise Michigan's constitution.

A similar proposal was submitted in 1926 and turned down by the voters 285,000 to 119,000. The need for revision has been argued sporadically by various interests in certain sections of the state, but the question has not come to the voters since its turndown 16 years ago.

Justice George E. Bushnell of the state supreme court is chairman of a study commission of 32 members appointed by Gov. Van Wagoner. Twelve sub-committees will be assigned to study specific sections of the present 33-year old constitution.

If the revision proposal is approved by the voters in November, a constitutional convention commission must be elected at the next spring election to do the revision job. The Governor's study group may recommend complete or partial revision, or some specific changes, or leave it to the voters to decide whether any change at all is needed.

The present constitution was adopted by the voters in November 1908.

Changed But Twice

It is interesting to note that the people of Michigan have changed their constitution but twice in 107 years. The original 1835 constitution lasted 15 years, until 1850.

The state then operated 59 years, until 1909, under the basic law adopted ten years before the Civil War. The constitution adopted in 1909 is still operative after 32 years of service. It took the 96 delegates to the last constitutional convention from October 1907 until March 1908 to frame the new constitution. It was approved by the voters in November 1908 by a vote of 244,705 to 130,783.

Constitutional conventions were held by the legislature in 1867 and again in 1873, but revisions recommended in both cases were rejected by the voters. The 1867 attempted change lost, 71,733 to 110,582. The second attempt in 1873 was rejected 39,285 to 124,034.

Wariness, in past years, on the part of Michigan citizens is indicated in the unsuccessful attempts to tamper with the state constitution. Whether that attitude still prevails remains to be demonstrated. Advocates for the new constitution have two hurdles to leap —the referendum relative to calling a constitutional convention in November, and the final approval of revisions, if made, by that convention.

War Jitters

Some folks, afflicted with war jitters, are still suffering from the shock of Japanese treachery at Pearl Harbor. They expect everything devilish from the little yellow men, from hideous poisoning to the destruction of whole families at the home hearths.

Some weeks ago certain sections of the country were warned against powdered glass in Japanese canned goods, mostly fish foods.

In Detroit recently, a woman arrived excitedly at police headquarters with a Japanese "mystery rug," woven in bright colors and picturing the Japanese sacred mountain. She told police that when she walked on it she could see flames and clouds of smoke. Lieut. Frank Richards tried tromping on it and told his detectives to take it away. He said he could see small bright spots like flames but no smoke and that he wanted no part of the thing.

Police detectives decided to have the thing analyzed to find out if the material had been saturated with an inflamable element, intended to set fire to American homes.

The escape for Americans, of course, is to refuse to become jittery by having nothing to do with Japanese canned foods or materials.

ROTARY ANNS GUESTS AN BANQUET, TUESDAY

"What Would Emily Say," was the subject of a humorous talk by E. A. McPaul of Detroit, radio commentator and after-dinner speaker, when he addressed Tecumseh Rotarians and their wives at the club's annual "Rotary-Ann" banquet, Tuesday evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. McPaul's remarks were, for the most part, entirely humorous, and he kept his 80 listeners in a laughing mood for more than an hour.

W. J. Bruce, president of the club, presided, and the program was in charge of Dr. T. Rentschler. Group singing was led by W. L. Berkhof, with Mrs. C. A. Staulter at the piano. The Rev. E. M. McGehee asked the invocation.

Jon Young is Speaker At Rotary Meeting Here

Jon Young, history instructor at Tecumseh high school and who recently completed a 13-week training period in the United States Army, was the guest speaker at the regular noon-day luncheon meeting of the Rotary club, Tuesday in the parish house of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. Mr. Young discussed the life of a soldier in the army as he found it, praised the army command for the excellent job it is doing in training the recruits, and declared that the morale of the American soldier is extremely high.

At a meeting of the board of directors after the program, the club approved the payment of membership in the Tecumseh Welfare Association, and voted $10 for materials for the Red Cross sewing group, and $5 for the purchase of bandages for the local Red Cross first aid classes. The money for the Red Cross was made available as the result of a profit realized by the club recently from the showing of the "Circle of Fire" pictures at the Presbyterian church.

Auto Service Stations Announce New Schedule

Effective on Sunday, February 1, fifteen of Tecumseh's automobile service stations announced a new schedule of hours as follows: On week days except Saturdays, the hours will be from 7 a. m., to 7 p. m. On Saturdays the hours will be from 7 a. m., to 10:30 p. m., and on Sundays, from 7 a. m., to 7 p. m.

The action, according to an advertisement in another page of this newspaper, has been brought about as the result of the national emergency, and the owners desire to cooperate in the National Defense Program. The rationing of tires, it was pointed out, has caused a slump in the number of cars operated in the evening, as has increased employment in defense plants.

The station operators urged the public to cooperate in the new program, by buying gasoline and other car needs during the hours before 7 o'clock in the evening.

Women Die in Car Mishap

MRS. JENNIE HOAG SCOTT, 26, FORMERLY OF TECUMSEH, DIES IN YPSILANTI

Mrs. Jennie Scott, aged 26 years, died Friday night at Beyer hospital, Ypsilanti, the result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident west of Ypsilanti Wednesday night. The accident occurred when the car in which she was riding collided with another driven by George Benjamin of Hillsdale, after both had skidded on the icy pavement. Mrs. Scott suffered a broken pelvis, a broken leg and internal injuries. Mrs. Ruth Benjamin was killed instantly and six others, including Mrs. Scott, were injured and taken to Beyer hospital.

Mrs. Scott was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hoag of Tecumseh. She had been working recently in Adrian and last Wednesday had been in Detroit looking for new employment.

She leaves her husband George A. Scott of Wayne, her parents, five sisters, Mrs. Leonard Kempf of Tipton, Mrs. Harold Brown of Tecumseh, Mrs. Lowell Monagin of Onsted, Mrs. Robert Wood of Adrian and Mrs. Millard Silveus of Jackson, and one brother Clifford Hoag of Hillsdals.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Belding Funeral Home with Rev. Edward Escolme officiating. Bearers were B. W. Mominee, J. F. Elliott, Ed. Swifft and Cecil Alderdyce and burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Among those from away who attended the funeral were George A. Scott of Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hamblin and son Paul of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Silveus and daughter Barbara and son Richard of Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Monagin and son Douglas and Mrs. Millard Monagin of Onsted, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kempf of Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hoag of Hillsdale, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood and sons Dennis and David of Adrian.

Car Stamp Sales Here Likely to Be Heavy

Unless Postmaster P. A. Bowen has miscalculated, the Tecumseh postoffice will do a land office business in the sale of internal revenue stamps for motor cars between now and Saturday, the last day that cars may operate legally without the $2.09 sticker attached to the car. Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Bowen said, his office had sold less than 700 of the stamps. He estimated that approximately 1,200 operators need stamps in this community.

The new revenue stamp went on sale here January 18, and the law requires that all cars operating this month bear the January stamp. Next month a new series of stamps will go on sale, but these are intended only for cars that were not operated in January.

It was pointed out that titles and registration cards are not necessary when motorists purchases the stamp. The selling office records the sale, and gives the buyer a card, which must be filled in and returned to the department of internal revenue, showing the make of car, model and license number.

FEBRUARY COMMITTEE

The Tecumseh Hospital Auxiliary swing committee for February has been announced as follows with Mrs. H. H. Hanna, general chairman: Mrs. H. H. Loveland, chairman; Mrs. Victor Humble, Mrs. Charles O'Neil, Miss Ethelyn Garlinghouse, Mrs. Don Nixon and Mrs. John Larsen. Other committees will be announced later.

MOTHERS TO MEET

The seventh and eighth grade Mothers Club will meet Wednesday afternoon, February 4, at 3 o'clock, at the high school building. Mrs. Neil Pearson is president of the group.

Following the meeting the eighth grade Mothers will serve tea.

FRIENDS OF ISRAEL

The Friends of Israel will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Perry Hayden on West Logan street.

Tecumseh Joins March of Dimes

TWENTY-FOUR "WISHING WELLS" PLACED IN STORES AND FACTORIES HERE

Tecumseh this week officially joined the nation in its "March of Dimes" program, under the leadership of E. C. Heilman, and while this village will not sponsor a ball on President Roosevelt's birthday, it was indicated that it would do its share toward fighting infantile paralysis by contributing liberally of its funds in some twenty-four "wishing wells," that have been placed in conspicuous places in stores and factories.

"I don't believe there are many people in Tecumseh who cannot afford to put a dime or two in one of the 'wishing wells'," Mr. Heilman said. "The war on infantile paralysis is a very worthy one, and one that can well afford to receive our support.

"Fifty per cent of all the money we collect locally in this campaign remains in Lenawee county, and the other half is used nationally, in an effort to stamp out this dread disease. We never know when infantile is going to strike home—right here in Tecumseh—and if we can prevent such an occurrance, by giving liberally, we will be well repaid."

Mr. Heilman said that it had been agreed that rather than go to the expense of a birthday ball, all of the money that would have been spent on an orchestra and decorations would go directly into the "wishing wells". The village's busy defense program, requiring that many of the men work seven days a week, prompted this action.

"We will pick up the wells next Monday morning, and I hope that they will be filled," Mr. Heilman said. "We will make a public report of the amount of money contributed in Tecumseh, that everyone may know how successful the campaign was."

Mr. Heilman pointed out that in last year's campaign, besides returning 50 per cent of the money collected to the counties, the Warm Springs Foundation also made a grant of about $40,000 to the University of Michigan, to aid the infantile fight in the state's hospitals.

The Strand theatre is cooperating in the "March of Dimes" campaign here by taking collections each day. Reports from the theatre said that patrons are contributing liberally.

The sale yesterday by grades was as follows: kindergarten through the sixth, $66. 7th., $14.50; 8th., $22.75; 10th., $133.85; 11th., $68; 12th., $9.35.

HONOR BRIDE TO BE

Miss Iota Skinner, whose marriage to Robert L. Bufford of Lincoln Park will be an event of February 1, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given Thursday evening by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Eugene Skinner and her sister, Mrs. Melvin Murphy, in the Skinner home. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served to 30 guests, among them were Mrs. Dwight Horn of Adrian, Mrs. Frank Carver of Milan and Mrs. Lester Elijah of Lenawee Junction.

Local Woman Has Her Sugar Rationing Card

With a shortage of sugar in almost every store in Lenawee county, and with the government considering a rationing system, probably early in February, many local residents are recalling the days of World War No. 1, when sugar cards were used, and persons were allowed two pounds of sugar per month.

Mrs. Willard Hunt of Tecumseh, still has her sugar card from the first World War. At that time she had seven in the family, and was allowed to buy 14 pounds of sugar a month. The card was issued on October 4, 1918, and was signed by Wilmetta Andrix, secretary to the Lenawee County Food Administrator, who, as many will recall, was the late Theodore M. Joslin, Adrian attorney.

Under proposed rationing in the present war, it is likely that sugar sales will be reduced to a pound or three quarters of a pound per person per week, a little more than was allowed 23 years ago.

Editors and publishers of Michigan newspapers, attending the 67th annual convention of the Michigan Press association at Michigan State college last Friday and Saturday, were warned by newspaper leaders that one-eighth of all newspapers quit publication during World War I and that advertising and subscription rates may have to be adjusted in 1942 to meet higher production costs during World War II.

One-third of Michigan daily newspapers increased advertising rates in 1941, while nearly that number have raised subscription rates. The trend has been marked since December.

Hall, Fifth division public relations officer, said that the Michigan media's "code of volunteer censorship" was "all that could be asked" by military authorities.

FARMER'S FACTS ON INCOME TAX

Income You Must Report

Most farmers report their income on the basis of receipts and disbursements for few care to keep the complicated records required for the use of the accrual or inventory basis. The farmer reporting on the basis of receipts and expenditures must include in his gross income the three following kinds of income:

1. Amount of cash or the value of merchandise or other property received during the year from the sales of livestock or produce raised during the year or prior years.

2. Profits from the sale of any livestock or other items which were purchased and later resold.

3. Gross income from all other sources.

Questions—

1. I worked in a saw-mill for five weeks last winter. Must I include the wages I received in reporting our farm income?

Ans.— Yes. Form 1040F which every farmer must attach to his income tax return contains a separate heading in the column for 'Other Farm Income" where "Work Off Farm" is to be listed.

2. What does the law include under the terms "farm and farmer?"

Ans.— The term farm embraces the farm in the ordinarily accepted sense, and includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, and truck farms, plantations, ranches, and all land used for farming operations. All individuals, partnerships or corporations that cultivate, operate, or manage farms for gain or profit, either as owners or tenants, are designated as farmers.

A person cultivating or operating a farm for recreation or pleasure, the result of which is a continual loss from year to year, is not regarded as a farmer.

3. What is not taxable?

Ans.— Money received as beneficiary from a life insurance policy, health and accident policy, or under workmen's compensation laws; money or property received as a gift, under will or by inheritance; old age benefits paid under the Social Security Act; unemployment insurance benefits; government pensions to soldiers and sailors' widows; money received as damages for personal injuries or loss of life resulting from negligence or wrongful act of another; alimony payments; money received under a separation agreement between husband and wife.

4. Must I report as income the value of produce which our family has consumed during the year?

Ans.—No, but neither can you claim as deductions the expenses incurred in raising this produce.

5. Twenty acres of my corn were ruined by hail last summer. I was insured against this loss and received payment from the insurance company. Must that money be reported as income?

Ans.— It is regarded as replacing the income which you would have received from your crop.

(If a question concerning your income tax is puzzling you, send it to The Tecumseh Herald. It will be forwarded to the experts of the Agricultural Records Company for a reply.)

Heavy Loss in Apartment Fire

MANGUS HOUSE ON EAST KILBUCK DESTROYED BY FLAMES LAST EVENING

Fire, which is believed to have started from defective wiring in a clothes closet, did several thousands of dollars damage to the four-family apartment house at 116 E. Kilbuck street, about 8:30 last evening. The property is owned by Mrs. Myra Mangus.

Mrs. Mangus and the W. Wotring family occupied apartments on the first floor, and on the second floor, the apartments were occupied by the George Heemans and the Rinehart Radants. Mrs. Mangus and the Radants were away from home when the Wotrings smelled smoke and discovered the blaze in a clothes closet. The flames spread rapidly through the partitions, and fireman fought the fire for about five hours, it was believed that the blaze was well under control at about, 10:30, but at 11 o'clock the department was called back to extinguish a fire that had broken out in another part of the dwelling.

Very little furniture was saved and removed from the building, and the loss to the building—which was gutted—was almost complete. An official estimate of the loss has not been made, but it was said that it will be several thousands of dollars.

Sugar Boys Bow To THS Indians

TECUMSEH HIGH WINS NINTH STRAIGHT CAGE BATTLE ON FRIDAY, HERE

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh High School cage team took another long step towards the county championship on last Friday night by defeating the Blissfield Sugar Boys 42 to 31, on the local court. The game was closer than the score indicates, however. At one time Tecumseh was trailing by eight points and all through the game Blissfield threatened to take the contest.

Last Friday's victory gives Tecumsh a perfect record of nine games won and none lost. Seven of these games have been league games. This leaves Tecumseh with five games to play. They will meet Manchester, Addison, Hudson, Morenci and Clinton, respectively. These are all teams the Tecumseh has beaten, and the Indians should have little difficulty in giving a repeat performance, and a perfect record for the championship.

Don Carlson wound up his basketball career with a bang by turning in 15 points in the Blissfield contest, which was the highest score of the game.

HOW DO YOU READ?—

Raymond Clapper, one of the nation's most level-headed columnists, wrote this statement recently: "I am less concerned about the freedom of the press than I am about the freedom of the reader. You won't keep a free press unless the reader also is tolerant, open-minded, interested in hearing both sides."

How do you read? How do you listen? Are you carried away by positive statements without stopping to consider they might have been made for that very purpose?

Or, are you a free reader? Can you study both sides calmly and collectedly, weighing the source of each statement, judging by the past performance and arriving at your own decision after careful thought and due consideration of all the facts in the case? If you can do that, you are a free reader.

Today there is a definite attempt being made to create panic among our people by false rumors authoritatively stated, by vitrolic charges against those in authority, by untrue accusations against various minority groups, by a constant harping criticism of anything and everything, by mushroom tales of disaster and ultimate chaos.

The wisest men we ever knew used to say, whenever anyone began to tell him anything—"State the facts. Don't characterize." Apply that to propaganda or to articles, or speeches. Shear them of characterizations and of all statements prefaced by the catch phrases "it is said"; "everyone knows"; "they say"; etc., and see what you have left. You'll be surprised how little it is in almost every case.

Antlyze what you have heard, and study with an open, poised mind, ready to admit a point but not ready to compromise with a demagogic attempt to stir you to impatience or intolerance.

A free press calls for and deserves free readers, men and women who so value the Bill of Rights which insures them this boon of knowledge, that they treat this right with reverence, keeping themselves ready to learn all the truth, and to form their own opinions according to their individual wills, not at the orders of any dictators. In this time of war, the only way we can keep a free press is to deserve it by being free readers.

THE ROAD TO RUIN—

The danger of inflation that threatened us before the war is becoming more acute. If there was little time for us to take effective action to control it then, there is even less time now. The national Congress cannot afford to toy too long before it enacts some form of legislation with teeth, and the administration, once it receives the law, should choose wisely its administrator.

Inflatian creeps up on a nation silently. But it can be as destructive as bombing planes, and once it has arrived no one is able to escape it.

What does inflation mean to the average person? It means that the value of the pay check may be cut in half—that the price of everything he has to buy may be doubled. A pound of meat may cost more than he now pays for a pair of shoes. A little later a pair of shoes may cost more than he now pays for a suit of clothes. Still later a suit of clothes may cost more than he has been been accustomed to paying for a new car.

If we are to protect ourselves from this danger, industry must not misuse the emergency to raise prices; labor must not misuse it to demand an increase in basic wage rates; government must not misuse it to boost prices. We all use the same money, and we all have to cooperate to make sure that money retains its value.

BATTLE OF THE FACTORIES—

No amount of slave labor can equal the voluntary cooperation of free men. That's a fact for all of us to hang on to throughout the coming months. And it is a fact, make no mistake about it. We Americans have adrealy proved that.

Even though we got a late start in the armament race, we're rapidly catching up. We have the materials to do the job better than the aggressors can. We're the masters of mass production, and they have been our pupils. We out-produced them then, building up a standard of living so high that it became the envy of the world.

Now that the cards are on the table we can out-produce them again. It won't be an easy job, perhaps, but it can be done. And it's being done.

Many of our factories switched to war production months ago. They're already hitting their stride. And more factories will jon them, for this is a battle of the factories.

Undoubtedly we'll have black days of discouragement, but the final battle is the one that counts in warfare, and we shall win it, for the spirit of freedom is still the strongest power on earth, just as it always has been.

This is a time of year when its a good idea to be sure how thick the ice is.

There are some Americans who don't want to read or listen to anything with which they do not agree.

Most adults overlook the value of play and amusement in life. Some, we must admit, over-emphasize it.

After much investigation, it is announced that many students go to college without cause; and, we might add, without effect.

An Important Notice

To Automobile Owners

Effective on Sunday, February 1, 1942, the automobile service stations listed below, will observe the following schedule of hours:

Week Days--Monday through Friday--7 a.m., to 7 p.m.
Saturdays--7 a.m., to 10:30 p.m.
Sundays--7 a.m., to 7 p.m.

It is necessary for us to take this action in the face of existing emergencies, including increased overhead and labor shortages, and OUR DESIRE TO COOPERATE IN THE NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM. We believe, with a little planning, that this new program will not inconvenience motorists, and the savings we effect will make it possible for us to give the same high quality of service we now render, during the hours that we are open.

Motorists may well understand the necessity for this action when they consider that tire rationing and increased employment of persons in defense plants, has caused the sale of gasoline and oils in this area to decrease approximately 75 per cent during the evening hours after 7 o'clock.

Please cooperate with us in this emergency—we assure you of our every effort to cooperate with you.

A. & P. EMPLOYEES TO BUY U. S. BONDS

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company has completed arrangements for facilitating the voluntary purchase of defense bonds by employes through pay check deductions, John A. Hartford, president of the company, announced today. The company has approximately 65,000 full time employes in the United States.

Under the plan employes may authorize deductions from their pay checks and the bonds will be issued through Federal Reserve banks and post-offices. The company will deduct the money each week and purchase the bonds. The bonds will then be mailed to the employe-purchasers.

The plan encourages the purchase of bonds by simplifying the procedure whereby employes may make a systematic contribution to the nation's war effort and at the same time establish a reserve fund for the future.

TIRE RATIONING SEEN BLESSING IN DISGUISE

If you are a prospective mother, the Michigan Department of Health wants you to recognize a blessing in disguise— tire rationing.

"Tire rationing will mean more walking this year, and that will be good for women who are going to have babies," says Dr. Alexander MacKenzie Campbell, the state department's consultant in maternal health.

From years of experience as an obstetrical specialist, Dr. Campbell knows that often physicians have had only a reluctant response when they have prescribed walking for expectant mothers. Now with tire rationing, he says these women can make a virtue out of necessity by walking to the grocery store, to the theatre and to church.

Dr. Campbell does not expect rationing to extend to nursing nipples, but he wouldn't mind if it did. He says that bottle nursing then could be restricted to those babies needing it, and all other babies would have mother's milk.

BIRTH RECORDS IMPORTANT

Final figures for 1941 showed requests for birth records from the Michigan Department of Health reached an all-time high in 1941 as a result of defense industry requirements that employes prove their citizenship to get jobs or hold them.

"We looked thru our 10,00,000 vital records for 105,000 birth certificates last year," sair Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "In 1940, which was also a record breaker, the total was 90,000.

The vaults in the State Health Department contain records of births, deaths and marriages which go back to 1867. Divorce records have been kept by the department since 1897. Certified copies of these records may be obtained for a statutory fee of one dollar.

Mr. Farmer:
Start the New Year RIGHT!

Avoid Income Tax Trouble in 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Herald has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agrcultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes each week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

"We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Love" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 1.

The Golden Text (I John 4:16): "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and in Him."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Jeremiah 31:3): "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 494): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

State Clocks To Move Ahead

ONLY AN ACT OF LEGISLATURE WILL PREVENT TIME SEP-UP ON FEBRUARY 9

LANSING, Jan. 29. —Michigan's working population will see the sunrise most of the year, in the opinion of R. Glen Dunn, deputy attorney general.

Despite the fact that this state is officially on Eastern Standard time, it is very probable that Michigan clocks will be set one hour ahead, 2 a. m., Monday, Feb. 9, when daylight Savings time, established by an act of congress, becomes effective.

Only by an act of the state legislature can Michigan time remain as it is. At the present time there is no indication that the legislature will take such action.

The new Daylight Savings act, intended to save electricity and step up war materials production, requires that clocks all over the country be set ahead one hour. President Roosevelt has signed the bill and the law becomes effective 20 days after the signing.

In Odd Position

With most of the state normally in the Central Standard time zone —west of the 75th meridian—an act of the legislature has made Eastern Standard time the legal time in the entire state. The change came as a result of several years' experience with Summer Daylight Savings time, following World War I. Although some agricultural districts objected to tampering with the clocks, the folks in most cities liked the extra hour of daylight in the evening and the legislature listened to the demand for adoption of "fast" time. Detroit and a small portion of the Thumb section fell within the Eastern zone, but all the rest of the state was officially on Central time, and all legal matters of the state were so based.

It required a special act of the legislature to put the clocks legally ahead on the "fast" time. Since then only a small section of the Upper Peninsula, adjacent to the Wisconsin border, have followed a "slow" time schedule. Even there the Eastern Standard time was, of course, the legal time.

And now under Congressional order the clocks must be set one hour ahead. The state by an act of the legislature can go back to the normal Central time, or it can push its clocks ahead an hour. If the latter course is adopted Michigan will be two hours ahead of its old time. If the legislature votes to again make Central time official, the presidential order will leave us just where we are now.

Dark Mornings

During a couple of months in early summer Michigan folks go to work after sun-up under the present schedule. Most of the year they light up for breakfast, go to their offices, shops and stores in the dark before the dawn and start their day's routine of labor under artificial light.

Farmers are, naturally, the chief conscientious objectors to "fast" time. They are early risers normally and start their work at break of day while the dew is still heavy. They usually don't care for another hour of night injected into their working day. The extra hour of daylight in the evening only tends to lengthen their day's work.

Office workers and store employes find the long evenings fine for relaxation, recreation, fishing, picnics and golfing after their day's work is over. But mothers find it hard to feed their young and put them to bed by daylight.

War Measures Adopted

Michigan's Republican legislature made good its agreement to cooperate closely with Democratic Governor Van Wagoner in the matter of war legislature. The Governor's 10 war bills, dumped into the hopper at the opening of the special session, were speeded through both houses, with a minimum of delay. Practically everything Gov. Van Wagoner asked received unanimous approval.

At the end of the second day of the session, but one important bill was still in committee. That was the $50,000,000 war emergency appropriation bill held in the Republican dominated ways and means committee by chairman John Lesko to determine the breakdown of items with earmarking as a possibility.

It had been previously decided that the big war-chest was not to go through as a blank check for governor, but will be administered by the evenly divided state administrative board.

A war measure, which in its original form would have established sweeping censorship over news publication by the State Council of Defense and given the Governor unusual removal powers, was quickly amended and modified to remove objectionable features. Once the legislative committee, the Defense Council and administration representatives got together, there was no trouble reaching an understanding. The storm subsided before it got a fair start and the measure was approved by the legislature.

Law Protects Women

Women may work but their hours must still conform to the state law. John W. Gibson, Department of Labor and Industry chairman, has notified employers that the state laws cannot be set aside because of the exigencies of war time production. The 1908 statute, limiting working hours of women to an average nine-hour day and a 54 hour week, still stands.

"Even if it were desirable," Gibson said in a released statement, "I have no authority to abrogate a state statute by administrative order."

He had been asked concerning the matter by employers having government contracts.

Upsets Tradition

The Michigan state senate upset a tradition, more than a century old, when it voted in open session to confirm 19 appointments submitted by Gov. Van Wagoner. To abolish the executive session in which approval of appointments have heretofore always been considered, the senate voted 19 to 9, to reverse its rules. The new rules provide that secret sessions may be held only when two-thirds of the body so vote. Transactions of such sessions will be printed in a secret journal not to be published until the close of the senate. Heretofore the senate went into executive session on a majority vote.

Republican Senator Joseph A. Baldwin of Albion was champion of tradition-smashing change.

Germans, Italians, Japs Required To Register

Attorney General Francis Biddle announced today new regulations affecting the conduct of German, Italian and Japanese nationals throughout continental United States.

The new regulations, issued under authority of the Presidential proclamation of January 14, 1942, relating to alien enemies, require all German, Italian and Japanese aliens to apply at the nearest first or second class, or county seat post office for a Certificate of Identification. The requirement applies to all enemy nationals 14 years of age or over who have not yet taken the oath of allegiance before a federal judge, the final step in acquiring American citizenship.

The identification program, which will affect approximately 1,100,000 German, Italian and Japanese noncitizens, will be directed by Earl G. Harrison, former director of alien registration and now a special assistant to the attorney general advising on alien problems.

The regulations provide for two separate periods for the submitting of applications for identity certificates, as follows:

1. All German, Italian and Japanese nationals residing in the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, Utah, and Idaho are required to file applications at the nearest first or second class, or county seat post office between February 2 and February 7, 1942, inclusive.

2. All German, Italian and Japanese nationals residing elsewhere in continental United States are required to file applications at the nearest first or second class, or county seat post office between February 9 and February 28, 1942, inclusive.

Failure to comply with the new regulations may be punished by severe penalties, including possible interment of the enemy alien for the duration of the war.

The regulations require enemy aliens, in applying for identification certificate, to provide a photograph of themselves (to be attached to the identity card) and to answer a number of questions concerning their current activities. Printed directions for the filing of applications will shortly be available at post offices.

The regulations provide that after a careful check has been made of each application, the applicant will be provided with a Certificate of Identification bearing his photograph, index fingerprint and signature. He will thereafter be required to carry the certificate with him at all times.

Step Up Clocks Sunday Evening

TECUMSEH'S MAYOR FIXES TIME CHANGE FOR MIDNIGHT, FEBRUARY 8TH

Tecumseh will officially change its time from Eastern Standard to Eastern Standard Daylight Savings Time on Sunday, February 8th, at midnight, it was said at the office of Wade L. Jones, village clerk, today, when he announced that Mayor J. Floyd Elliott had issued a proclamation, asking that Tecumseh join with the state and the nation in the daylight conservation measure.

"There will be nothing to it," Mr. Jones said, "except that at midnight the clocks will be pushed ahead one hour, making it one o'clock, Monday morning. For the fellow who likes to sleep," the clerk continued, "it might be a good thing if he would retire an hour earlier than usual. Personally, when I go to bed Sunday evening I'm going to move my clock ahead. Then, when I awaken Monday morning my clock will be on time."

W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, said that the schools here would observe the new "fast" time beginning Monday. He said that he had been approached by some people, urging that school be called later in the morning than has been the custom.

"I realize," Mr. Berkhof said, "that we are now on Eastern Time, and that we are already an hour ahead of the Central Time on which the State of Michigan operated for many years. I also know that on many mornings during the next few weeks it will be almost dark when the children arrive at school. I've given the matter careful consideration, but we will try out the 'fast' time and see how it works. The board of education will hold its February meeting next Tuesday evening, and undoubtedly the question will be discussed."

At the branch school buildings, school opens now at 8:45 a. m., and at the Central building at 8:15.

Local Debate Team Wins Third Honors

The Tecumseh high school debate team went to Ypsilanti Saturday to engage in the district debate eliminations. The team placed third in their league this year which entitles the school to a University of Michigan wall plaque and the team members to forensic pins.

In the district eliminations, Tecumseh went to the finals where they were defeated while upholding the negative side of the question: "Resolved, that every able-bodied male citizen in the United States should be required to have one year of full time military training before attaining the present draft age." The team from Plymouth, Michigan, upheld the question.

Tecumseh had previously defeated Dundee and Wayne teams in the first two rounds.

The team this year consisted of Clara Gillespie, Robert Larsen, Richard Hammel, Mary Lou Carlson, and Leha Davenport. Those who journeyed to Ypsilanti were Clara Gillespie, Robert Larsen, and Richard Hammel, with Aden Mead as coach.

Tecumseh Aids Infantile War

CONTRIBUTES $266.71 IN "WISHING WELLS"; HEILMAN EXTENDS HIS THANKS

Tecumseh contributed $266.71 toward the nation's war on infantile paralysis, E. C. Heilman, in charge of the campaign locally, announced today.

"I am very proud of the showing that Tecumseh made in this worthwhile enterprise," Mr. Heilman said. "I am very proud of the $123.30 contribution from the Tecumseh Products Company and the Products Union, and of the $110.53 that was collected by the management of the Strand Theatre, from its patrons. The remaining $32.88 was from the "Wishing Wells" located in the stores and offices in the downtown and factory districts."

The money collected at the Strand was sent to Detroit, to join with similar collections in the Shulte theatre chain, and one half of the amount will return to Lenawee county. Mr. Heilman said the balance of the local contribution went to Adrian, and one-half of that amount also will return to the county.

The drive for funds locally was purely voluntary, and there was no solicitation. All of the money received came from the "Wishing Wells" located in factories and stores.

"We considered the President's Birthday Ball a few weeks ago," Mr. Heilman said, "and then we changed our minds, favoring the 'Wishing Well' program, and allowing people to put their money into the 'wells' instead of spending any of it for an orchesra and dance hall decorations. I believe that we realized more money for the fund than we would have had we staged a dance. I think Tecumseh can be mighty proud."

The money collected throughout the nation in the "Wishing Wells" and through Birthday Balls is turned over to the National Foundation at Warm Springs, Ga., for the war on infantile paralysis. One half of the money is returned directly to the counties from which it came, and last year an additional $40,000 was sent to the University of Michigan, to carry on the work in the hospital there.

The costumes may be Indian, Spanish ladies, nuns, convent girls, flower girls or market women.

This is the first birthday of the Music Club, also Lincoln's birthday. A number of guests are expected.

Last week's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Bertram Updyke with 20 members present. Mrs. Charles Ruthruff, vice president, presided and Mrs. R. F. Herrick is Thanked For Work at Hospital By Village Council

Ray W. Herrick, until a month ago president of the board of trustees of Tecumseh Hospital, received a vote of thanks from the village council on Monday evening, when that body adopted a resolution, expressing appreciation for Mr. Herrick's untiring services as a member of the hospital board. Mr. Herrick resigned his office that he might devote all of his effort to the manufacture of war materials by the Tecumseh Products Company, of which he is the president.

"Be it resolved," the council's resolution read in part, "that as an expression of the appreciation of the members of the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh, as well as the people of the Village, we extend to Mr. Herrick our sincere thanks for the many services rendered by him for the benefit of the hospital and the community, and our regrets that he has felt it necessary to resign from the hospital board."

It was through Mr. Herrick's efforts that Tecumseh Hospital was built, the manufacturer giving of his time and finances to bring to a successful conclusion a drive for some $45,000 by public subscription. It was with this money that the hospital was built and equipped and turned over to the village free of debt. Mr. Herrick has served as president of the institution continuously until a month ago, when he resigned.

There was little other business to come before the council. Current bills were audited and ordered paid, and the reports of committees and department heads were read and placed on file.

Mrs. Martin Zimmerman, a Former Resident, Dies

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Martin Zimmerman, a resident of Tecumseh for more than 25 years. After a brief illness she passed away January 22, in her sleep, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hartley Jackson, 167 South Eleventh st., San Jose California.

After the death of her husband Mrs. Zimmerman left Tecumseh 20 years ago to make her home with her daughters, first in New Orleans, La., and later in California. She would have been 78 years of age on her next birthday and was active up to the day she was taken ill. Recently she had been engaged in Red Cross and Bundles for Brittian work, and had knitted forty sweaters and caps in the past two years.

She gained much pleasure from copies of the Herald sent her by friends from time to time and had enjoyed visits from the B. J. Pulvers and Leon Williamson during the past year. She spent part of her time with her daughter Hazel at the Huntington, in San Francisco until black out conditions made it advisable for her to stay on the Peninsula.

The daughters, Miss Hazel Zimmerman of San Francisco, and Mrs. Stella Jackson of San Jose, are the only survivors.

Indians Ready For Addison Hi

WILL MEET THEM ON LOCAL COURT, TOMORROW; DOWN MANCHESTER 32-22

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school Indians took their tenth straight cage game by defeating the Manchester crew on the court in that city last Friday night, by a score of 32-22. This gives Tecumseh eight straight games to their credit this season in the county. They have four more games to play on the regular schedule.

The Indians will meet the Addison cagers on the local court tomorrow evening in the ninth league game of the current season. Tecumseh has defeated Addison on their own court, which is the smallest in the county, and on Tecumseh's larger court they should have little difficulty in doing it again.

Green was the high point man in last Friday's skirmish with 15 points, with Wilson next contributing 9.

Tecumseh will loose two of its most valuable men at the end of this season. These two guards, Bob Wilson and Bob Mohr, have been responsible for getting the ball into position for the forwards and center to make the bucket. Although their names seldom appear as the high scoring men, the Indians might have come out on the short end of some of their games this season had it not been for these two boys. Coach Raizk will be hard put to find two who can adequately fill the shoes of these two guards.

The game at Manchester was filled with excitement every minute. It seemed that every other minute Max Green was on the floor with some Manchester boy sprawled on top of him. Two boys were fouled out on each side and each side gained eight points by free throws.

The scores at Manchester:

New Gas Station Hours Accepted by the Public

Local gasoline service station operators who, on February 1, adopted a new schedule of hours, opening their stations at 7 o'clock in the morning and closing them at 7 o'clock in the evening, every day except Saturday, when the closing time is 10:30 p. m., said today that the plan is meeting with the public's approval.

"We have had very little difficulty," one operator said today. 'In a few instances, motorists have forgotten about the closing but everyone has taken the change in a spirit of cooperation."

The closing hours were adopted after the state urged filling stations throughout Michigan to close their doors at 7 o'clock in the evening in an effort to reduce the consumption of electricity. Local operators said that there has been a sharp reduction in gasoline sales, due to defense activities, and the ban on the sale of tires and tubes.

Scouts At Work On Defense Aid

SUNDAY SERVICE TO OPEN ANNIVERSARY; WASTE PICK UPS ANNOUNCED

In observance of Boy Scout Sunday, opening national Boy Scout week, local Scouts and their parents have been invited by the Rev. E. T. Hedda to attend the 11 o'clock service at St. Peters Episcopal church.

The Scouts are formulating plans for the 4th annual Parent and Scout banquet to be held in Tecumseh in the near future.

Local Scouts also will conduct another waste paper pick-up on Saturday, February 7, with trucks to begin operating at 9 o'clock. Donors are requested to place all materials conspicuously on their front porches and well apart from articles not intended for contribution, as the Scouts have been hesitant about picking up some materials not segregated from other articles on porches. If it is impossible to put the scrap plainly in sight, the public may phone Mrs. B. J. Pulver, 198; Miss Whitlock, 220-M. or Mrs. F. B. Wood. 135, and the calls will be reported to headquarters and complied with as requested. William Palman continues to donate space in his vacant store for use as a headquarters and papers may be brought there directly on pick-up days if so desired. Trucks have been loaned by Hayden Mills, Robinson Farm Equipment, Hoyt Whelan Co. and Smith Dairy.

Tecumseh's response to the repeated drives for scrap materials has been most gratifying. The first pick-up netted a profit of $100. Subsequent pick-ups, while not so large in volume, indicate that residents have become defense-minded. Papers heretfore burned are now saved.

The thrill of conducting these campaigns bi-monthly past for the "fun" of doing has long since left those who have so faithfully taken charge of all of them. The Rev. O. Robinson, Fl. Dannells, Jr., and Bert and Robert Dannells, assisted by E. H. Van Vleet, Mike Hite and Archie Porter, have supervised the Boy and Girl Scouts in these campaigns every two weeks since December 27. They will continue the campaigns bi-monthly throughout the year. Their devotion is purely patriotic, as any profit accruing is to be held in reserve by the Scouts to buy Defense Bonds or to finance other projects intended to support national defense.

"Such patriotism deserves only to be matched with patriotism. SAVE your waste paper, therefore, whether to give to Scouts or a dealer. Mark Scout pick-ups on your calendar now: February 7—21 and every two weeks," an announcement said.

Registration Law Explained

MEN 20 TO 45 YEARS, NOT PREVIOUSLY REGISTERED, MUST DO SO FEB. 16

Selective Service Registration on February 16 will complete the registration of America's currently authorized military manpower, Col. E. M. Rosecrans, State Director of Selective Service declared today. The new registration affects every male resident in Michigan between the military ages of 20 to 45 years, with a few exceptions made by Congress.

The requirement, Col. Rosecrans explained, is that all male persons not previously registered, who attained their twentieth birthday on or before December 31, 1941, and who have not attained their forty-fifth birthday on or before February 16, 1942, must register as of their home address between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. on February 16. In other words, all unregistered men who were born between February 17, 1897, and December 31, 1921, must register.

Men between 21 and 36 years of age who have registered in 1940 and 1941 are not required to register again, the director stated.

While anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on Feb. 16 may register at the registration place most convenient on that day, Col. Rosecrans urged all Michigan registrants to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who must register while away from his home, he warned, should be careful to specify his home address so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board and to ensure that he will be included in its potential manpower to fill calls for quotas.

The only persons exempt from registration under the law, the director said, are: Commissioned officers, warrant officers, pay clerks, and enlisted men of the Regular Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Public Health Service, the federally recognized active National Guard, the Officers' Reserve Corps, the Regular Army Reserve, the Enlisted Reserve Corps, the Naval Reserve, and the Marine Corps Reserve; cadets, United States Military Academy; midshipmen, United States Naval Academy; cadets, United States Coast Guard Academy; men who have been accepted for admittance (commencing with the academic year next succeeding such acceptance) to the United States Military Academy as cadets, to the United Sates Naval Academy as midshipmen, or to the United States Coast Guard Academy as cadets, but only during the continuance of such acceptance; cadets of the advanced course, senior division, Reserve Officers' Training Corps or Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps; and diplomatic representatives, technical attaches of foreign embassies and legations, consuls general, consuls, vice consuls, and consular agents of foreign countries, and persons in other categories to be specified by the President.

In certain industrial centers, where there are factories and shops employing large numbers of workmen, the director also announced, local boards have been authorized to arrange for the registration of these workers within the establishments. Employers and employee's organizations are cooperating, he said, to facilitate the registration of workmen with the least possible interference with production.

Special registrars also will be provided to register men who cannot appear at a designated place because of illness or other incapacity.

Every man subject to registration who is an inmate of an asylum, jail, penitentiary, reformatory, or similar institution on this day is required to register on the day he leaves the institution.

KEEP CHINS UP—NOT OUT—

The slogans of war are with us again. We are being urged to do this and that in catch phrases that stick in the mind. As a people we are accustomed to advertising morale. We can follow through from a few words—we don't need long-winded speeches to make us see the point.

But there is a difference between the slogans of this war and the slogans of World War No. 1. Remember how then we were all asked to do "our bit?" We are not being asked to do that in this war. It is too clearly realized this time that "our bit" is too little. This time we need to do "our all"

One of the favorite slogans is "chins up." That is excellent provided we don't make it "chins out" as well.

"Chins up" means keeping our courage high and going about our tasks with all the energy we can bring to do the job. It means accepting handicaps and discomforts, keeping cheerful in spite of hardships, seeing beyond present lacks to a brighter future for those who follow.

SALUTE THE BOY SCOUT—

For ten million men and boys in America this week, February 6 to 12, is an anniversary. Thirty-two years ago the Boy Scouts of America was founded. The grouns of twelve to fifteen year olds who rallied to the Scout banner during that first year was small. But each year saw more and more boys being touched by the Scout Oath and Law.

The first year a scattered few Scouts—61,495 all told—had the advantages of Scouting. But by 1915 almost a half million boys had enjoyed the great game of Scouting — 263,043 were active and a slightly smaller group had "graduated," as it were.

The growth of the Boy Scouts of America has been steady ever since. Each year more boys came within influence of Scouting. Naturally many boys joined the ever increasing number of young men who had been Scouts. And because they had been Scouts they were better citizens. This number continues to grow until today ten million men and boys represent the circle of direct influence of Scouting.

Thus it is that not only are the million and a half active Boy Scouts and Scouters celebrating the thirty-second birthday of Scouting, but the eight and one-half million alumni of Scouting also have a claim in the birthday activities.

Most former Scouts still hold with the Scout Oath and Law, and hope their own sons will say:

"On my honor I will do my best—
To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law.
To help other people at all times.
To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

Success, despite the experts, is a matter that involves much of what we call luck.

Education depends upon an ability to read and to think and enough energy to do both.

Times change; about two years ago we were smiling over the efforts of the Germans to get along with synthetic rubber.

If the men expect to keep ahead of the women they'll have to go back to growing whiskers.

The best inheritance that a father can leave to his son or daughter is the training and knowledge necessary to earn a living.

Well, boys and girls, what has become of the old-fashioned gent who used to insist that war could not come to the United States?

Until we have disciplined ourselves to live within our incomes, we are never really free men. We are taxed for such thriftlessness at every turn.

Children should realize that their parents know more than they think and parents should recognize that their children are smarter than they believe.

It might not be amiss to point out that the future of the nation depends upon the conduct of the young people who were worrying their elders by their behavior some years ago.

WE'VE GOT A WAR TO WIN!

Yes, we've got a war to win—and one of the first warnings issued by our government was — "war on waste."

And that's where the property owner enters — your buildings, whether they be in town or on the farm—are you neglecting them—allowing them to depreciate rapidly when a few dollars spent for repairs would put them in ship-shape condition?

"War on waste" by keeping your property in good repair. Don't neglect your homes, your garages or your barns until repair bills grow exhorbitant.

Effective on Sunday, February 1, 1942, the automobile service stations listed below, will observe the following schedule of hours:

Week Days--Monday through Friday--7 a.m., to 7 p.m.
Saturdays--7 a.m., to 10:30 p.m.
Sundays--7 a.m., to 7 p.m.

It is necessary for us to take this action in the face of existing emergencies, including increased overhead and labor shortage, and OUR DESIRE TO COOPERATE IN THE NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM. We believe, with a little planning, that this new program will not inconvenience motorists, and the savings we effect will make it possible for us to give the same high quality of service we now render during the hours that we are open.

Motorists may well understand the necessity for this action when they consider that tire rationing and increased employment of persons in defense plants, has caused the sale of gasoline and oils in this area to decrease approximately 75 per cent during the evening hours after 7 o'clock.

Please cooperate with us in this emergency -- we assure you of our every effort to cooperate with you.

Correlative passage to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 510): "How much more should we seek to apprehend the spiritual ideas of God, than to dwell on the objects of sense! State Capital Highlights — FOR WAR-BUSY READERS

Special session of the state legislature has been called by Governor Van Wagoner for Monday, Feb. 9, to consider supplementing state payments for unemployment compensation. By Feb. 15 the governors office estimates that 315,000 persons will be out of work in Michigan because of the drastic halt to automobile production. Congress has been deliberating and debating. "We can't wait for Congress to act," the governor said as he issued the special call.

Daylight Savings Time will begin Monday (Feb. 9), advancing clocks another hour into morning darkness. Ten years ago Michigan adopted eastern standard time, although much of the state geographically lies within the central time area. The attorney general's office has indicated that legally the state must abide by the congressional action, unless the legislature does something about it next week.

Voluntary curfew at 7 p.m. for gasoline stations has been suggested by Lt. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan Council of Defense, "as a patriotic measure to cut operating expenses." The state council decided that it did not have power, even if it sought it, to regulate working hours of gasoline station attendants.

Politics in war efforts was denounced by Linwood I. Noyes, Ironwood newspaper publisher, before a state convention of newspaper editors two weeks ago. Decrying appointment of Red Cross chairmen and tire rationing chairmen for political reasons, Noyes urged editors to expose such conditions in their editorial columns. . . . . Governor Van Wagoner, addressing county supervisors at Lansing, said that 48 per cent of persons appointed to county defense councils were Democrats, 52 per cent were Republicans or independents. He added: "The state defense council is overwhelming Republican."

Vincent Sheean, newspaper correspondent recently returned from the Orient, shocked a capital city audience the other night by predicting (a) eventual loss of Singapore and Dutch East Indies; (b) attempted invasion of the Pacific west coast by the Japanese, (c) a minimum of three more years of war; and (d) ultimate triumph of the democracies following great sacrifices of men and material . . . Mid-west is not yet aware of the war perils, he warned.

Blackout of Michigan communities must not be conducted unless permission is granted by the Michigan Council of Defense and the Army Air Corps, the state council emphasizes in a warning to local councils. Reasons: "General misconceptions" of nature of blackouts.

Designation of military units with names of servicemen will be missing from news items of Michigan newspapers. Reason: Michigan editors are cooperating voluntarily to withhold information which might prove helpful to the enemy. By identifying one man accurately, spies can ascertain the whereabouts of entire divisions, sometimes with fatal results.

"Tempest in a tea-pot," a headline battle that flared here several weeks ago, was the scare about state censorship of all civilian news. Actual facts:

The Michigan Council of Defense had gone on record twice in the past seven months in opposition to censorship, other than of a voluntary kind. No censorship had been ever contemplated at Lansing. Careless phrasing of a legislative bill permitted the sensational interpretation; writers in righteous wrath promptly revealed "plot." No one was more surprised at the news than members of the state defense council.

Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly, prominently mentioned as a Republican nominee for governor, was "put on the spot" by M. A. ("Mike") Gorman, editor, Flint Journal, at a banquet at Michigan State College the other night. Gorman toasted: "Mr. Kelly has a big job ahead of him in the next few months. He'll have to make up his mind!" Kelly laughed, blushed, kept mum.

Senator Prentiss M. Brown, St. Ignace, up for re-election in 1942, was shin-high in price control negotiations at Washington as chairman of the senate sub-committee in charge of it. Brown who opposed farm lobby efforts to raise prices knows his dilema. Nobody will like the act. One way to become unpopular overnight would be to accept responsibility of price administrator for Michigan. And yet, someone must do the job.

Deer population in Michigan has declined sharply in recent years. Reasons, as ascribed by the state department of conservation: Overbrowsing in deer yards during winter months, starvation due to lack of winter food, and the 1941 camp doe law (held illegal). More flexible control by the conservation commission would be helpful, thus permitting shooting in overpopulated and restricted shooting in other zones, according to conservation officials. Because of legislative touchiness, no such request is contemplated, however.

Lieutenant Charles Popp, Marine Corps recruiting chief of Michigan, announced today that the Adrian area must contribute more than 20 men to the Leatherneck ranks in the next 10 days, if the Marine Corps is to realize its 2,000-man quota this month.

A close check of the records revealed today that more than 40 men from this area have enlisted since the declaration of the emergency, and that at least 30 have made application but have failed to report for enlistment for some reason.

Most recently enrolled in the Leatherneck ranks from this territory are:

Charles H. Knight, 22, of Adrian; Ellis H. Fairbanks, 27, of Britton, and Frederick W. Meyers, 26, also of Britton.

All the above named men enlisted and were transferred to the Marines' west coast training base for the basic instruction in the care and operation of all Leatherneck arms and equipment.

LET FREEDOM REIGN
EVERY AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE HAS AN IMPORTANT JOB TO DO . . . .

★ SAVE VITAMINS
★ SAVE FUEL
★ SAVE FOOD
★ BUILD HEALTH

Do All FOUR And In Addition SAVE Time And Money . . . .

● FOLLOW THE U. S. DEPARTMENT of AGRICULTURE'S RECOMMENDATION to PRESERVE the VITAMIN VALUE IN FOOD with "WATERLESS" COOKING

Ladies, put an end to cooking waste. Now as never before is the time to take full advantage of the health-saving, time-saving, vitamin-saving features your electric range affords. Follow the vitamin-saving waterless cooking method. Your electric range is designed to do this job to the letter.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT VITAMIN-SAVING

★ Use little or no water
By omitting excess amounts of cooking liquid, water-soluble vitamins are saved.

★ Roast with odorless, draftless heat
Odorless heat protects the delicate and delicious flavors of meat. Draftless heat does not dry up natural meat juices.

★ Avoid violent boiling-stirring
Cooking with gentle, evenly distributed heat reduces stirring and introduces air which frequently destroys certain vitamins.

★ Cook in covered utensils
Wanted heat with consequent loss of vitamins is kept to a minimum.

Vitamins are valuable . . . don't pour them down the drain!

Waterless cooking helps keep vitamins in the food, saves minerals and rich natural juices, too. That's why foods taste better and are more nourishing.

Planning of meals is most important if you are to have a properly proportioned and balanced menu. Equally important, however, is the cooking operation.

Don't pay good money for nourishing food — and then lose the health-giving vitamins when you cook it. You can be sure that the meals you cook will build strong young bodies and promote good health by observing the simple rules at the right.

Mr. Farmer:
Start the New Year RIGHT!

Avoid
in 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Herald has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agrcultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes each week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

"We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.

INTERESTING DISCOVERY

Charlottesville, Va. — Excavators recently uncovered what they believe to be the foundations of Shadwell, homestead of Peter Jefferson and birthplace of Thomas Jefferson. The house was destroyed by fire in 1770. In the ashes were also found chips of china, bits of silver-ware and buttons from which researchers hope to construct a picture of Jefferson's childhood, hitherto unknown.

YANK IN ITALY

The U. S. citizen abroad never forgets his homeland it seems.

An Italian showed a Yankee tourist Vesuvius in eruption and thought surely that must stir his awe. But the American after gazing for a while at the burning mountain, said:

"We've got a waterfall in America that would put that out in five minutes."

CORRECT ANSWER

A witness in court, who had been told to give a precise answer to every question was interrogated in the following manner:

"'You drive a wagon?'

"'No, sir, I do not.'

"'Now, sir, I put it to you on your oath, do you drive a wagon?'

"'No sir.'

"'What is your occupation, then?'

"'I drive a horse.'

Miss Mabel Lockwood Organizes Knitting Club

Just recently a picture with a story of the splendid work of a former resident, Miss Mabel Lockwood appeared in the Cleveland Press, a leading newspaper in Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Lockwood, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lockwood of Tecumseh, is connecting a knitting club composed of girls from the Central National Bank of which she is an employee. The group was very desirous of learning how to knit and Miss Lockwood agreed to help them. The club began with six to eight members meeting each Monday evening in the lounge at the bank, and has grown to a club with 60 girls meeting each week. These girls were not content to just make things for themselves but were anxious to do something to help in our present crisis so Miss Lockwood got in touch with the American Friends Service committee, who has a branch in Cleveland, and has been doing a splendid work for them. The group have taken over the project of clothing for children and babies. They have made a large number of sweaters, socks, caps and several afaghans. None of the girls do not care to knit so they have sewed very pretty quilts and blankets for babies, and these garments have been on display in one of the largest department's store window on Euclid avenue in Cleveland.

To those who are not familiar with the work of the Friends Service Committee, this committee goes into the war torn areas and helps to reconstruct and build up the things which have been ruined by war. Primary purpose is to care for the homeless and suffering women and children.

The Quakers played a great part in the war of 1917 and now in less than 25 years this organization, which gains access to all countries and peoples on its errand of mercy is again carrying on spiritual faith by love and goodwill.

There is a Friend's Ambulance unit in China which the Quakers finance at a cost of $150,000 a year.

The Tecumseh Friends Meeting are preparing themselves to help in this great work, with Naomi Sallows in charge. Anyone wishing to knit or sew or help in anyway with this great work may do by getting in touch with the chairman.

Boy Scouts Again Serve Nation in an Emergency

History repeats itself!

The Boy Scouts of America is living again the stirring days of 1917 and 1918. The present conflict recalls the service rendered the Nation when Scouting was only seven years old.

Now, on its thirty-second anniversary, the Boy Scouts of America again serves America at war. These services range from poster distribution to blackout first aid.

Early in 1941, before the United States became involved in actual war the Boy Scouts of America was asked to take the responsibility for the distribution of posters advertising the sale of United States Defense Bonds and Stamps. Boy Scouts put up 1,700,000.

Almost immediately the Office of Civilian Defense requested the aid of the Boy Scouts of America in helping to collect scrap aluminum for airplane construction. Boy Scouts all over the United States collected 10 million pounds of aluminum—eighty per cent of all collected.

Then came the appeal to collect waste paper. Thousands of tons of waste paper have been gathered already by them and their quest for it continues.

As in the last World War the Boy Scouts are doing those things of which they are capable to help the home front in its fight for the democratic way of life. Scouting prepares boys for many "good turns" and America has learned through war and peace a Boy Scout is dependable.

W. D. White is president of the company and G. Forsthoefel is general manager. Frank K. Smith, C. M. Brown and Jens Touborg of Deerfield, are associated in the enterprise.

NINETY - SECOND YEAR—NUMBER TWENTY | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1942. | FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Registration Set For Monday

ALL MALES BETWEEN AGES OF 20 AND 45, AND NOT REGISTERED, MUST DO SO

Men of Tecumseh and Tecumseh township, between the ages of 20 and 45 years, and who have not previously registered for Selective Military Service in World War No. 3, must do so on Monday, February 16, between the hours of 7 a. m., and 9 p.m., at the Council Building, H. H. Hanna, village clerk announcer today. The registration program for this area was announced following a meeting in Adrian yesterday, attended by the several clerks in thecounty.

With a few exceptions made by the Congress, the registration requirement is as follows: All male persons not previously registered, who attained their 20th birthday on or before December 31, 1941, and who have not attained their 45th birthday on or before February 16, 1942, must register. In other words, all unregistered men who were born between February 17, 1897, and December 31, 1921, must register.

Residents of the township who are away on Monday may register at the registration place most convenient, and men from away who are in Tecumseh on Monday may register here. Their cards will be exchanged with their "home" boards, it was explained. Persons who are ill and who know now that it will be impossible for them to register on Monday may communicate with Mr. Hanna, (telephone 153) and a registrar will be sent to the home or hospital. Illness occurring on registration day will be handled in a similar fashion.

"We hope to have a sufficient number of registration clerks to permit speedy registration." Mr. Hanna said. "We have several volunteers, and any person who has not volunteered, and who is willing to work, should communicate with me."

Only nine simple questions will be asked those men who register, and registration of the individual should require a comparatively short time, it was said. The registrant will not be asked to fill out questionnaires but must only answer questions about his identity, his place of residence, and his mailing address. Also he will be required to list his telephone, if any; his age in years and date of birth, place of birth, the name and address of the person who will always know his address, his employer's name and address, and his place of employment or business.

No questionnaires will be given registrants when they register February 16, nor will they then be required to undergo any physical examination. Questionnaires are given to registrants after their order numbers have been determined and reached by their local boards. Physical examinations are given only after the boards have passed on the general qualifications of registrants and have determined that they should not be deferred for reasons of interest to the Nation.

While registration must be conducted as of February 16 to conform to the President's Proclamation issued early in January, all men who find it impossible to register on that day may register at the office of their local board on Saturday or Sunday preceding Registration Day, the state director has announced.

After the registrant has answered all questions and signed his name to the registration card, he will be given a registration certificate signed by the registrar. This certificate must be in the personal possession of the registrant at all times. Failure to possess the certificate, or to show it to authorized persons, constitutes a violation of Selective Service Regulations and is considered prima facie evidence of failure to register.

Laundry Acts to Save Truck Tires by Urging Customer Cooperation

Among the first of Tecumseh business firms to feel the "pinch" due to the rationing of automobile tires, Lester Rogers, owner and operator of the Tecumseh Laundry, announced today a restricted schedule of "pick-up" service, in an effort to reduce truck operation.

"There's no use kidding ourselves," Mr. Rogers said, "we are not going to be able to buy tires, and all the tires we have are on our truck. We must shorten up our trips, otherwise our tires are soon going to wear out, and then we will not be able to give any service at all.

"We are asking that our occasional customer call in before 9:30 on wash day morning, Mondays and Thursday, and let us know that they have a bundle to be picked up. In this way we can schedule our route, and save many miles of wear on our tires."

Mr. Rogers said that their many laundry customers who are "regular" do not need to call, but he asked that they have their baskets on their porches as early as possible in the morning, to save "back tracking" over the route.

"We'd be glad to pick up laundry anytime, if tires would permit, but we just can't do it," Mr. Rogers said. "If our customers will cooperate with us, our tires may last for many months."

Tires A 'Prize' Speaker Warns

FIRESTONE REPRESENTATIVE TELLS ROTARIANS TO GUARD CASINGS, TUBES

If you car now has tires, guard them. You may not be able to buy a set of new tires—even retreads—for two years, maybe more. That was the warning given to Tecumseh Rotarians on Tuesday by William Nieburg, a representative of the Firestone Tire & Rubaddressed the club's noon-day luncheon meeting at St. Peter's parish house. Mr. Nieburg was a guest of Charles O. Butler.

"The tire situation is very serious," the speaker declared. "The government, for defense purposes, is taking almost all of the rubber now in the United States, and as I look over this audience I can see but one man eligible to buy a new tire today. He is the minister. We are of the opinion that it will be two years, maybe more, before tires will again be sold without restrictions."

Mr. Neiburg told how only a few thousand tons of rubber are making their way into the United States via Singapore, and he pointed out that this supply may be shut off at any moment. Relatively small tonnage is received from South America, and it will be two years or more before synthetic rubber will be made in sufficient quantity to supply motorists.

The speaker urged that motorists keep their tires at the proper air pressure, criss-cross tires for longer wear, and see to it that wheels are in alignment, brakes work properly, and that the car is well lubricated. All of these things tend to build more tire mileage, he pointed out, and he warned that fast driving—above 50 miles an hour—cuts mileage in half.

Following his talk, Mr. Butler spoke briefly, telling of tire rationing regulations and urging safety in driving.

"I'd like to stress the necessity for proper tire inflation for longer wear," Mr. Butler said. "We know that tires underinflated wear out in half the normal time. Motorists also should avoid fast driving, sharp stones and curb bruises if they want their tires to last longer."

Ford to Employ 200,000

Scrapping of Auto Industry Biggest News Story of 1942

LANSING, Feb. 12.—Michigan's "news story of 1942," when recorded by historians, will probably be the unparalleled scrapping of the automobile industry and the latter's complete diversion to production of munitions.

Its import staggers the imagination.

Developed for 35 years into one of America's leading industries—one accredited by economists with leading the nation out of the world war depression—the automobile industry does not exist today. Assembly lines are being torn out. Space is needed for war orders.

Try to comprehend this: War work of the Ford Motor Company will require TWICE as many employees as were needed for making of automobiles and trucks.

Instead of 100,000 workers, Ford must have 200,000!

Chrysler's government contracts for army tanks today are TEN TIMES GREATER than the original order from Washington, large as it was.

General Motors is DOUBLING its dollar volume.

A labor shortage, such as Michigan has never experienced, is regarded as inevitable.

Military needs will take tens of thousands of men under 44. Married men with family dependents—a wife with or without children—and single men supporting parents or other relatives face the prospect of ultimate military service.

Government aid for dependents will be supplied.

Furthermore, thousands of women will probably work in war factories before Victory is achieved.

Transportation of workers to Michigan war plants is a major problem. Conversion of automobile carriers into buses is proposed in Detroit. New highway and parking facilities are being studied. It's one of the numerous new headaches plaguing war planners.

Michigan dairymen are asked to increase milk production 10 percent. Uncle Sam wants Michigan's 950,000 cows to produce an average of 520 MORE pounds of milk per animal than the 5,200 pounds averaged in 1941. To do this each cow will require 1,000 pounds additional hay and 500 pounds more of cereal grain. Sooo Bossy!

Layoff of 315,000 auto workers and the financial burden of providing unemployment compensation were responsible for the second special session of the state legislature at Lansing last week.

Michigan's law permits maximum compensation of $288 per jobless worker, $16 for 18 weeks.

President Roosevelt has proposed that Congress supplement these payments to allow a total of $624 at the rate of $24 for 26 weeks. Since automobile plants are being converted by the government to war needs, the White House feels that the government should share the extra burden of unemployment compensation, ordinarily shouldered by employers.

Election year factors are seen in the action of the state administrative board (bi-partisan in control) to send Governor VanWagoner and Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly to Washington for a bi-partisan recommendation.

Kelly comes from Detroit, hub of the motor industry.

Van Wagoners' political strength has been in metropolitan centers rather than upstate, as the election polls show.

Michigan employers have been paying the highest rate of tax in the nation, 3 per cent as against 2.7 per cen maximum paid by practically all other states, according to the Michigan Manufacturers' Association.

That accounts, in part for our $140,000,000 reserve fund.

Ten states pay more than Michigan in maximum unemployment payments; only three states pay more than Michigan in minimum payments.

Federalizing of the employment security system, as suggested in Washington, is seen as a threat at employer-earned experience rating by which a lower levy is possible through stabilized work.

Administration of many of the state unemployment compensation laws are opposing federalization. The Southern Governors' Conference went on record (1) that the complete administration of state

Farm Dairy Meeting to Be Held Here, Tonight

The care and feeding of dry cows will be the subject under discussion this evening when dairymen and farmers from this vicinity attend the fifth in a series of dairy school sessions, in the agriculture room of the high school here, at 8 o'clock, tonight. There is no admission charge.

Last week, the assembly discussed the feeding of minerals to dairy cattle. The need of a suitable, safe and cheap mineral was realized by all of the men present. They were advied to mix two pounds of steamed bone meal and one or two pounds of salt, in every 100 pounds of grain mixture for their cattle.

The problem of goiters in calves also was discussed. In this case the advice is to mix iodized salt with the grain ration, or add one-third ounce of potassium iodide to each 100 pounds of salt.

The remaining meetings, of which there are five, will deal with: Maintaining good pastures; raising dairy calves; prevention of mastitis and Bangs disease; breeding for more milk production; clean milk production.

Farmers and dairymen residing in this area, who are interested in participating in the discussions, are urged to attend.

Blood Bank Of 300 Urged Here

REV. O. V. ROBINSON IS CHAIRMAN OF RED CROSS CAMPAIGN IN TECUMSEH

The Rev. O. V. Robinson has accepted the chairmanship of a campaign to secure 300 persons in Tecumseh who are willing to give one pint of blood each toward Tecumseh's Red Cross "Blood Bank" of 150 quarts, to be contributed sometime in March or early April, it was learned. The Rev. Mr. Robinson said 19 persons have subscribed to the "bank" and he expects that the suggested 300 will be secured within a short time.

"Persons who desire to give their blood, that it may be used to save some American boy in military service, may secure application blanks from me or at the Hayden Milling Company, Kerby's restaurant, Oliver's Market, W. D. Hite or at the postoffice," Mr. Robinson said. "These applications will be filed, and when the Red Cross doctors and nurses arrive, possibly within a month, they will be notified."

The "Blood Bank" was in Adrian last week and in that city some 180 persons contributed blood. Mr. Robinson hopes that this number may be nearly doubled in Tecumseh and if it is the "bank" will remain here two days instead of one.

Miss Irene Brockett, field representative of the blood donor service of the Red Cross, with offices in St. Louis, Mo., was in Tecumseh this week conferring with Mr. Robinson and other ministers regarding the program. When the "bank" arrives here, the Methodist church will be transformed into a temporary hospital" and it will be there that the blood will be taken by the Red Cross physicians.

The giving of blood requires but a few minutes time, and is without ill effect to the donor. Those who already have given their names to Mr. Robinson as willing to contribute blood when the "bank" arrives here were announced today as follows: Mrs. Edna Cook, Virginia Carron, Marjorie Traster, Raynor Aylesworth, Doc Edwards, Mrs. May, Perry Hayden, Oliver Bovee, Perry Satterthwaite, Gladys Starr, Sarah Humphrey, Elizabeth Cole, Ralph Oliver, Charles Howe, Thos. C. Gallant, L. E. Brown, George Withrup, Percy Bowen and Mr. Robinson.

The program consisted of a review of the book "One Foot in Heaven" by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson. Refreshments were served in conclusion.

Junior Girl Scouts Are Busy Knitting

The Junior Girl Scouts under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Cole and Mrs. Walter Pfaus are very busy this year. Their largest project is the making of two afghans for a soldier's hospital. During the last month, over 130 squares have been knitted and blocked. When the rest are finished Mrs. Jas. R. Collins has consented to crochet them together for the girls.

Tuesday afternoon the Junior Girl Scouts and leaders enjoyed their annual Valentine party. Games and contests under the supervision of Marlou Gilman, Lois Purkey, and Martha Jane Hanna were enjoyed.

Barbara Schock, Jacolyn Gillespie, Marilyn Van Winkle, and Ardyth Cole served refreshments.

Valenties were exchanged at the close of the meeting.

Morenci Threat To Indian Title

TECUMSEH TO MEET VISITORS ON COURT HERE, TOMORROW; YET UNDEFEATED

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school cagers will clash with the biggest team of their undefeated season tomorrow night on the local court when they meet Morenci. Last Tuesday the Indians defeated a strong Hudson team by a score of 21-18. Morenci defeated Hudson by twelve points, previously. This means that the Indians will have to buckle down in order to go through the season undefeated.

Last Friday, the Indians met a weak Addison team on the local court and literally "ran them ragged." Addison has the smallest court in the country and on Tecumseh's court they were "all run out" at the end of the third quarter. The score was 54-21, with Max Green as high point man, contributing 21 points. The game was relatively unexciting as are all games where one team walks away from their opponents.

However, the game at Hudson on Tuesday was a different story. It was a thriller right down to the last minute, Tecumseh was trailing at the end of every quarter except the last. At one time in the third quarter Tecumseh was trailing 14-6. Bob Wilson, stellar guard of the Indians pulled the fat out of the fire by contributing six points in the fourth quarter, which gave Tecumseh an even break for the win. The final score favored Tecumseh 18-21.

This is the closest game Tecumseh has had all season and except for the Indians ability to put their shoulder to the wheel and all pull together they would surely have lost the contest. It is this abiltiy that is making the '41-42 team one of the greatest cage teams in the history of the town.

This leaves two games in the current season to be played. Morenci here tomorrow and Clinton there a week from tomorrow. If the Indians can play the same brand of ball in these final contests as they did at Hudson on Tuesday, they will come out undefeated champs of the league.

HAPPY CIRCLE P. T. A.

The Happy Circle P. T. A. will meet Friday evening at the Centennial school when movies of the U. S. Navy will be shown. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson, Miss Gertrude ad Roy Van Vleet are in charge of the refreshments which will consist of sandwiches, doughnuts and pickles.

Promotion Is Won By Major R. G. B. Marsh

Friends of Major R. G. B. Marsh have learned that he has been made executive officer of the 107th Medical Regiment at Camp Livingston, La., and that he is also the executive officer of the 107th Medical Battalion, making him second in command.

The promotion for Major Marsh came when it was announced that the 32nd Division had begun the work of streamlining its forces at Livingston, in changing from a square to a triangular division. Of this action, newspapers there had this to say:

"Yesterday's parade, reviewed by Maj. Gen. Edmund Daley, V corps commander, and Brig. Gen. Paul Clemens, former acting commander, was the last one for the square division, Brig. Gen. Frayne Baker, acting division commander, stepped back and the corps commander and General Clemens "took" the parade. General Clemens' new assignment was reported to be at Omaha.

"In changing from the square to the triangular, the division will have fewer regiments but more men. There will be a considerable increase in the size of the infantry regiments."

Major Marsh reports excellent weather, with only 10 days of freezing temperature, early in January.

Defense Survey Is Made By OPM

C. OF C MEETING ADVISED OF DEFENSE AREA PROGRESS; DIRECTORS NAMED

The designation of Tecumseh as a "Defense Area" thereby giving priority to certain business enterprises furnishing tools, equipment and other services necessary for unhampered war production is now under consideration by the Office of Production Management, members of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce were advised on Tuesday evening, when they met at the Brown Motor Sales. Approximately 60 persons attended the meeting, and a board of directors for the coming year was chosen. They are: Clarence Gilman, Glen L. Williams, A. L. Van Winkle, Yale Kerby, W. D. Hite, E. B. Kimball and Paul Breitenwischer. The directors will meet soon and elect officers.

An application asking that Tecumseh be declared a defense area was made to Washington about 10 days ago by the Chamber of Commerce through its secretary, Wade L. Jones. A similar application for the City of Adrian was made through the Chamber in that city, several months ago. Last week, representatives from the two towns were called to Cleveland for a conference. Robert H. Moore representing Tecumseh.

As the result of the Cleveland Conference, Arthur B. Flagg, field advisor for the Office of Emergency Management, Executive Office of the President, was in Adrian, Tecumseh and Blissfield on Monday and Tuesday of this week, making a survey of conditions in the three towns. It is reported that defense work in Adrian has caused a distinct housing shortage in that city, there are practically no houses in Tecumseh for rent, and a similar condition is expected in Blissfield, when expansion of the beet sugar factory there is begun next spring.

Factories here and in Adrian hold millions of dollars worth of defense contracts, and the government is anxious that these move rapidly without interruption due to limited housing, or the inability of workers to obtain other necessities.

Mr. Moore spoke briefly at the Chamber meeting on Tuesday, telling of Mr. Flagg's visit and inspections that he made in Tecumseh. He said that Flagg would return to Washington yesterday, to make his report to the OPM officials.

Tecumseh will not know of the OPM decision or of Mr. Flagg's recommendations for probably 30 days, it was said.

Village Warns That Walks Must Be Cleaned

If you don't want the village street department to clean the snow off your sidewalk and charge the cost in your taxes—clean it yourself before 9 o'clock in the morning following the storm.

This was the warning issued today by the village council, when it declared that altogether too many sidewalks are being neglected in Tecumseh, and that pedestrians are finding it difficult to walk.

"With tires being rationed, many people are walking instead of riding, and with sidewalks uncleared, it is difficult to be sure of your footing," it was said.

The Village has an ordinance which provides for the cleaning of walks by 9 o'clock a. m., following a snowstorm, otherwise the street department may do the work and charge it against the adjoining property.

An official notice of the village's intent to enforce the ordinance will be found in another page of this newspaper.

School Hours Are Unchanged

BOARD APPROVES "WAR TIME" OPERATION; NEW TEACHERS GET TRUSTEES' APPROVAL

There will be no change in the time schedule under which the public schools here are now operating, the board of education ruled on Tuesday evening, putting an end to speculation that the school hours might be advanced somewhat, due to the stepping-up of the clocks throughout the nation. Students at the branch buildings report for classes at 8:45 and at the central building at 8:15 a. m.

Tecumseh officially changed from Eastern Standard Time to War time, one hour faster, at 2 o'clock last Monday morning. Little tardiness has been reported at the school this week, despite the fact that it is dark when central school students report for their first morning class. In the downtown section, stores also are observing the War Time hours, and the board was of the opinion that any changes in the time schedule at the school would interrupt the program in homes as well.

The board had little business before it at this month's session. A plan for the installation of new boilers in the heating system at the central school was submitted, but no action was taken. A contract was awarded to Elsbeth Appleton of Adrian, to replace Joan Borgards, who resigned. Mrs. Appleton is a graduate of Michigan State Normal College, and will teach the first and second grades at the east branch building. The board also announced that Mrs. F. C. Dickinson would replace Jon Young, history teacher, who left yesterday for Fort Custer, to serve with the U. S. Army.

COMPROMISE PEACE IMPOSSIBLE—

You can read almost anything about the war, including "verified" accounts of internal trouble in Germany and "authentic" repetitions of "peace feelers" being put out by Germany.

It is just as well for the United Nations to make up their minds to win the present war by force of arms, without regard to weakness in Germany, and to discount all stories which relate to German yearnings for peace on the basis of the 1937 status quo.

It may be somewhat difficult for us to realize that Germany and Japan believe that together they can win the present war. The leaders of these nations understand the potential resources of their enemies, but they are confident that, upon vital battle areas, they can e xert superior force.

There is no logic whatever in any compromise peace between the nations now at war. The aggressors have set up a new standard of international conduct and assert the superior rights of their people as compared with other peoples. Neither Germany nor Japan has recognized the restraint of accepted morality because they do not give recognition to the divine personality of mankind.

The present struggle can end only in the death of the German and Japanese ideals, or the extinction of free peoples accustomed to liberty and the ways of democracy. The decision must be complete, final and everlasting. The winner, whichever side it may be, will dominate the world for hundreds of years and impose upon the vanquished the victor's ideas of civilization, including economic, political and social organizations.

WHAT WAS YOUR INCOME?

The national income in 1941 amounted to $693 a person, according to estimates of government economists.

The nation, as a whole, enjoyed an income of 92 billion dollars, which is not what one would call alfalfa. The income in 1941 was about $16,200,000,000 above that of 1940.

And here is another strange fact about incomes. When 1942 began, farm wages were at their highest level since April, 1930, according to the Department of Agriculture.

For those who are "convinced" that there is no farm problem, we'd like to call attention to these facts. Farm wages averaged $37.08 per month, with board, and $47.77, without board, the government's survey showed. This is approximately the wages that a good workman in some industries receives in a week.

In view of the fact that more than one-fourth of the population of this country resides on the farms of the nation, this is important. Farm workers are receiving approximately one-fourth as much for their labor as the men and women who leave the farm for industrial employment.

Certainly, few Americans can be satisfied with an economic condition which compels approximately one-fourth of our population and more than one-fourth of our children to get along on an income that is approximately one-fourth of that enjoyed by those in industry.

What is the answer to the problem? We don't know it. We do know that it is wrong, but we are not able to venture a solution.

—o—

STRATEGY AND GEOGRAPHY—

By the time the present war is over millions of Americans will have acquired a fundamental knowledge of geography, including the location of unheard of places and strange areas.

Even those who learned the location of Crete, Sicily and the Dodecanese islands in the Mediterranean and the location of Syria, Iraq and Iran in relation to Turkey and Russia have had to take something of a post-graduate course to separate the Strait of Malacca from the Molucca passage and to locate Mountmein, Penang, Kuching and larger entities, like the Bismarck Archipelago and Celebes.

Before the battle is over Americans will become world-minded, understanding the threats that arise against this nation's peace and security in far-distant places. Moreover, we will begin to suspect that, after all, there are other good peoples and fair lands outside the continental United States.

A Job To Be Done

". . . to do our duty as we understand it," is the most that can be asked of anyone. That is what Lincoln once asked of the people.

One reason why we established this institution is because we felt it would well serve the needs of the citizens of our community. In times like these there is a tremendous job to be done—the job of winning the war, at home.

We must not neglect our homes, our garages, our barns and other outbuildings during this emergency. We must keep them in repair, in readiness to be of the greatest service. That is a part of the Home Defense Program.

Don't neglect your buildings — a few dollars spent now may mean the saving of hundreds of dollars in a year or two. We'll be glad to be of assistance, and to furnish you free estimates of cost.

Notice to Property Owners Regarding Removal of Snow

Section 139 of the Ordinances of the Village of Tecumseh, provides as follows:

"That the owners and occupants of all lands in the Village of Tecumseh shall, before the hour of nine o'clock in the forenoon of each day, clear away and remove from all sidewalks adjoining their respective premises, all snow, ice, filth and other nuisances."

Some residents of the village have become lax regarding snow removal this winter, and the purpose of this advertisement is to advise the public generally that hereafter the ordinance will be enforced. The village has the power to remove snow and ice from sidewalks, and to tax the cost of the removal to the adjoining property, if the owner or occupant fails to comply with the law. This will be done in Tecumseh in the future.

Signed:

An Important Notice
Regarding Your Laundry Service

Due to the shortage of rubber and the government's restriction on automobile tires and tubes, we have found it necessary to curtail, to some extent, our "pick-up" service.

Unless changes are made in the rules governing the sale of tires and tubes, we shall be unable to purchase new or re-tread tires when our present stock is exhausted. Our stock amounts to the tires now on our truck. It is, therefore, important that we conserve, if we desire to continue to serve our customers.

Monday and Thursday are "wash days" in our laundry. On those days we receive many calls for "pick-up" service. Many of the trips our truck makes are duplicates of trips made earlier in the day. This we must avoid.

Therefore, effective next Monday and Thursday, and each Monday and Thursday thereafter, we will not answer "pick-up" calls after 9:30 a. m. In this way we will be able to schedule our trip, and drive the fewest number of miles.

Please cooperate with us in this new schedule. We want to give you service just as long as we can, but we must conserve our tires.

To All Customers: Have your baskets on porches as early as possible each Monday and Thursday. This will aid further in reducing our tire mileage.

LET FREEDOM REIGN

EVERY AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE HAS AN IMPORTANT JOB TO DO . . . .

★ SAVE VITAMINS
★ SAVE FUEL
★ SAVE FOOD
★ BUILD HEALTH

Do All FOUR And In Addition SAVE Time And Money . . . .

● FOLLOW THE U. S. DEPARTMENT of AGRICULTURE'S RECOMMENDATION to PRESERVE the VITAMIN VALUE IN FOOD with "WATERLESS" COOKING

Ladies, put an end to cooking waste. Now as never before is the time to take full advantage of the health-saving, time-saving, vitamin-saving features your electric range affords. Follow the vitamin-saving waterless cooking method. Your electric range is designed to do this job to the letter.

Vitamins are valuable...
don't pour them down the drain!

Waterless cooking helps keep vitamins in the food, saves minerals and rich natural juices, too. That's why foods taste better and are more nourishing.

Planning of meals is most important if you are to have a properly proportioned and balanced menu. Equally important, however, is the cooking operation.

Don't pay good money for nourishing food — and then lose the health-giving vitamins when you cook it. You can be sure that the meals you cook will build strong young bodies and promote good health by observing the simple rules at the right.

★ For Greater HOME DEFENSE Cook with a Health-Saving Time-Saving, Current-Saving ELECTRIC RANGE

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT VITAMIN-SAVING

★ Use little or no water
By avoiding excess amounts of cooking liquid, water-soluble vitamins are saved.

★ Roast with odorless, draft-less heat
Odorless heat protects the delicate and delicious flavors of meat. Draftless heat does not dry up natural meat juices.

★ Avoid violent boiling-allowing
Cooking with gentle, evenly distributed heat reduces stirring and introduced air which frequently destroys certain vitamins.

★ Cook in covered utensils
Wasted heat with consequent loss of vitamins is kept to a minimum.

Mr. Farmer:
Start the New Year RIGHT!

Avoid
in 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Herald has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agrcultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes each week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

"We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

Madison, Wis.—Attracted by the flames in a doghouse in the rear of her home, Mrs. Simon Toppen did not discover that her little girl Betty Ruth Toppen, 4, was in the doghouse until she had put out the fire. The Three Dimensions Of

Newspaper Advertising Value

1. PAID CIRCULATION

No advertising medium can be effective unless it reaches people WHO WANT IT. Every week The Tecumseh Herald goes into the homes of Tecumseh and surrounding communities. It is the medium that covers both the village and rural area. The circulation is PAID CIRCULATION—indicating that these readers want THE HERALD and are willing to pay for it.

2. TYPE OF CIRCULATION

No advertising can be effective unless it is read by the people who are ABLE TO BUY the articles advertised. The Herald reaches the homes that can afford a newspaper—and the things advertised in a newspaper. They represent the buying power of Tecumseh and vicinity—people with jobs, farmers who are producing and selling their products.

3. READER CONFIDENCE

No advertising medium can be effective unless it is believed by the people who read it. It must be read and preferred for news and editorials as well as advertising information. This reader confidence is attained only over a period of years—after the medium has proved it is worthy of that confidence. THE HERALD has this reader confidence—evidenced by the fact that people voluntarily choose to pay for The Herald because they want to read it, and for no other reason.

employment services be restored to the respective states as soon as the present emergency has pased, and (2) that nothing in the present emergency should justify the federal government in taking over the administration of unemployment compensation.

Governor Van Wagoner admitted the other day that he was the "only governor" who apparently was not opposed to federalized control.

Old-fashioned vacations, as contrasted to modern gypsy outings, may become the 1942 vogue in Michigan.

Chief reason: Tire rationing.

That's the forecast from the East Michigan Tourist association which concludes that people are going to stay "put" for vacation duration, preferring a cottage or hotel to days of restful motor travel.

Our advisor, Frank Davis, adds: "We have already seen evidence of doubling up in automobiles and an increased amount of bus and railroad travel."

George A. Osborn, editor of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News, offers several reasons why Michigan should have a fair tourist season in 1942:

(1) A survey of automobiles using the Straits ferry last summer disclosed a majority of cars were less than one year old. Tires should be in good condition.

(2) British have found that vacations were more necessary than before due to increased pressure of war work at long hours.

Less gasoline tax revenue is anticipated, however, by Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy.

In 1941 the gasoline levy produced $32,000,000.

Effect of tax cut: Road construction will be limited to defense needs.

Michigan's state government owns and maintains a fleet of 737 automobiles and 1318 trucks. Only 15 staff members of the state liquor commission used 11 cars recently to go to Detroit for a routine hearing. Governor Van Wagoner proposed a pooling of state-owned cars under which one car might do the transportation work of three or four.

"It's inefficient to wear out rubber carrying fewer persons than the car will hold," he said. The same rule of economy should apply to civilians, the governor added.

"War time," inaugurated last Monday (Feb. 9), received the official blessing of the state administrative board last week. Reason: Detroit power companies estimated additional daylight would save between 2 and 3 per cent of their annual power production.

Ben Koenig, coordinator of the Grand Traverse county defense council, returned to Traverse City from a week-end trip "down state" fully determined to rush preparedness plans for enemy air raids.

"Perhaps it would not be policy to mention location of the area I visited," he related, "but air raid instructions in all prominent places indicated that they fully expect to be bombed. These air raid warnings were significant enough, but when I saw 175 hospital beds all made up and reserved for air raid casualties I realized how serious the danger actually is."

Michigan food distributors, retailers and wholesalers, were recently recognized officially by the Michigan Council of Defense through appointment by Governor Van Wagoner of the Micigan Food Council as a sub-committee to the council's consumer committee.

Willis Keasey, Michigan Retail Grocers association, is president of the state food group, while W. F. Doyle of the Michigan Chain Stores bureau is vice-president. Among the members are Leo V. Card, commissioner of agriculture, and W. G. Armstrong, master of the State Grange.

If consumer groups start crying "profiteering" at grocers, the council will be expected to provide the answers—right in committee conferences.

REAPPOINTMENT ASKED

WASHINGTON, D. C. February 12.—Senator Prentiss F. Brown of Michigan sent the name of Edson Porter, incumbent to the postmaster general with the recommendation that he be given a non-competitive civil service examination and reappointed postmaster at Blissfield upon the expiration of his term on April 12, 1942.

Can't I persuade you to write your memoirs?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum, "I am now concentrating most of the intellectual facilities I possess in arranging to have certain things forgotten."

Challenge to Home-Town Merchants

(An Editorial)

The greatest shortage in the American economic system is rubber. As a result drastic changes in the American mode of living will probably be necessary. Most of Europe has gone back to the "horse and buggy days," except there are few horses and no buggies. The automobile for civilian use is almost non-existent.

In America the automobile greatly changed our living. It helped make cities bigger and small towns smaller, because people thought nothing of going 50 to 100 miles to shop. As automobile use is restricted, the small towns will become more important.

What does this mean to you, Mr. Small Town or Rural Business Man?

Doesn't it suggest that the small town is about to have a rebirth as a trading center, and in this change isn't there opportunity with a capital "O"? For these people "who have thought nothing of going 50 to 100 miles to shop" are going to think more about the wear and tear on their automobile tires. They are going to begin to think more about their shopping nearer home.

But do not think, Mr. Merchant, that people are going to be forced to trade with you because you are located where you are. It is not going to be as easy as that to get back the trade that has been going away.

The merchants in the cities aren't going to surrender that trade without a fight. They are going to bring their advertising message into your community and they are going to use every method they can—including perhaps the development of the mail order business—to hold on to that trade.

So you, Mr. Home Merchant, had better be stirring yourself right now before they get the jump on you.

Preaching the doctrine of "trade at home" isn't enough. Urging people to support "home enterprise" isn't enough. You have got to show them why trading at home means money in their pockets. That they can buy as good quality at home as elsewhere.

This car and tire crisis offers an opportunity for showing them. What are you going to do about it? And when?

The Herald's paid circulation, which covers Tecumseh and its trading area, can help you reach the people, no matter where your store is located in this county. You will always find us willing and ready to work for you as your salesman.

Indian Cagers County Champs

HOWEVER, THEY STILL HAVE GAME WITH CLINTON; DOWN MORENCI, 42-14

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school cagers chalked up its eleventh straight league victory here last Friday evening by defeating the biggest threat of the current season, the Morenci five, by a score of 42-14. This leaves the Indian as undefeated leaders of the league with only one more game to play. The Indians will meet the Clinton cagers on that court a week from tomorrow. With the Clinton team getting stronger all the time, the Indians will have to be on their toes every minute in order to take the final contest of the season.

Sometime in March the Indians will journey to Dundee to play in the district contest. Coach Fred Raizk has been bringing up some of the more promising boys on the reserve team in order that he may have two full teams to take to the district with him. Details of the eliminations at Dundee will be announced later.

In the game with Morenci, Bob Laidlaw was high point man with 11 points to his credit. Mohr was next with 10. The game was a rather slow and uninteresting contest since the Tecumseh boys had it all over their opponents from the first tip off. This was quite the contrary to the Hudson game where Tecumseh played close to getting scalped. By their brilliant win over Morenci, Coach Raizk's cagers showed their ability to stiffen their defense and launch a more powerful offense, even after a near defeat at the hands of the Hudson five.

Treasury department in Washington, and on February 16, the money in the amount of $27 was returned to Mr. Waldron, who turned it over to Mr. and Mrs. George Cole, parents of the boy who died about two months after the loss.

Day of Prayer Here, Feb. 20

ALL PROTESTANT CHURCHES TO PARTICIPATE IN SERVICE AT ST. PETER'S AT 2:30

The annual World Day of Prayer service will be held Friday afternoon, February 20, at 2:30 in the parish house of St. Peter's Episcopal church, all Protestant churches taking part. The service is open to all women of the community who desire to attend.

Peace is the theme of this year's program which was prepared by a group of three women now living in the United States. The chairman is a former teacher in Ginling, China. The second is the wife of a German pastor, and both she and her husband were imprisoned in concentration camps abroad. Their younger son, a student for the ministry, is still confined in a concentration camp. The third member of the group is a French woman who has had no word from her family in France for over a year. It is out of the experiences of these people that this program is made.

Mrs. Edward Escolme is general chairman of the meeting. Special music will be provided by Mrs. J. H. Hellman, accompanied by Mrs. N. Hart.

The speaker for the day will be a representative from the Hebrew Christian Mission in Detroit.

An interesting side light to this World Day of Prayer is that somewhere in each of the twenty-four hours of this day on the earth's surface, there will be similar groups meeting to offer up their prayers for Peace.

3,102 Register, 242 In Tecumseh

NUMBER IS ABOUT 1,000 SHORT OF THAT EXPECTED BY DRAF BOARD IN ADRIAN

Some 3,102 men, of which 242 were from Tecumseh, registered on Monday for selective military service, the Lenawee County Draft Board has reported. The age limit was between 20 and 46 years, and the registration produced approximately 1,000 less men than was anticipated.

Reports from Adrian disclosed that 1,100 of the men registered on Monday were from that city and the remaining 2,000 from the villages and ruarl areas.

Registration here was at the council building, and was in charge of H. H. Hanna, township clerk, assisted by volunteer assistants. Mr. Hanna returned his cards to the county board at Adrian on Tuesday, and the Adrian board in turn sends the cards to the state headquarters at Lansing.

The Lenawee board will follow the procedure of all boards throughout the country in assigning numbers to men registered in the third enrollment under the selective service act. Later they will shuffle the cards and allot serial numbers. A national lottery will be held probably next month and order numbers will be based on the drawings.

The new order numbers will be placed at the bottom of the list of numbrs from pervious registrants. It is expected that all men at present listed in class 1-A will be called before any from the new list are drafted.

A REAL COMMUNITY PROBLEM—

Tecumseh, at the present moment, is face-to-face with the most serious housing shortage in its history. Insofar as we have been able to learn, there is not a single house available for renting within the corporate limits. Some of the older, larger houses have been made into apartments, but they are filled. Except for a furnished room or two there is nothing available for the dozens of persons who each week are combing the town for living quarters.

This acute housing condition has crept upon Tecumseh gradually. It has been coming for about seven years. About four years ago there began a wave of building, yet despite the fact that more than 100 new homes have been constructed here since 1937 the condition has and is growing steadily worse.

The fact that Tecumseh faces a housing shortage is a community problem. It is a problem that should be given serious consideration by the Chamber of Commerce, the merchants and business men. It is a problem that must be met, if Tecumseh is to grow. It is a problem that today is costing Tecumseh business men thousands of dollar worth of trade every week.

How is it costing Tecumseh business men money? It is a safe bet that between 400 and 500 men employed in Tecumseh at the present time do not live here. They drive here from Clinton, Britton, Ridgeway, Tipton, Blissfield, Adrian and from rural farm homes. They earn their money here, they get their checks cashed here, but do they spend their money here? The answer is no. There are hundreds of thousands of dollars going out of Tecumseh every year—money that was earned in Tecumseh factories—that should and would stay here if the families of these employees lived here. We can't, then, blame the men entirely for not spending here. They're following the slogan we've preached for years, "Buy at Home." Their home isn't here.

Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Company—Tecumseh's largest employer of labor—recognized this condition years ago. He was on his toes. What did he do? He made it possible for many of his men to build homes here. He gave them the price of the lot to get them started. Directly and indirectly, it is safe to say that Mr. Herrick and his factory have been responsible for the building of far more than half of the new houses built here in the last four years.

But the building of new homes here, the expansion of Tecumseh's residential and business section is not a problem for Mr. Herrick, alone. It is, as we said before, a community problem, a problem that's mighty important to the business man who wants to keep these hundreds of thousands of dollars in Tecumseh cash registers.

True, the war with its priorities, etc., has somewhat restricted building. Materials are not flowing in natural business channels as rapidly as they did before. But there's a mighty good possibility that Tecumseh will be declared a defense area, and if it is we will be able to go on with our building program, perhaps faster than we did before.

But it takes more than words to start a buidling program. It takes initiative, planning and cooperation. The need is here—the need for immediate construction of from 50 to 100 or more new houses—but who is going to take the initiative? Who's going to do the pushing?

We can't expect Mr. Herrick to do it all. He's busy running a factory, he's bringing the men here who are anxious and ready to occupy the houses if we had them. He's putting hundreds of thousands of dollars in the pockets of these men, dollars that they would spend here if this was their home.

If Tecumseh is declared a defense area let's get busy. Certainly, with government financial assistance, it would not be a difficult job to build 50 or more new houses before next fall.

Let's do more than talk about it, because the longer we talk the longer we allow these hundreds of thousands of dollars to flow out of the channels of Tecumseh business.

101,500 PERSONS KILLED IN 1941—

One out of every forty-one persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury, according to the 1941 report of the National Safety Council which shows that 101,500 persons were killed in accidents during the same twelve months.

As a cause of death, accidents were exceeded only by heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemmorhage and nephritis, or kidney diseases.

It is also estimated that 9,300,000 citizens suffered accidental injures which resulted in death. Altogether, the economic loss, covering medical expenses, overhead, cost of insurance and property damage exceeded $3,750,000,000.

While all accidents are not available, many can be prevented by the exercise of ordinary common sense. This is especially true in regard to vehicular accidents which caused the death of 40,000 per cent over the 34,501 deaths recorded people in 1941, an increase of sixteen in 1940.

Fall, second to traffic accidents as a cause of death, were fatal in 26,000 instances. Drownings claimed 7,000 victims and 6,900 persons died of burns.

Individuals who spend much money to avoid death by heart disease, cancer and other afflictions, fail to expend thought and energy necessary to prevent accidents. As a nation, we, blithely accept the huge toll of dead and maimed, especially in regard to our highways, with scarcely more than a passing thought.

The day is dawning when the people of this country will place a high premium on character instead of on the amount of possessions.

Hard work will not kill anybody, but we know some fellows who are playing safe.

A Cheerful Fire ... a Happy Home

There is nothing more cheerful, more peaceful than your own home on a winter evening—if its properly heated.

Yes, we realize that the heating of the home is sometimes a problem, but you'll find it much less of a problem if you burn fuel that is suited to your furnace; fuel that holds fire over night, does not clinker and is free of ash.

That kind of fuel gives you greater comfort, added efficiency and true economy. It means less firing of your furnace, fewer ashes to be carried out, and greater comfort for your family.

If you are having fuel troubles, bring them to us. Buying and selling coal is our business, and we'll do our best to solve your problems.

Remember, We're Interested in Saving Your Fuel Dollars

How LONG is 5 Minutes?

Time passes quickly when you are talking by telephone with a friend. But minutes can seem like hours to someone who is trying to reach you when your line is busy. So, to enable important calls to reach you more readily and as a favor to your friends, we suggest that you limit telephone conversations to five minutes or less whenever practical and that you wait at least one minute before placing another call.

Communication

I would like to appeal to the dog owners of Tecumseh and vicinity to be sure that your dogs are kept at home, especially at night. There have been an unsual number of sheep killed this season, and even if your dogs have not been to blame they are very apt to get in bad company if allowed to run at large.

Since October I have sent in claims for dead and injured sheep totaling more than $200 and that would not cover all the damage.

If such damage can be proven to be caused by dogs whose owners are known, the owners are liable for such damages. Please be sure that it isn't your dog and then no one will lose.

W. G. Waldron, Justice.

Do All FOUR And In Addition SAVE Time And Money . . . .

FOLLOW THE U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE'S RECOMMENDATION to PRESERVE the VITAMIN VALUE IN FOOD with "WATERLESS" COOKING

Ladies, put an end to cooking waste. Now as never before is the time to take full advantage of the health-saving, time-saving, vitamin-saving features your electric range affords. Follow the vitamin-saving waterless cooking method. Your electric range is designed to do this job to the letter.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT VITAMIN-SAVING

★ Use little or no water
By avoiding excess amounts of cooking liquid, water-soluble vitamins are saved.

★ Roast with odorless, drafty less heat
Odorless heat protects the delicate and delicious flavors of meat. Drafiless heat dries out dry up natural meat juices.

★ Avoid violent boiling-stirring
Cooking with gentle, evenly distributed heat reduces stirring and introduced air which frequently destroys certain vitamins.

★ Cook in covered utensils
Wasted heat with consequent loss of vitamins is kept to a minimum.

Vitamins are valuable . . . don't pour them down the drain!

Waterless cooking helps keep vitamins in the food, saves minerals and rich natural juices, too. That's why foods taste better and are more nourishing.

Planning of meals is most important if you are to have a properly proportioned and balanced menu. Equally important, however, is the cooking operation.

Don't pay good money for nourishing food — and then lose the health-giving vitamins when you cook it. You can be sure that the meals you cook will build strong young bodies and promote good health by observing the simple rules at the right.

The Three Dimensions Of

1. PAID CIRCULATION

No advertising medium can be effective unless it reaches people WHO WANT IT. Every week The Tecumseh Herald goes into the homes of Tecumseh and surrounding communities. It is the medium that covers both the village and rural area. The circulation is PAID CIRCULATION —indicating that these readers want THE HERALD and are willing to pay for it.

2. TYPE OF CIRCULATION

No advertising can be effective unless it is read by the people who are ABLE TO BUY the articles advertised. The Herald reaches the homes that can afford a newspaper—and the things advertised in a newspaper. They represent the buying power of Tecumseh and vicinity —people with jobs, farmers who are producing and selling their products.

3. READER CONFIDENCE

No advertising medium can be effective unless it is believed by the people who read it. It must be read and preferred for news and editorials as well as advertising information. This reader confidence is attained only over a period of years—after the medium has proved it is worthy of that confidence. THE HERALD has this reader confidence—evidenced by the fact that people voluntarily choose to pay for The Herald because they want to read it, and for no other reason.

Blood Bank Car Here March 16

MORE THAN 75 ALREADY HAVE OFFERED BLOOD FOR RED CROSS; 300 SOUGHT

With more than 75 persons already willing and ready to "give a pint of blood" for the American Red Cross, the Rev. O. V. Robinson, in charge of Tecumseh's blood bank contribution, declared today he expected the village to reach its goal of 300 donors before March 16, the date set for the arrival of Red Cross doctors and nurses in charge of the program.

"The response to our appeal for blood donors is very gratifying," the Rev. Mr. Robinson said. "Every day I have one or two more persons stop me on the street to say that they will be glad to contribute. I feel certain thatb y the time the blood bank truck reaches us, the third Monday in March, we will have 300 or more donors."

Persons, desiring to aid in the Red Cross program, which is state and nation-wide, may contact either Mr. Robinson or Perry Hayden, Ralph Oliver, Yale Kerby, W. D. Hite, C. W. Gilman or F. A. Bowen.

The blood bank truck, which carries a doctor and six nurses, will arrive here the morning of the sixteenth and will set up its equipment in the parlors of the Methodist church. The actual work will begin at 12:30, and if it is not completed on Tuesday the "bank" may remain over another day.

"There's nothing to giving blood," Mr. Robinson said, "I've done it. You don't feel anything, more than a pin prick. Afterwards, there's no ill effects. Modern science permits the mixing of blood, the removal of the plazma, which is stored and mixed with sterile water, when needed. With such a process, it is no longer necessary to type blood. It is a great saving of time and life, when necessary."

Mr. Robinson pointed out that any person between the age of 20 and 50 is eligible as a blood donor. Before the blood is taken patients are thoroughly examined, to determine that they are able to give blood without ill effects.

Mr. Farmer— What About Your Income Tax?

Mr. Farmer: Are you keeping a record of your income and expenses? Do you know exactly how much money your farm is returning to you in cash, regardless of your expense? Will you be able to make an income tax return that will satisfy your government?

If you are looking for an easy-to-keep farm record system, you can get it at The Herald. The book is regularly priced at $6.50, but The Herald is offering it for $1.75 plus a year's subscription to the newspaper. Under a single cover you have an itemized list of your entire year's receipts and expenses, making it very easy for you to compile your tax statement.

Drop in and see the "Agricultural Records." We think you'll agree that it will help you to keep a record that will satisfy your government.

For your information, Single individuals, or married individuals not living with wife or husband or wife, having a GROSS INCOME of $750 or more a year must file a return. Married individuals living together, having a combined GROSS INCOME of $1,500 or more must file a return. A return must be filed even though, by reason of allowable deductions from the gross income and of allowable credits against net income, it develops that no tax is due.

Comply with the tax laws and avoid tax entanglements by keeping a record of your receipts and expenses, and by filing a tax return if it is necessary

Public View on School Defense Program Asked

MILITARY TRAINING IN HIGH SCHOOL UNDER CONSIDERATION BY OFFICIALS

The training of junior and senior male students of Tecumseh high school in military drilling, technique, etc., in keeping with the local Civilian Defense Program, has been requested by Edward C. Heilman, chairman of the Tecumseh defense committee and chief air raid warden. The program already has been submitted to the board of education and W. L. Berkhof, superintendent, and the village council, but it will not be placed in effect until the public's reaction to such a movement has been ascertained.

"Similar training is being offered to junior and senior boys in other schools in Michigan," Mr. Heilman said, "and I am sure that it would be well received here, and of great benefit. If the war continues for long, many of the boys now juniors and seniors, will be active army duty. If they have the benefit of training in the school, they will be better soldiers. They will find it much easier to adjust themselves to army life, they will know what it means to obey orders, and they will know how to follow commands. Also, Heilman continued, "in the event of an emergency locally, the boys would be of added service in first aid work, etc."

The program was discussed at length this week by school and village authorities, and on Tuesday, Louis Schneider, past commander of the local Legion post, presented it to Rotary club. The school board and Mr. Heilman are now awaiting public reaction to the program, to learn whether or not parents here would object to their sons receiving such training. Interested persons are requested to make known their opinions to either Mr. Berkhof or members of the board.

In the event the program is launched, it was said that the training might be directed by Legion members—veterans of the first World War—or possibly by a regular military officer.

Family Night Enjoyed By Nutrition Club

The Comfort Nutrition Club met for Family Night Friday evening at the Centennial school with a pot luck supper at 7 o'clock in charge of Mrs. C. C. Richard and Mrs. Fred Anderson. The program under the direction of Mrs. Raynor Kerr consisted of a piano duet by Mrs J. L. Calhoun and Mrs. Roland Fairbanks; vocal solos by Richard Graf, accompanied by Claribel Kerr; accordion solo by Marlou Gilman; original poem "Vitamins" by Mrs. Calhoun; songs by the Boys Quartet from Holloway. Bob and Bill German, Robert De Groot, and Lawrence Kopke, accompanied by Barbara De Groot; movies of Pearl Harbor, furnished by Dr. Roy Britton and shown by Elmer Chapman.

The next meeting will be an all day meeting March 4, at the home of Mrs. C. C. Richard.

JUNIOR D. A. R. IS ORGANIZED HERE

At a meeting held in the home of Miss Marion Whelan last Wednesday evening, a Junior group of the D. A. R. was formed with eight charter members. Miss Whelan was appointed chairman and Mrs. Eugene Fisher, secretary of the group which will meet twice each month. Misses Betty Heidenreich and Bertine Walker were named social committee for the next meeting to be held March 4. A social hour and refreshments concluded the meeting.

ICE RINK POPULAR

The ice rink at the Recreation Center is proving popular with children and adults, and nightly a number of skaters take advantage of the large frozen surface. Thus far, the rink has not been lighted, but steps to have one or two of the large flood lights turned from the gridiron to the rink may be urged if interest in the sport continues to grow.

War Gardening Program Ready

REV. EDWARD ESCOLME HEADS TECUMSEH COMMITTEE; SURVEY IS UNDER WAY

A survey of the village of Tecumseh, to determine exactly the number of available garden plots that might be planted during the coming summer as "Victory Gardens" was launched this week by high school students, under the direction of C. R. Dustin, principal. As quickly as the canvass has been finished, a map will be drafted under the supervision of George Parsons, agricultural instructor, and submitted to a class in Home Economics.

The survey is being made at the direction of the Rev. Edward Escolme, chairman of the "Victory Gardens" campaign in Tecumseh, who was named at an organization meeting, held last Thursday evening at Freez-it Lockers. At this meeting Mrs. Gene Chamberlain presided, and the other members elected were Mrs. Neil Pearson, E. C. Brandt, Perry Hayden, George Parsons and Miss Marion Whelan. This group will have charge of the gardening program locally.

In announcing the launching of the campaign, the Rev. Mr. Escolme pointed out that the committee has no idea of permitting the project to overlap with any other similar activities, such as the Garden Club of Tecumseh, the high school agricultural department, or in the Ford Schools.

To obtain further information on the program, as is requested by state and federal officials, Mr. Escolme, with Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Hazel Barnard of Clinton, will attend a state meeting on "Victory Gardens" at Michigan State College, East Lansing, today.

Berkhof Accepts Job as Defense Savings Head

W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, in a letter this week to Mayor J. Floyd Elliott, formally accepted the post as chairman of the Defense Savings Committee in Tecumseh, succeeding Frank K. Smith, who resigned because of the pressure of work.

Mr. Berkhof's letter to the mayor follows:

"It is with a very humble spirit that I accept the appointment as executive chairman of the Defense Savings Committee in our community. In doing so I am motivated by only one consideration, namely, the present pressing need for willing service.

"Our community has been fortunate indeed to have as its initial leader in this work Frank Smith under whose direction much fine progress has been made. The necessity of his resignation has, I know, been a cause of regret for many who have served under him. I am confident, however, from my knowledge of our community, that the same splendid and liberal response which was given to the appeal for funds under his leadership will be forthcoming in the future, and that Tecumseh citizens will show the same fine spirit of leadership in the program which has been evident in all of their civic and industrial projects. This spirit, and this alone, I feel, can carry our community and our country through these difficult days."

NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES MAY BE OFFERED HERE

Adults and out-of-school youth, interested in evening classes in typing and shorthand, are urged immediately to advise W. D. School Active In Defense Aid

BERKHOF OUTLINES PROGRAM TO ROTARIANS; ROBINSON, SCHNEIDER SPEAK

The Tecumseh public schools are daily becoming more active in the civilian defense program, and as the result an outline, definitely establishing responsibility in connection with the various tasks, has been drafted by W. L. Berkhof, superintendent, who discussed the program on Tuesday when he spoke before the Rotary Club.

"It is not only the factories in the nation that are being made over for national defense," he said, "the schools are being changed over, too, to meet the emergency. Here in Tecumseh we have made many changes, and probably we will make more. Everyone has added work, and it is now the duty of my office to see to it that all departments function smoothly."

Listed under the civilian defense school program, the superintendent mentioned air raid programs, the sale of defense stamps, the junior Red Cross, victory gardens, fire prevention and fire control, sugar rationing and physical education. Under home economics there is the budgeting and preserving of war-time food, a national farm program, defense training and model plane construction, citizenship, and high school air raid programs.

Louis Schneider also spoke to the club briefly, asking the members to consider the possibility of a military training program in the high school for boys of the junior and senior grades. Mr. Schneider favored the plan, declaring he believed it would be of much benefit.

The Rev. O. V. Robinson, chairman of the Red Cross blood bank in Tecumseh, discussed this program briefly, urging Rotarians to support the movement.

LET'S GET BETTER ACQUAINTED—

The last new car has come off the assembly lines until the war is over. New tires are not to be had, except in unusual circumstances, and to the average person, accustomed to driving here and there at will, the miles suddenly have grown long again.

For many years now, each season has made the country, the state and the nation, a smaller place as cars were improved and new roads constructed. Many have shopped regularly in towns that were a day's journey away in our grandmother's time and a neighbor has been anyone in twenty miles. We've been accustomed to driving to the next state—maybe Canada—for our Sunday dinner and, on vacations, we've covered half the continent.

Now, almost overnight, there are fewer automobiles on the highways. An out-of-state license plate begins to become a curiosity and we think twice about the twelve mile drive over to the county seat.

But it's not only the actual physical changes in our everyday life that we've noticed. There's a new feeling in the very air, with the automobile something to use only when necessary and then, carefully, at about 40 miles an hour instead of the imprudent 60 or 70. We are beginning to settle down and look around us; to dig in, as it were, and discover nearby friends and stores and entertainment. We're beginning to think about the beginnings of this country and why it was our great-grandparents were willing to endure the hardships of pioneer life.

It's not going to be long before boys of 14 and 15 will understand for the first time in their lives what the world might have been like 50 years ago before the railroads, busses and cars. Girls of 17 and 18, whose boy friends have been accustomed to taking them 30 to 50 miles to a dance, will, in a few months get, some place with their knitting. Pa and Ma, too, who seldom saw their children except at dinner time — on nights between bridge parties—soon may again become acquainted with their families.

It may be a little difficult to adjust ourselves to a war-time world in which there's a limit on cars, tires, and perhaps gasoline These things have become to us Americans almost as common as air and water and just about as necessary. A while back we wouldn't have thought we could possibly get along without them. Now we know we can—for the sake of Victory. In fact, we could get along with the horse and buggy and the railroad to take us on long journeys. So let's not complain but make the most of this time of enforced slowing down. Let's enjoy our homes more and be friends with the people who are near us. We can find plenty of fun in hiking, bike riding and community picnics

When the war is over and the automotive industry can turn from war work to passenger vehicles once more, we'll have better cars than ever—because new things about motors and streamlining are being learned every day. We'll have thousands more planes, too; some say "flivver" planes for regular family use and all say transports for freight, as well as passengers.

This is the land of mass production, you know—the country where industry can provide enough of things to go all the way round so that everybody—regardless of his job—can drive to work in his own automobile. And where the future is always more abundant than the past.

DON'T LET SCARE HEADLINES
DISCOURAGE YOU From BUILDING NOW!
THE PENALTY IS TOO SEVERE

Don't be misled. Scare headlines may shout otherwise about the effect of Priorities, but it is still possible to build new homes and remodel existing homes. If you have been considering building, it will pay you to read this message which is stated as factually as we know how to make it.

If you want to build a large, expensive home, you will have troubles. There is no law against building it, but you will have difficulty securing some of the materials. As you would assume, it requires a considerable number and volume of critical materials, mostly metals, and these come under priority. Government frowns on using large quantities of critical materials in one house. Your chance of building a large home, while still possible, is difficult, and will become even more difficult each month that you delay.

Early Start is Helpful

If you want to build a small home—one costing $6000 or less—you should experience little or no difficulty. There are still huge supplies on hand of virtually all the materials needed. If some shortage should develop, it would be possible to substitute non-critical materials. Homes like this can be built—without difficulty — if a start is made promptly. Even in this group, some of the materials come under the priority program, so it would seem advisable, if intending to build, to start now, while materials are available, rather than to wait until these critical materials become less available.

If you want to remodel an existing home, you should encounter no difficulty whatever. Every home that is made more usable by remodeling obviously requires far less materials to build it new. The government recognizes this. Remodeling has the "green light." You can start without any misgivings.

If you want to build a new home, a new barn or other buildings on a farm, you should have no trouble. American farms must be made more livable, provide increased storage space for crops, and have sheds to house farm machinery, if the greatly expanded food raising program is to be possible. Only restriction here would be if you sought to build a large, expensive home in the country. Even this probably could be done if you act promptly; it will become less possible the longer you delay.

The situation is this: No matter what you plan to build or remodel, your chances of avoiding shortages will decrease with each month you delay starting.

HOW ABOUT COSTS?

So much for material shortages. Equally important to you as a builder or a remodeler of a home, or farm building, is the matter of cost. What will happen to labor rates? What is the anticipated trend in building material prices?

Roy Wenzlick, Pres. Real Estate Analysts, Inc., of St. Louis, Mo., is considered an outstanding authority on price movements in the building and real estate field. He is adviser to insurance companies, banks and individuals whose investments are primarily in real estate. Wenzlick states that both labor rates and material prices are due to climb upward for approximately two years, and that it probably "will be ten years or more before building costs decline to their present levels."

Wenzlick affirms that this will happen despite the various price ceilings and other controls that Government already has inaugurated or plans to inaugurate. He believes that about the only way the average family can hedge against the coming decade of inflation, is to build or buy a home That will assure the family of a fixed monthly sum for housing, and is virtually the only item in the family budget that they will be able to determine for themselves in the era of inflation that already has started.

All that is stated above is true—today—for Defense areas and, in the main, for non-Defense areas also. There is no prohibition of building whatever where the materials are available. And, we repeat, they are available today. We invite you to come in and discuss your building problem with us.

"THE BEST HEDGE THE AVERAGE FAMILY CAN MAKE AGAINST INFLATION IS TO INVEST NOW IN A HOME OF THEIR OWN"

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING, February 26.—Can it be true that the people of Michigan are endangered by war?

The state legislature this week is holding another emergency special session.

Approximately 500,000 Michigan men registered this week for possible military duty.

And yet newspaper headlines continue to record events which seemingly contradict evidence that we are at war and must make great sacrifices.

First, consider the definition of "endangered". We assume when Michigan lives are lost, when Michigan young men are put in jeopardy of death, sufficient proof exists this is a serious affair: Our two-ocean war of 1942. It is true Michigan cities have not been bombed. No enemy air fleet has attacked Sault Ste. Marie, our Michigan Panama canal for vital iron ore. But Michigan young men are dying just the same. What are they fighting to defend?

Does a feeling of complacency exist among Michigan citizens about the outcome of the war?

Here is a question that cannot be answered categorically. We can only surmise an answer.

It can be observed truthfully, we believe, that we Americans take for granted that we are going to win the war ultimately. Our vaunted superiority in industrial arms, plus our tremendous manpower, surely should be sufficient to insure victory. We Americans have never lost a war. To lose a war is almost an impossibility as any one who remembers its history books can tell you. It just can't happen—or can it?

Is Michigan lagging in civilian defense preparations?

Here again is a question extremely difficult to answer in one word. It depends upon each citizen's definition of "lagging" in proportion to the general objectives of what is needed to be done.

Lieut. Colonel D. E. Squier, who has been assigned by General Cummings of the Sixth Corps Area to the sixth civilian defense region with offices in Chicago, made this statement last Wednesday(February 11) to the Michigan Council of Defense:

"We in the regional office at Chicago consider the work being done in Michigan the leading work in this region. You here in this state are far ahead of most of the states of the Middle-West. When I saw what was being done here and when I saw the earnestness with which fire chiefs were taking up their work at a scool this morning and when I saw the preparation which had been made for instructing them, I was proud to say that I was a Michigander."

When is enough enough? Must our degree of preparedness depend upon future Pearl Harbors?

Who is making the sacrifices, anyway?

Newspaper headlines record the news that Singapore, Allied Na'tins' "Gibraltar of the East"—the great naval fortress which military experts told us was impregnable against enemy assault—has fallen to the Japanese.

We are told the loss of Signapore may be litened to the loss of England from the American viewpoint. Washington officials say it may add a YEAR to the war. A year of what?

"C.I.O. Denmands Wage Increase" is another headline.

Let us read on. The C.I.O. demands the following from General Motors:

1. The closed shop with extended authority in plant management.
2. A wage increase of $1 per day with "readjustment" every three months.
3. A $100 defense bond in lieu of vacations.
4. Stricter seniority provisions.
5. More power for the "impartial umpire" to interpret contract provisions.

General Motors wages in cents per hour are 42 per cent ABOVE the national average.

A year of what?

"Two-Man Dispute Closes Ford Dept." Here is another headline.

What were the workers making in the Ford department? Just tools and dies. How were the tools and dies to be used? Just to make bomber planes. An why are the bombers needed? To fight a war that we're going to win anyway—or will we?

"University Head Sees Near Defeat". Just another headline, this time quoting an address by the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, vice-president of Georgetown University, who said: "I don't believe that 20 per cent of our people realize we are at war. They will not apparently until the first casualties are made known and the first bombs start to fall...It is not defeatism to talk of defeat; it is prudence."

Is this "war-mongering"?

A plan is being prepared to set aside one per cent of all available raw materials to keep small manufacturers from going out of business. The small businesses that can draw on this one per cent will be defined by industry committee being organized under OPM.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matthew 16:13, 16): "When Jesus came into the coasts of Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."

Knights of Pythias Lodge Has Birthday

The Knights of Pythias, one of the world's greatest fraternal societies, and one of two to be founded in the United States marked its seventy-eighth birthday on Thursday, February 19.

Although this order was founded in Washington, D. C. on February 19, 1864, when Washington Lodge No. 1 was instituted, it had its actual beginning in Michigan in 1858, when the ritual was written here.

Justus H. Rathbone, a graduate of Madison University, New York, come to Eagle Harbor, Keweenaw county, in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan in 1858, to teach a country school. Shortly before coming here, Rathbone had seen a play, based on the immortal story of the friendship of Damon and Pythias, enacted in New York. After coming here, an amateur theatrical society was founded in Eagle Harbor community, to help pass the long winter evenings. Rathbone was one of the organizers of this society, and one of the plays enacted was based on the Damon and Pythias story. Enacting this play, Rathbone became so impressed with the story of the friendship of these two ancient Greeks that an idea for a new fraternal order occurred to him. Inspired, he wrote the ritual one evening in the school house where he taught the three "R's". A few years later he was in Washington, and showed the ritual to several of the nation's highest officials. By a special act of Congress, a charter was granted for the founding of the Knights of Pythias order, and the Washington lodge was instituted with five charter members.

From this humble beginning on the bleak shores of Lake Superior this fraternal order has spread all over the United States and the Dominion of Canada with subordinate lodges in small hamlets and large cities. The school house today is a shrine of the Knights of Pythias order.

In commemoration of the anniversary of the founding of the order, many subordinate lodges in the Grand Domain of Michigan are planning celebrations of the event.

Emphasizing the fact that the Knights of Phythias are a truly great American fraternal order, Ray H. Burrell, of Ypsilanti, Grand Chancellor of the organization in Michigan, this week announced that all subordinate lodges in the state would enroll their members in civilian defense corps in their own localities.

Burrell said that many younger members of the order were already serving in the armed forces of our country, and the enrollment of the balance of the membership in civilian defense groups would further aid our nation in the war effort.

Knights of Pythias lodges were already selling defense stamps during their lodge meetings, and many lodges have purchased defense bonds from lodge funds, he said.

Burrell pointed out that the order was the first to salute the American flag at the opening and closing of each lodge session, and has always been an order dedicated to American principles and opposed to all subversive activities.

"As this order, founded in Washington, D. C., and granted a charter by a special act of Congress, served to weld our nation together after the civil war, so will we put forth every effort to bolster the morale of our great nation in this World War II," Mr. Burrell said.

WE LEARNED A LESSON FROM AN APPLE TO BRING YOU

AGED-IN, SEALED-IN FLAVOR

The protective skin of the apple is not there by accident. It's Nature's way of guarding the flavor and keeping out harmful elements until the fruit is fully matured. In the same way, ALTES' exclusive sealed-in process (closed instead of open vats) keeps in all the natural flavor and aroma of the beer—keeps anything harmful out. That's why ALTES BEER is so light, mellow and wholesome.

Keep Game Licenses, Is Warning of State

LANSING.—You should hang onto that small game hunting license, even if the small game season is over, the conservation department is advising sportsmen who will be seeking gun permits for shooting crows, bobcats and other non-game animals, and for target practice.

If a hunter loses his license, dated to expire September 30, 1942, he must pay 50 cents for a duplicate before he can obtain a gun permit, which is issued free. Old permits now in use should be exchanged for new ones by next month, the department has announced.

The new permits have no expiration date, but must be accompanied by a current small game license. They will be void in the 15 days preceding the opening of small game season and in the hours between sunset and sunrise in that part of the state north of Bay City.

And in view of federal and state regulations on firearms, conservation department officials issuing the permits add that no enemy aliens need apply.

This year some of the modern appliances you planned to put into that dream kitchen of yours—to bring you new leisure, lighten your kitchen tasks and save steps—may be hard to get due to curtailed production because of the WAR.

But such a temporary setback should not discourage you. Here's a suggestion. Why not take the money you planned to spend for those appliances you cannot now obtain and invest it in United States Defense Bonds and Stamps? When the WAR is over and America returns to peacetime production, those appliances will again be plentiful and your funds thus saved will be available to you to complete that "dream" kitchen.

A thrifty, practical and patriotic idea, don't you think? You help Uncle Sam... and he'll help you!

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

The Three Dimensions Of

Newspaper Advertising Value

1. PAID CIRCULATION

No advertising medium can be effective unless it reaches people WHO WANT IT. Every week The Tecumseh Herald goes into the homes of Tecumseh and surrounding communities. It is the medium that covers both the village and rural area. The circulation is PAID CIRCULATION—indicating that these readers want THE HERALD and are willing to pay for it.

2. TYPE OF CIRCULATION

No advertising can be effective unless it is read by the people who are ABLE TO BUY the articles advertised. The Herald reaches the homes that can afford a newspaper—and the things advertised in a newspaper. They represent the buying power of Tecumseh and vicinity—people with jobs, farmers who are producing and selling their products.

3. READER CONFIDENCE

No advertising medium can be effective unless it is believed by the people who read it. It must be read and preferred for news and editorials as well as advertising information. This reader confidence is attained only over a period of years—after the medium has proved it is worthy of that confidence. Efficiency May Be GOP Slogan

SECRETARY OF STATE KELLY IS MOST LIKELY TO HEAD REPUBLICAN SLATE

LANSING, Feb. 26 — More efficiency in our war effort may be the 1942 battle cry of Michigan Republicans.

When a war is going well, citizens are usually satisfied with the men who are running the war. But when military reverses come, Singapore, for example—the same citizens awaken from general complacency to demand better and more vigorous leadership.

It is ironical, in a way, that frequently this is the case. Too often it was the same leadership which encountered indifference, if not outright resistance, to suggestions that the enemy might reach our own shores. Then when the enemy approaches nearer, the same public turns in partial panic upon their own leaders for "failure to act."

Such may be the case in Michigan.

When you get alarmed, you get mad. And angry voters are apt to vote for a change.

If military defeats continue to accumulate, and the likelihood is that they will as we prepare men and equipment for battle, Republicans may find themselves armed with a psychological weapon made to order for victory in November.

This is mere observation, not prediction.

Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner has been accused of political favoritism in appointment of county councils of defense, tire rationing officials and even Red Cross chairmen.

He countered with a statement that only 48 per cent of his appointees were Democrats, that the state council of defense was "overwhelmingly Republican."

Republican congressmen, such as Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott, charge the national administration with failure to tell the truth about our losses at Pearl Harbor. Wolcott declared recently in Lapeer that eight out of nine American capital ships, light and heavy cruisers and battleships, as well as 473 bomber planes, were "destroyed".

President Roosevelt said in a press conference last week that this sort of rumor was "rot." And he spelled it out—"r-o-t."

"Under certain conditions", the President added, the enemy could drop bombs on Detroit—a statement that is said to have startled reporters at his press conference.

German submarines have sunk numerous American oil tankers off the Atlantic coast. Dutch oil refineries were damaged by shells fired from an enemy submarine cruising only a few hundred miles from the Panama canal.

Loss of Singapore and the prospect that the Japanese will make a clean sweep of Sumatra, Java and other Pacific strongholds have sent a wave of alarm over Allied Nations.

Senator David I. Walsh, Massachusetts Democrat, chairman of the Naval Affairs committee, declared on the Senate floor the coasts of the United States were "almost defenseless" and it might be necessary to "bring back our Navy from the four corners of the earth simply to protect our shores.

Other straws in the wind as to 1942 Republican strategy:

Rep. Dewey Short, Missouri congressman: "Lack of leadership in Washington has contributed to a feeling of complacency. Until that smugness has disappeared, we are in danger of losing this war."

Rep. William W. Blackney of Flint: "This is no time for petty politics. America is on fire. It is our duty to put out the fire."

Senator Arthur Vandenburg: "The liner Normandie was not sunk by an enemy at sea. It was sunk by an enemy at home—which is definitely more ominous — and that "enemy' was either sabotage or negligence."

Foremost in the Republican limelight is Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly. Kelly was not caught in the draft in the World war, but he may be in this one. The "Draft Kelly for Governor" campaign, launched months ago, is gathering momentum.

Kelly is from Detroit where much of the Van Wagoner political strength has centered. He was wounded while fighting in France. As secretary of state he has talked comparatively little; like Coolidge he has built a reputation of being a man of strength as well as a man of action.

Many Republican strategists in the winter hot-stove league believe Kelly is a logical choice to head the 1942 ticket.

Kelly's pronouncements, made in a recent series of public addresses, include these remarks:

"We stand behind the administration 100 per cent in the prosecution of the war, but we also support the party whose principles we hold sacred."

"This is a time of trial and sacrifice for America, and as in every such crisis, we turn to Lincoln, the man of the common people, for help and guidance."

"Americans have always been opposed to dictatorship and oppression of any kind by government. We stand for liberty, knowing that when man has been free, the world has gone ahead, and when man has been enslaved, the world has gone backward."

"In the next election we shall continue to maintain the two-party system and the Republicans are going to fight to win."

Mentioned for lieutenant governor, as a running mate for Kelly (if Kelly chooses to run and wins the nomination), are Howard Nugent of Bad Axe, spaker of the house; Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, successful editor, crusader against "boss control" and a former state legislator; Don Vander-Werp of Fremont who is credited by many with starting the Kelly band-wagon months ago and who is serving his third term in the state senate over which the lieutenant governor presides; and Dr. Eugene B. Keyes of Dearborn, the dentist-physician darkhorse who outran a field of prominent veterans two years ago.

Because Keyes surprised politicians two years ago by soaring out of the blue, like a blazing comet, hot-stove leaguers have already coined a 1942 slogan: "Kelly and Keyes." But the public is notorious for its short memory; 1942 is a brand new year.

Muri DeFoe, former state liquor commissioner, recently attended the state convention of supervisors in Lansing. Returning to Charlotte, he wrote of political gossip at the state capitol, offering these pungent observations in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune:

"Gov. Van Wagoner's friends are trying to switch Secretary Harry Kelly (R) to become a candidate for senator with their back curtain support, and if successful in this they don't care who is named against VanWagoner; many folks think this was the technique that gave Michigan to Willkie.

"That Frank McKay, now in Florida, really wants to see Van Wagoner defeated; that the Republican party will be just a memory if it loses, that Elton Eaton (Plymouth) is almost certain to be in the primary for a top post, probably governor on an all-out anti-boss platform, which if true would certainly disturb the politicians major primary battle, and parties who have been trying to avoid any unduly the knockdown-drag-out campaign that Eaton would put on; that Vern Brown disappointed many friends when he eliminated himself from the governorship contest."

All this speculation leads to a few conclusions:

1. The American people are united in a grim determination to win the war whatever the cost. But they do demand efficiency. If this requires scrapping a few public officials, the latter will be retired overnight. Mad voters are apt to favor a change.

2. If this trend of public opinion continues, Governor Van Wagoner may take another lesson from F. D. R.'s notebook and sacrifice a few favorites to appease the multitude. Departments may be "reorganized"; new "reforms" proclaimed with great flourish; more Republicans given positions in the war program.

3. The two-party system of government, providing a ballot box accounting of what is being done and is not being done, should contribute to greater war efficiency regardless of the November election outcome.

Declares War Is a Challenge To Home Town

SECRETARY OF MICHIGAN PRESS ASSOCIATION SPEAKS TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Declaring that he believed that before the war is over every able-bodied man between the ages of 31 and 46 years, who can possibly be spared and who is not indispensible in his services will be wearing a military unform, Gene Alleman, secretary of the Michigan Press Association, East Lansing, warned Tecumseh on Tuesday evening that "we must make sacrifices TODAY and not tomorrow" if we intend to win the war against our Axis enemies.

"I'm not a pessimist," Mr. Alleman said, "but must we have our own Pearl Harbor before we wake up to the immediate importance of being prepared here, right in Tecumseh, through personalized responsibility of each citizen? What are you doing about it, anyway? This war is not going to be won tomorrow by sacrifices made tomorrow. The sacrifices must be made today. Of course it will mean fewer evenings at home, less leisure and pleasure. Until this willingness of self-sacrifice replaces the element of self-interest through immediate gain, we can lose the war. It will be the extra hour of work, the extra hour of sacrifice, that will safeguard our freedom by defeating the Axis."

"Be thankful that we are Americans," Mr. Alleman continued. "Thankful that we live in a country whose natural resources are the greatest of any nation on the globe...whose industrial efficiency possesses potential greatness, it properly utilized...that we are free men and women fighting to defend our freedom, not for tomorrow but for the next hundred year to come. I am confident we will win. But it's going to take plenty of sacrifice to do it. This is the greatest challenge of all.

"As free people, blessed by the privilege of living in America, we are going to roll up our sleeves, work harder than ever before, again to the last man and women and win for generations to come the acclaim of history as free people who fought a good cause not only for themselves but for many others as well—Americans."

Mr. Alleman was the principal speaker at the dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the first to be held this winter under the direction of C. W. Gilman, president, and the new board of directors. The meeting was in the parlors of the Presbyterian church.

Returning only Tuesday from Washington and New York City where he was on defense business, Mr. Alleman had first hand information to give to the chamber members. He touched on the tire rationing, and possibly gasoline rationing, as it will affect rural communities, and declared that it will not be long before shoppers will be giving a 12 or 15 mile trip serious consideration before wearing the rubber off their tires.

"This tire shortage and rubber shortage, plus the possible rationing not only of sugar but other foods, maybe clothing, is a distinct challenge to the home town merchant," he declared. "The merchant must be on the job. He must forget that he has competition, he must be anxious to serve his customers, new customers, who will come to his store. The home town merchant is going to be face to face with a new responsibility, one of the greatest he has ever faced."

Mr. Alleman also pointed out that the government estimates that after all taxes and bonds are purchased this year, there still will be approximately $15,000,000,000 more money in circulation than there is goods offered for sale.

"That means that there'll be 15 billions of dollars floating around, looking for something to buy. There is not going to be a money shortage, there's going to be a shortage of things to sell. That will mean higher prices and a challenge to the merchants to have something to sell to those who have money with which to buy."

Indian Champs At Cage Meet

TECUMSEH TO PLAY DUNDEE THERE THIS EVENING IN ELIMINATION GAME

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school basketball team, undefeated throughout the current season and county cage campions, will journey to Dundee tonight to participate in the district tournament, meeting Dundee in the first of the elimination series. The host team to date has won 11 and lost three of its games in the regularly scheduled season. The game will start at 8:45, and a large crowd is expected from Tecumseh.

If the Indians succeed in winning the Dundee game they must then clash with Lambertville on Friday evening on the same floor. Lambertville has not won a game thus far this season. The winner of the Lambertville game will then play the winner of the Petersburg-Milan game, being played tonight at 7:30, in the finals which will be held at 8:45 in Dundee, Saturday evening. While the schedule appears somewhat easy for the Lenawee champions, it is pointed out that all games are "hate" and call for the conservation of strength.

Tecumseh brought its cage season to a successful close last Friday evening at Clinton, by defeating the high school team on the floor there, by a score of 50 to 23.

During the season the Indians defeated Milan, Blissfield, Manchester, Addison, Hudson, Morenci and Clinton twice, amassing a total of 519 points to their opponents 255. The Reserve team also went through the season undefeated.

Coach Raizk, as the result of graduation, will lose three of his first line players for next season, Carlton C. W. Gilman, but with such men as Sisson and Costigan, who finally came up to the varsity, and Osburn and Murphy, who did not quite make the first string, along with the regulars, Green, Brown, Hamilton, Laidlaw and Brazee, it is pointed out that the Indian's prospect for the coming season are very bright.

This year, Green was the high point man with 123 to his credit. Mohr was second with 98 and Wilson third with 93.

Dr. Kenneth Easlick Monday Club Speaker

Dr. Kenneth A. Easlick, a native of Ridgeway, now director of children's dentistry at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, was speaker at this week's meeting of Tecumseh Monday Club. His talk was on the care of teeth and control of tooth decay by proper diet. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Guy T. Pockington, his former teacher when he started school near Ridgeway.

The program also included vocal selections by a quintet composed of Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, Mrs. Elton Gallant, Jr., Mrs. P. M. Hayden, Mrs. Nina Heath and Mrs. Harley McConnell; and a vocal solo by Mrs. McConnell, with Mrs. N. Hart as accompanist.

HAMMILL-TREAT

Leroy Hammill, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hammill, and Miss Onalee Treat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Treat of Adrian, were married Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Harley Bowerman at his home at Birdsall. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hammill were their attendants.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Treat home. Mr. and Mrs. Hammill left later on a short trip. They are making their home north of Adrian.

Mr. Hammill is a graduate of Tecumseh high school and is employed at Magnesium Fabricators in Adrian. The bride is a graduate of Adrian high school.

Raid Wardens Are Selected

INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED BY HEILMAN; FIRST AID CLASSES CONTINUE

The appointment of four "section" air raid wardens for Tecumseh was announced today by E. C. Heilman, chief warden and member of the Civilian Defense Council. The "section" wardens are: Robert H. Moore, southwest section; Leon Rosacrans, northwest section; Charles Howe, southeast section, and the Rev. R. W. Scheele, northeast section.

Under the program announced, the village is divided into four sections, Chicago boulevard and Evans street being the dividing points. It is the duty of the section wardens to name "block" wardens in each block of the areas they represent, and the "block" wardens will in turn be responsible to the "section" wardens. All will be responsible to Mr. Heilman.

It will be the duty of the wardens, in the event of an air raid, to be on duty in their blocks or sections, reporting constantly to their superiors, who in turn will report to the central office, to be located in the basement of the Ford garage building. It will be at the central office that the wardens will gather, as will the special police and firemen.

William Hanna, former sheriff, has been named as chief of the auxiliary police department, now numbering about 24, and Burnell Moon, chief of the fire department, will head the firefighters, regular and auxiliary.

Mr. Heilman pointed out that at present time some 24 special police, 60 firemen and 30 women, all volunteers, are receiving first aid instructions three times weekly, under the guidance of E. M. Campbell. All classes are taught in the Ford building.

"We need more firemen and policemen, and we also need more women to volunteer for first aid work," Mr. Heilman said. "Don't wait to be solicited. If you can, and are able, we wish that you would join with us in this training program, and Tecumseh may be better able to take care of itself in time of disaster."

Persons desiring to enroll in any of the classes may communicate with either Mr. Heilman, Mr. Hanna, Mr. Moon or Wade L. Jones, village clerk, Mayor J. Floyd Elliott, or Mr. Campbell.

Dr. Killham To Speak To Dairy Farmers

Dr. B. J. Killham, extension veterinarian of the Michigan State College, will be the speaker at the dairy farmers' meeting, to be held at the high school here on Thursday evening, March 12, at 8 o'clock. Admission to the meeting is free, and every owner of dairy cattle in this section is urged to attend.

George Parsons, local agricultural instructor, declared that this meeting will be one of the most important yet held in the series being conducted this winter. Dr. Killham will discuss the effects and control of mastitis and Bangs Disease. Both diseases cause a tremendous loss in production of dairy cattle, it is pointed out, and with the government seeking increased productions it is important that farmers be on guard against these two known enemies.

Mastitis and Bangs Diseases are of vital interest to the consumer of milk because of their direct bearing on the production of clean and wholesome milk. Bangs Disease is closely associated with undulent fever of man, while the germ responsible for mastitis is also to blame for the "strep" sore throat.

Victory Garden Program Is Going Ahead Here

Do you know that the home gardens in Michigan are $7,000,000 industry? That a home garden can save a farmer $100 to $150 a year? That a family of five will need only a ¼ acre to acre home garden. That no other acreage of this size will produce such a varied supply of vitamins? Perry H. Bowser, who was one of the speakers at a vegetable gardening conference conducted last Thursday at the Michigan State College, is the authority for the above facts. This conference is attended by members of the Tecumseh Victory Garden committee.

The Rev. Edward Escolme, the chairman of the committee, says that plans for victory gardens are making steady progress here. As the result of survey made last week by the high school class in economics under the direction of C. R. Dustin and George Parsons a list of all available gardens and lots suitable for gardens is being prepared. This will assist those who want to put a garden. Watch for futher details concerning the victory gardens next week in The Herald.

Lutherans on Ridge To Show Church Sound Film

"The Power of God," a feature motion picture filmed in sound, tells a power-packed story of the might of God at work in the up-and-down lives of modern people. The film will be shown at the Lutheran church on The Ridge, Monday, March 9, at 8 p.m.

"The Power of God" is 100 per cent Christian entertainment. Lives cross wires. Result: Sparks of laughter and of tears. The story deals with the problems of modern life: Unbelief, childless homes, poverty, wealth, youth's inopportunity. How these problems are solved makes for a story that will not be forgotten.

Musically "The Power of God" is distinctly Lutheran, a name historically synoymous with excellence in Protestant Church music.

Produced on the R. K. O. Pathe lot by Roland Reed Productions under the supervision of Rev. L. Meyer, "The Power of God" is technically in every respect a feature production.

Youth To Play Big Part In War

NEED FOR TRAINING POINTED OUT BY GIRL SCOUT LEADER AT INSTITUTE

"Youth will play a big part in winning the war," declared Miss Florence Otto of the Girl Scout national staff and a member of the national field division when she was in Tecumseh at the Methodist church last Saturday to conduct an all-day Defense Institute for all adult leaders of Girl Scout Lone Troops in the southern Michigan area.

"Because we are fighting to preserve the democratic way of life, victory cannot be achieved by armaments alone. If we neglect to train youth to carry on democracy in this country, we run the risk of losing what we are fighting for," Miss Otto said.

"In times of stress, special effort should be made to maintain normal outlets for the energy and patriotism of young people, it is up to the adults, to prevent today's youth from becoming a "war generation" with warped ideals and shattered mental as well as physical health.

"The Girl Scout program has been tested by thirty years of experience and furnishes the best way we know of whereby girls can enrich and stabilize their own lives and at the same time be prepared and trained to serve their communities. We intend to maintain and expand our traditional program, giving additional emphasis to those phases having to do with service. As a matter of fact, we have added only two activities to the Girl Scout program to fit into civilian defense—study of air-raid precautions and promotion of the sale of Defense Stamps. Otherwise the program of testing and preparedness which has been developed in the past three decades contains every activity listed as necessary to civilian defense."

Miss Otto stated that the Girl Scout organization has a nation-wide membership of girls and adults of nearly 700,000, and that nearly every community has a waiting list of girls who are eager to become Scouts. She explained that there are not a sufficient number of trained leaders available to make it possible for these girls to join the organization, but added that since the war MANY MORE WOMEN ARE recognizing the importance of working for and with youth and are signing up for their defense work in Girl Scouting.

The next Institute will be held at Ypsilanti in April, with Miss Mildred Crawford of the Michigan State Normal College faculty in charge.

Tax inequalities for auto dealers whose stock is "frozen" by Federal order are relieved; Civil Service layoff adjustments are provided for. Other Acts permit condemnation of flight-strips for airplanes along highways; save keeper permitting sale of farm tractors without guard shields over wheels; amend the Homestead Act to aid Army draftees; correct the descriptions of a parcel of land belonging to the State, and repeal the camp doe law.

DIFFERING AND DISUNITY IS OUT—

The United States is at war. This fact must be recognized regardless of politics, creed or color. And while we can no longer afford the luxury of post-mortems, we can less afford to ignore the lessns learned in blood and suffering abroad.

We cannot afford differing or disunity among our own people—the thinking in terms of groups, the demanding of special privileges, the constant asking for special favors or concessions.

This war can only be won by the active participation and all-out effort of every one of us. There are no longer any non-combatants. We are all in it. Wars are won by ALL the people, not by any one group.

How can we hold out for personal advantages when we consider the sacrifices being made by those who are fighting to keep the enemy from our very shores? Their lives are laid down for us, and it is up to us to put aside differences and critical discussion of each other to get together and back up our soldiers.

We cannot afford to be separated. We have seen what happened abroad when disunity entered. We have seen what seeking after special privileges cost. Thyssen learned it in Germany when the monster his money had helped create devoured him. The French workers learned it, when the trade union movement was dissolved in France.

There is one paragraph quoted in many papers today which it might be well for us to learn:

"What does that Frenchman—soldier, workman, politician, or business man think today? Probably it's something like this 'I wish I had been less greedy for myself and more anxious for my country; I wish I had realized you can't beat off a determined invader by a quarreling, disunited people at home; I wish I had been willing to give in on some of my rights to other Frenchmen, instead of giving up all of them to a foreigner; I wish I had realized other Frenchmen had rights, too; I wish I had known that patriotism is work, not talk; giving not getting!' "

If the United States and the United Nations are to win this war we MUST STAND TOGETHER. This is not the time to afford the luxury of standing on our rights. We must work today for a common aim, for the good of ALL of us if ANY of us are to survive. Leaders must think in terms of ALL the people, not for special groups. It MUST be this way if we are to retain our rights as a democracy rather than surrender them to a foreign dictator.

We cannot afford to be like the Frenchman. We do not want to have to say "If I had known" when it is too late.

HOUSE HUNTING CONTINUES—

Day after day, week after week, men and women, anxious to make Tecumseh their home, are hunting the town over in search of a place to live. There is little in store for them other than disappointment. Houses in Tecumseh are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

What is the answer? It is hoped that it will arrive when Tecumseh and its immediate area is declared a "Defense Area" and builders will be permitted to construct houses here in which some of the 500 or 600 men now employed in local factories, and who do not live here, will be able to keep their families.

It is mighty important to all of us that Tecumseh be declared a Defense Area during these war times. With the scarcity of rubber, it will be possible, if houses are built, for many men to live here who now are driving from 30 to 60 miles a day to their jobs. They will be aole to walk to and from their work, if necessary, and be in condition to do a much better and easier day's work than before, when they were tired from the strain of morning and night driving over all kinds of roads.

And the business and professional man should be interested in the building of these new houses, too.

It is a fact—figures prove it—that far more than $1,250,000 of local payrolls is going out of this town every year—being spent elsewhere by people who earn their money here, but who do not live here. The building of houses here for these workers would stop or at least slow down this tremendous flow of money out of Tecumseh's channels of business. The housing of these workmen here would mean dollars in almost every pocket in this village.

Let us hope that Tecumseh is declared a defense area, and quickly. And if it is declared, let us hope that there is no time lost in preparing a building program that will in a measure be sufficient to care for the ever-increasing demand for houses.

And finally, let's remember this: Tecumseh's housing shortage is not war-born. It was here long before the war started, and it will be here after the war is over, unless something is done to relieve it. If Tecumseh is interested in growing, interested in improving its business and industrial sections, it must act. Communities do not stand still. Either they go forward or slip backward.

That's the Guy I'm Laying For

Said the Hen as the Farmer
Crossed the Yard

Of course we all know the chief function of a hen is laying eggs . . . so let it lay. Don't give it a handicap to overcome or the production will suffer accordingly. Haphazard care of your chickens produces haphazard returns.

A warm, dry, well ventilated chick en house is one of the best guarantees of profitable returns from your flock.

We know how chicken houses and brooder houses should be built. We know how you can build them for the least money—for the smallest possible investment. We'll be glad to furnish you with the information, and the material to do the job. See the Round Roof Brooder House now on display at Britton Yard and Tecumseh Sash & Door Co.

See Us at Once for Remodeling--Repairs

If you are considering remodeling or repairing your home or some of the farm buildings, see us for the needed materials. We'll be glad to figure with you as to the costs, and we will also assist you in finding the necessary labor to do the job.

What About the Men's Clothing Situation For 1942?

HERE ARE THE FACTS

Clothing manufacturers are alloted only 40% of the wool they used for January, February and March of 1941.

This is a drastic cut, and applies to all clothing. It will result in a sizeable increase in clothing prices, or substitutes will be added to the wool for making part-wool fabrics, or it may be a combination of both.

Spring clothing (ordered in September) while slightly higher, will not be greatly affected.

However, there will be practically no re-orders on spring merchandise because of the scarcity of cloth at this time.

Retail clothiers are being alloted a per cent of their last year's purchases on knitted goods, such as underwear and on work clothing and athletic equipment.

There is an acute shortage of white shirts, but for the most part, shirts, ties and accessories will be obtainable, but the quality will be below the standard.

This condition is the result of the war, and it is a serious condition.

The government is now working out a plan for the rationing of clothing. This will be done with considerable study before it goes into effect, and is not apt to happen in the very near future.

There is no need for panic nor for hoarding because no one will go without sufficient clothing—but we advise our customers and friends to take the matter up at once, and if clothing is needed for spring or fall—purchase the actual needs within the next 30 or 60 days, to insure the following:

1. To Get the Lower Prices.
2. To Get the Better Quality.
3. To Get Customer Diversified Selection.

A large part of Palman's Spring clothing has been received, and they'll be happy to show them to you at any time.

Declares War

During a round-table discussion, a program to aid the farmers in this area, in the event of a labor shortage, was taken under consideration and a committee named to make a further investigation. The plans calls for the donation of labor to the farmer by merchants, business and professional men, who can spare the time. The committee will report its findings at a subsequent meeting.

Frank Snedico, who yesterday celebrated the 60th anniversary of his entrance in business here as a barber, and who has been located in one shop, on N. Evans street, for the past 37 years, was honored by the some 80 men present when he was asked to stand and the assembly joined in the singing of the "happy birthday" song. Mr. Snedico is very active and interested in civic affairs, is on the job every day despite his mounting years, and prides himself in being able to swing a smoother razor today than many barbers less than one-third his age.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Gilman, assisted by Wade L. Jones as secretary. Dr. T. Rentschler was chairman of the program committee and Mr. Alleman was the guest of Earl L. Wickwire. Group singing was led by W. L. Berkhof with Mrs. Edna Staulter at the piano.

WHOOPING COUGH TIME

Whooping cough is now Michigan's No. 1 communicable disease. So far this year, 1,832 cases have been reported to the Michigan Department of Health.

"Whooping cough is dangerous, especially to children under one year of age," said Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner. "During the ten years between 1930 and 1940, whooping cough killed 1,422 babies and children. There were more whooping cough deaths than from any other acute communicable disease except pneumonia."

Vaccine given when children are six to nine months old will prevent whooping cough or lighten and shorten the attack. The usual course of whooping cough when vaccine is not given is one of the longest of all childhood illnesses, from four to six weeks.

RUBBER

Rubber, chemical and petroleum industries are pooling patents, resources, experience, and technical skills in order to successfully attain our goal of 400,0000 tons. The program is expected to result in the construction of about twenty new plants. Soon after February 1 six synthetic rubber plants will be under construction.

Cone

S. S. Contest Ends

The Cone Sunday School ended their contest drive for new members and attendance record for regular members Sunday, March 1st with one of the largest attendances in the records of the church. The day will be long remembered by everyone present for 119 were present at Sunday School. Everyone was happy that they could be present and just be one of such a crowd that was taking so much interest in our Sunday School and all trust that this interest will continue in the days to come.

The contest was begun by choosing Miss Dorothy Vallie captain of the Blue Side and Miss Geraldine Craig of the Red and the promise of a supper to the winners was a prominent feature. Miss Vallie, of the winning side, decided it would be a very friendly gesture if all would help with the supper and St. Patrick's Day March 17, will probably be selected as the date.

Father— You can't get away from charging everything. Look at these bills.

YOU NAME IT

"Some husbands win their wives by sheer audacity."

"Yes, and many others by sheer meudacity."

Good Resolutions

AT THE beginning of the New Year, one is apt to hear a great deal about good resolutions and the figurative turning over of a new leaf. And how pleasant it is to feel this glow of good will, and to think gratefully of fresh opportunities to be better! Perhaps one is heard to assert solemnly that only wisdom and independence shall characterize his conduct in the future. Many purpose more earnestly than ever before to put a seal upon their lips, lest they may offend by foolish or factious remarks. Others resolve to avoid the pitfalls of intemperance, indecision, or delay. They hope that human ability and judgment will help them to withstand temptation at all times.

Who has not learned, however, that one's noblest intentions sometimes give way under stress of circumstances? One can resist the tendency, however, to lapse into the wrong thought habits of self-condemnation, self-pity, or cynicism. For real help can come through a right understanding of God, who is the sole source and power of good resolutions. God's wisdom and love support and give scope to each heavenly desire and design. . . .

God's perfect creation, man and the universe, consists of spiritual ideas, which manifest His nature, power, and substance. The allness of God, good, precludes the possibility that there can be a real and evil power to oppose Him. It is false material sense which seems to hide divine reality and to reverse the activity of good.

There is encouragement for all in the words of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, who says (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 326): "The purpose and motive to live aright can be gained now. This point won, you have started as you should. . . . Working and praying with true motives, your Father will open the way. 'Who did hinder you, that ye should not obey the truth?'" Stability, dominion, progress, and joy belong to the real man. Therefore, there is nothing which can hinder the true thinker's efforts to realize and claim his perfect, spiritual heritage.

To fear or ignore evil's claims is not to destroy them. It is right and necessary to detect and correct through one's understanding of Truth the human hindrances which seem to postpone the enjoyment of good. Honest self-analysis may uncover the errors of procrastination, vanity, or dread of human opinion, which often seem to reverse the best of intentions. Unworthy companionship, love of ease, or a limited, personal sense of man's capabilities may claim to cultivate instability. There are those who become so engrossed in domestic cares or social demands that spiritual inducements do not find in them a loving and eager response. And surely health and morals are not improved by fixing the attention on supposed diseased symptoms and human failings.

How wise it is to see through these deceptive material evidences of evil and grant to them no power, intelligence, or reality! For God, good, is the only Mind, and His law is forever expressed in right action. Spiritual understanding of the real helps one to distinguish steadfastness from self-will, quietness from stagnation, divine reflection from arrogant human efficiency, and unselfish affection from personal attachment.

There is a helpful lesson in the experience of Peter. It is related in the Gospel of Mark that Jesus, who was aware of his impending ordeal on the cross, said to his disciples (Mark 14:27), "All ye shall be offended because of me this night." And he further said to Peter (14:30), "Even this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice." How promptly and fervently Peter protested his fidelity to the Master, even his willingness to die with him! A multitude then came and took Jesus to the palace of the high priest, where he was to suffer brutal indignities. Peter followed him at a distance and took refuge with the servants. Here he was pointed out three times as a companion of Jesus, but each time he denied all knowledge of him. Then, "the second time the cock crew," Peter remembered Jesus' prophetic words, "and when he thought thereon he wept" (Mark 14:72).

Peter's redemption from sin and remorse came through loving service and obedience to the Master's demand (John 21:17), "Feed my sheep." Fidelity to the ever-present Christ and love for God and man enabled him to heal the sick, restore to life those who had died, and to leave wise spiritual counsel for all.

The real man's complete spiritual perfection is manifested step by step; and watchfulness, courage, humility, and love hasten our progress heavenward. . . .—The Christian Science Monitor.

Britton

Composes Song

Mrs. Rose Teufel composed the words and music for the song "Let There Be Peace" which was sung by Mrs. Doris Exelby at the meeting of the Britton Woman's Club held recently at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Taylor in Britton.

"Let There Be Peace"

Greetings to the members here
Who have met year after year.
For away from noise and strife
Where such cruel scenes are rife
Where there's bloodshed ruin and woe,
Crime and avarice a foe.

Chorus—
Oh! let there be peace,
All pray for this war to cease.
And leave our beautiful land
Unsullied by a foreign band.

They have bombed our Pearl Harbor.
And now we are in the war,
While they were striving for peace
Those treacherous Japanese
Brought death and destruction near
To our home's and country dear.

When at last this war shall cease,
And the world's again at peace
When the news comes from afar
That there shall be no more war
When this news to us they bring
We shall all rejoice and sing.

Chorus—
At last we have peace.
This cruel war has ceased.
And now our beautiful land
Is free from a foreign band.

This year some of the modern appliances you planned to put into that dream kitchen of yours—to bring you new leisure, lighten your kitchen tasks and save steps—may be hard to get due to curtailed production because of the WAR.
But such a temporary setback should not discourage you. Here's a suggestion. Why not take the money you planned to spend for those appliances you cannot now obtain and invest it in United States Defense Bonds and Stamps? When the WAR is over and America returns to peacetime production, those appliances will again be plentiful and your funds thus saved will be available to you to complete that "dream" kitchen.
A thrifty, practical and patriotic idea, don't you think? You help Uncle Sam... and he'll help you!

VACATION TRIPS

Two friends were talking. One always takes a trip in the summer and the other has to stay at home. The one who goes tried to console her friend by saying:

"Well, the nicest part of a trip is being so glad to get home."

"I suppose then you think I have a better time than you do because I get to stay home," was the unhappy reply.

TOO DARK

"Where did you get that chicken Sam?"

"Well, Boss, is was so dark I couldn't zackly tell."

NOT GUILTY

Master—It is awful the way my cigars are disappearing. Can you account for it, Charles?

Valet—Yes, it is not my fault, sir, I assure you that I still have three boxes left from my last post.

Diner—I've had much better pie than this served me, waiter.

Waiter—Den it must a been in some other place, boss—not here!

The Three Dimensions Of

1. PAID CIRCULATION

No advertising medium can be effective unless it reaches people WHO WANT IT. Every week The Tecumseh Herald goes into the homes of Tecumseh and surrounding communities. It is the medium that covers both the village and rural area. The circulation is PAID CIRCULATION —indicating that these readers want THE HERALD and are willing to pay for it.

2. TYPE OF CIRCULATION

No advertising can be effective unless it is read by the people who are ABLE TO BUY the articles advertised. The Herald reaches the homes that can afford a newspaper—and the things advertised in a newspaper. They represent the buying power of Tecumseh and vicinity —people with jobs, farmers who are producing and selling their products.

3. READER CONFIDENCE

No advertising medium can be effective unless it is believed by the people who read it. It must be read and preferred for news and editorials as well as advertising information. This reader confidence is attained only over a period of years—after the medium has proved it is worthy of that confidence. THE HERALD has this reader confidence—evidenced by the fact that people voluntarily choose to pay for The Herald because they want to read it, and for no other reason.

State News Notes

TIMELY PARAGRAPHS FOR BUSY READERS

LANSING, March 4.—Enemy air raids on Michigan cities or the Soo locks could occur during April or May when weather would be more suitbale for long distance flying, according to military advice. Inconsistency exists in the fact that the army has not taken steps yet to designate Michigan as a possible target for air attacks, although President Roosevelt said in a recent press conference that Detroit could be bombed under certain conditions.

Protective defense services — such as air raid wardens and fire and police volunteers—are in charge of Capt. Don Leonard, Michigan State police, who was designated months ago by the governor as coordinator for these agencies in Michigan. Official instruction courses have been prepared by the Office of Civilian Defense at Washington for which Leonard was a special field man for many months.

Ludington is all excited over prospects of the huge chemical defense plant to be constructed there by the Dow Magnesium Corp. . . . In Benton Harbor a new mine-sweeper was launched. . . . A new lock is believed assured for the St. Mary's River canal at Sault Ste. Marie.

Brighter news from the industrial front, in contrast to the flow of reverses from the war front, was reflected in an announcement by the state unemployment compensation commission that 111,533 claims had been paid to jobless as of February 21, as compared to previous official forecast of 250,000 to 300,000.

Reason, as given by Wendell L. Lun, commission director: "Unexpected industrial activity and greater speed in defense absorption of the idle."

It seems that everybody won in the recent legislative skirmish over unemployment compensation benefits. The Republican legislature and the Democratic governor are both claiming credit for liberalizing maximum payments from $16 to $20 for 20 weeks, minimum payments $7 to $10 for 12 weeks.

Director Wendell Lund said that manufacturers and employees were happy. And the best acclaim of all came from Ewan Clauge, associate director of the Federal employment security division of the Social Security Board: "Michigan is to be congratulated that it has the best unemployment insurance law in the United States."

Clauge said the trend was toward a "straight state system" in contrast to federal benefits granted by Congress to pressure groups for political purposes.

Local draft boards are to be cautioned by Brig. General Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, against exhausting farm labor rolls in their counties, General Hershey said in Washington: "One of the hardest men you have to convince that he is a specialist is the farmer. Farmers are patriotic. They don't try to get exemptions."

Recommendations of the civil service commission for saving $171,000 annually are to be put into effect by the state liquor control commission, following the recent reorganization effected by Governor Van Wagoner.

The newest reform followed appointment of Ralph Thomas of Detroit as chairman and Felix H. H. Flynn, formerly on the unemployment compensation commission, as a member.

Recognizing a war-time demand for industrial efficiency, the commission took steps to discourage "any conditions in the industry which interfere with all-out production." In other words, war orders will get the right-o-way over liquor licenses when the two clash.

Recent public opinion polls by Dr. George Gallup have shown a rise in sentiment for prohibition.

Herbert J. Rushton, attorney general, has upheld the right of the civil service commission to reorganize state governmental agencies in order to eliminate unnecessary employees and to effect operating economies.

The constitutional amendment of civil service, however, does not remove control of state departments from state officials except for the assignment and placing of personnel subject to civil service, it was held.

G. Donald Kennedy, state commissioner of highways, reported a reduction of department payroll by 13.9 per cent for January. Gasoline revenues are expected to decline due to tire rationing, and Kennedy is taking steps to keep operating costs in line with 1942 revenues. Highway construction will be limited virtually to war needs.

The pension repeal was whooped through the house of representatives at Washington by unanimous vote of Michigan's 17 representatives.

Editorial comment on defense: (Stanley Banyon in the Benton Harbor News-Palladium:

"How many hours a week do the boys on Bataan work? If the Japs attack on Sunday, do you think the American troops demand double time for overtime?

"The work week is between 55 and 60 hours in Great Britain. It is between 60 and 70 hours in Germany.

"This is war. Every American must work as many hours as compatible with maximum efficiency. He should be paid for every hour, at his regular pay rate. The 40-hour week overtime penalties—like excessive profits—are holding back the war effort. For the duration, they must go!"

Chase S. Osborn writing in the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News: "This is no time to get too cocky or to think of ourselves as bullies or anything of that sort. But it is wholesome to remember that Americans have never shirked a fight when they were in the right. They really appear to have enjoyed dying for their country. It is as good a way to be assured of future happiness as can be found. Sooner or later the Americans are going to wipe the Japanese off the face of the earth."

"If the boys with MacArthur can take it, so can we!"

So said a World war veteran on the mid-night-to-dawn shift at Colt's patent fire arms plant in Connecticut when he explained why the men called it the "Mac Arthur Shift."

M. A. Gorman, editor, Flint Journal, observed editorially: "What a boon it would be if this spirit should take root throughout American life! And it must."

School Asks Boiler Bids

OLD ONES AT CENTRAL BUILDING MUST BE REPLACED; NEW SCHOOL DISCUSSED

The board of education, in regular session on Tuesday evening, authorized the advertisement for bids for new boilers and stokers at the Central school building heating plant, the bids to be opened on Tuesday evening, April 14, at 8 p. m. at the high school. It is estimated that the new boiler plus the cost of installation, will cost approximately $5,000. They are to be installed during the summer months.

The boilers now in use at the plant have been in operation for 23 years and are worn out, it was said. They have been repaired several times this year to keep them in operation until warmer weather.

The board also discussed the advisability, but took no action on a plan to submit to electors in July a proposal to establish school district sinking fund, looking toward the building of a new elementary school building here within the next five or six years. Such a sinking fund is now legal in Michigan, and as much as five mills may be set aside each year for not more than five years, but the plan must have the approval of electors. It was pointed out also that voters must agree to increase the 15 mill tax limitation clause under which the state is operating to make the sinking fund program operative.

It is estimated that the proposed new building would cost from $50,000 to $75,000 and it is possible that after the war the district might receive some form of government assistance. By establishing the sinking fund the district would save the interest and bond charges, which usually amount to about one-third of the cost of such a project.

A night school class in typewriting was started on Tuesday evening, with about 20 adults enrolled. The course will run for 10 weeks each Tuesday evening for two hours. The cost is $4 for the 10 lessons.

Know How to Fight Fire Bombs? Cut Out and Save This Article

Fire Chief B. B. Moon outlined today the latest methods of fighting fire bombs approved by the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense. "Everyone must know what to do in case of an air attack," said the chief, "not only so we can keep fire damage as low as possible, but also so we can all face such an emergency with calmness and self-confidence. Panic is the only thing to be afraid of.

"The two-pound magnesium bomb is the type military authorities expect will be used," the Chief continued, "and, depending upon conditions when you find a bomb, use either sand or water spray on it. Wait about a minute before attacking it, so as to be sure all the violent sputtering is over. Then, if the bomb has not set fire to surrounding combustibles, it can be covered with sand, dumped into a metal pail and removed from the premises."

"But if the bomb has started a fire by the time its violent reaction is over, water spray must be used. Be careful never to let a solid stream strike the bomb, because that may cause an explosive reaction. The source of water may be a garden hose or any fire extinguisher containing water or a water solution. However, since water supplies may fail during a raid, it is unsafe to depend on garden hose. That is why fire extinguishers which are self-contained sources of water are recommended.

"By 'bumbing' the stream at the nozzle opening, you can use the pump-tank, soda-acid, foam or loaded stream types of extinguishers for the necessary spray, when working on the bomb itself, and their normal solid stream on fire started by the bomb. The purpose of the water spray is to make the bomb burn itself out as fast as possible.

"Because a bomb may penetrate the roof of a house and come to rest on the attic floor, it is a good idea to remove combustibles, so as to limit the things that can catch fire."

All of these points are clearly illustrated in the OCD approved motion picture, "Fighting the Fire Bomb," which is now being shown to defense groups in many communities. They are also discussed in detail in the OCD approved Instructor's Manual which the Chief received today. "The motion picture and manual were produced under the technical supervision of the Chemical Warfare Service of the United States Army and the National Fire Protection Association.

Pocklington to go to South America to Aid Rubber Farming

WILL REPRESENT U. S. GOVERNMENT; WAS FORMERLY WITH FIRESTONE

In an effort to be of service to his country, Ronald S. Pocklington of Britton, will leave Washington on Sunday morning for South and Central America where he will devote his time to promoting the production of rubber. Mr. Pocklington, who will be accompanied by Oscar Hargis of Texas and a Mr. Cheeks of California, has signed a two year contract with the United State Department of Agriculture as "senior rubber production technician."

Mr. Pocklington is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy T. Pocklington and in Lenawee county he has served as ERA administrator and former superintendent of the county farm. Several years ago he spent many years in Liberia on the plantations of the Firestone Tire & Rubber company.

The sending of the three technicians to the South is a move on government's part to attempt to alleviate the acute rubber shortage caused by the Japs invasion of Malaya and the East Indies. Mr. Pocklington will go from Washington to Nicaragua by air and will remain there about 10 days. He will go on to Costa Rica to stay two or three weeks and will proceed to Panama for supplies. From there he will go to Colombia, South America, to establish an operating base.

The average rubber plantation produces about 350 pounds of rubber per acre per year, Mr. Pocklington says, and it requires about five to 10 years to start a new plantation on a productive basis. A survey of South America's rubber field has shown the government that a blight has swept over much of it, leaving many trees unproductive. However, the government is of the opinion that there are vast areas of untapped trees in that country that can be brought into production in a comparatively short time. It will be the technicians job to determine these facts, the government having set a goal of 90,000 tons of rubber from South America within the next two years.

When he stops in Costa Rica, Mr. Pocklington will be returning to familiar surroundings. He spent six years in Costa Rica for the United Fruit Company after graduating from Michigan State College in 1922. He learned something of rubber production at that time, learned to speak Spanish and Portuguese, and then went to Liberia where he worked for five years on the Firestone plantations. At that time Firestone had 56,000 acres of rubber under cultivation in Liberia. Now the company has some.

Blood Bank Car Here on Monday

113 DONORS ARE LISTED IN TECUMSEH; MORE ARE URGED TO CONTRIBUTE

The American Red Cross Blood Bank Car—a travelling laboratory completely equipped and carrying a staff of one doctor and six nurses, will arrive in Tecumseh on Monday, March 16, to relieve more than 100 residents of some 50 quarts of blood, to be held in reserve for emergency service during the war.

"To date," said the Rev. O. V. Robinson, chairman of the blood bank movement here, "we have 113 donors who have signed up to contribute. We set our goal at 300, and we hope that there will be 50 75 more men and women who will offer to give a pint of blood each—blood that may save the life of a soldier, sailor or Marine, or of some other person injured during the emergency.

"There is no ill effect from the giving of blood," the Rev. Mr. Robinson pointed out. "Donors are carefully examined before the procedure and those who might be harmed are not allowed to contribute."

Those who are registering the donors, and to whom persons may go if they care to give are besides Mr. Robinson, Ralph Oliver, P. A. Bowen, Wade L. Jones, Perry M. Hayden, Yale Kerby, W. D. Hite and George Winthrop at the Products Company plant. Prospective donors are urged to sign up not later than Sunday.

Mr. Robinson expects the blood bank car and its staff to arrive here during the morning hours of Monday, and the parlors of the Methodist church will be transformed into an emergency hospital for the work. Cots, chairs, etc., will be set up, and the nurses with the c ar will be assisted by a corps of Red Cross nurses from Adrian under the direction of Mrs. Sam King, county chairman. The ladies of several Tecumseh churches will provide donors with food after the blood has been taken, and Mr. Kerby has notified Mr. Robinson that he will contribute all of the fruit juices needed for serving.

"The actual taking of blood will begin at 12:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon," Robinson said, "and it will continue throughout the afternoon, and into Tuesday if necessary. We hope that there will be many more persons here who will be willing to contribute a pint of blood for this worthy cause, and we urge them to register at once for the service. The blood bank car is travelling all over Michigan, but Tecumseh is one of the smallest towns it has yet visited. We want Tecumseh to make a name for itself—to defend its reputation as being the biggest, most aggressive small town in the state."

Blood taken from Tecumseh residents will be carried back to Detroit in special containers and there it is dried and the plasma removed and stored for later use. This process was recently discovered and removes the heretofore necessity for "matching" blood. Under this system the dried blood may be stored for months, and when needed all that is necessary is to mix it with water and inject it into the veins of the patient.

Indian Cagers In Ypsi, Friday

T.H.S. BASKETBALL TEAM TO REGIONAL MEET AFTER WINNING IN DISTRICT

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school basketball team, after taking the district tournament at Dundee last Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening by storm, will journey to Ypsilanti tomorrow evening to play its first game in the state regional tournament, at 7:45 p.m., at the Central high building.

Six teams are slated for the regional tourney. They are besides Tecumseh: St. Thomas, (Ann Arbor), bye; Blissfield vs St. Bernard (Detroit), and Mt. Carmal (Wyandotte), vs St. Alphonsus (Detroit). This means that St. Thomas will meet the winner of the Blissfield-St. Bernard game in the semi-finals at 6:30 Friday evening, and that Tecumseh will meet the winner of the Mt Carmal-St. Alphonsus game at 7:45 Friday in the second bracket of the Class "C" semi-finals. The final play-off game will be on the same floor in Ypsi on Saturday evening at 7:45.

Probable winners in the two semi-final brackets will be Tecumseh and Blissfield. Because Tecumseh already has defeated the Sugar Boys twice this season it is reasonable to assume that the Indian will have an opportunity to bid for the state eliminations at Lansing. However, all of the teams in the Ypsi tourney have won their district contests and have played an excellent brand of ball to make it possible for them to enter the regional meet. It is, therefore, necessary for the Indians to remain on their toes if they care to come home from Ypsilanti with the trophy.

In the district tournament at Dundee, Tecumseh defeated Dundee in the first round by a 39-12 score. The second night they defeated the weak Lambertville team by a 43-7 score. Saturday night in the finals, however, Tecumseh clashed with the scrappy Petersburg team and after a hard fought battle registered a final score of 26-20. Petersburg was in the lead 5-3 at the end of the first quarter, and the score was tied at 10 at the half. Wilson's four baskets in the last half gave Tecumseh its victory.

In keeping with the government's program for the conservation of tires and equipment, Clarence Gilman, owner of the Tecumseh Dairy, announced today that effective on Sunday, March 15, his dairy would discontinue the delivery of milk on Sunday. The dairy store will be open as usual, however.

Mr. Gilman's policy is in keeping with a program that is state and nation-wide in some cities milk deliveries being reduced to two and three deliveries a week.

The board under the leadership of President Joseph A. Navarre met at the home of J. T. Carpenter who is vice president of the council and chairman of the Lenawee district of the council.

Joseph Navarre presented the proposed Constitution and By-Laws to the board with the recommendation from his committee that they be approved for presentation to the council at the annual council meeting in May. A committee composed of Mr. Libs, Glen McCaughey, Robert Sawyer and Burl Howell had previously drawn up the proposed plan. After making a few changes the board accepted the recommendation of the committee and decided to present the plan to the council for adoption in May.

A PRAYER OF FREE MEN—

Out of the air raid shelters of London has come a prayer which each of us should learn. It is a prayer born of the unity of free men, a unity forged out of common ideals in the white heat of common danger.

"Increase, O God, the spirit of neighborliness among us,"

The spirit of neighborliness, the kinship of those who share in the hope of freedom for all, regardless of class, race, creed or color; the acceptance as fellow citizens of all men, asking only allegiance to the credo that all men are created equal in the eyes of God, and entitled to an equal opportunity for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Only when this spirit of neighborliness is among us can we present a united front to the powers of darkness which seek to engulf us.

"that in peril we may uphold one another, in calamity serve one another, and in homelessness, loneliness or exile, befriend one another."

Not in groups of differing faiths and traditions, but as individuals, one with the other, holding out the hand of friendship, to uphold, to serve and to befriend in all the trials and tribulations that may come upon us in the days ahead.

"Grant us brave and enduring hearts that we may strengthen one another."

Brave to face danger, resolved to stand firm, unshaken by the insidious propagandas of hate and prejudice that seek to divide us into groups suspicious of each other.

"till the discipline and testing of these days be ended, and Thou give again peace in our time;"

Through all the hours of trial and trouble until peace comes again to a new world—a world in which the spirit of friendliness reigns among the nations and the law is love—and love, the fulfilling of the law.

"through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen."

In the name of Him who said, "This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

SALVAGE FOR VICTORY—

In every city, village and township school children are being organized to effect a regular collection of waste paper of all kinds.

Waste paper is vital to victory because it is a basic resource from which are made millions of containers which are essential to supply our armies on the fighting front, our soldiers in training, our allies overseas, and our vastly expanded defense industries.

A ton of paperboard, from which containers are made, contains 1906 pounds of waste paper, cardboard, and corrugated board. America's war effort now takes one-fourth of the more than 8,000,000 tons of paperboard scheduled for manufacture in the U.S. this coming year. By the end of 1942 it will be utilizing two-thirds of an estimated 9,000,000 tons.

One ton of waste paper, according to a research source, will produce any of the following: 1500 shell containers, 47,000 boxes for 30-calibre ammunition, 71,000 dust covers for airplane engines, or 36,000 practice targets.

Practically everything the war program needs must be packaged. Army ordnance plants require 30,000 tons of paperboard each month just for packaging the shells they turn out. Nine-tenths of the lease-lend materials being sent to Britain must be protected by waterproof paperboard. To keep the soldiers in the service supplied with milk, army quartermasters need a million paper milk containers a day. Seven hundred and fifty tons of paperboard is required for the packaging of the 10,000,000 shirts bought by the army this year. Just to pack the canned tomatoes which the army boys are going to eat this next year will require a thousand tons of paperboard. The paper collection drive must rake together almost 2,000,000 pounds of waste paper just to make the paperboard for these canned tomatoes. To maintain the army's reputation for possessing the best sharpshooters in the world, an order was recently put through for 750 carloads of target paper. As the army reaches larger proportions, these requirements will be stepped up correspondingly.

Save your waste paper. Salvage it for Victory.

A SHOCK FOR THE JAPANESE—

Dr. Melmut Landsberg, seismologist of the University of Chicago, says that Japan may be "reasonably" expected to suffer an earthquake of "tremendous dimensions sometime after 1943.

The professor bases his prediction upon the fact that the Japanese Islands are the most active earthquake region in the word. He points out that every twenty or thiry years, a terrible shock hits the country and that the last one was recorded in 1923.

The seismologist may be perfectly correct in his predictions but we would not advise the people of the United States to wait on nature to produce the disturbances that will disable the Japanese. We think that the Japanese will suffer a shock not later than 1943, without the intervention of nature.

Illusion of Isolation Vanishing; Michigan Is Fast Awakening

SINCE PEARL HARBOR, 95 DAYS AGO, STATE IS REALIZING REALITY OF WAR

LANSING, Mar. 12—Life is going on just the same in Michigan. People still eat, drink, wear clothes, and carry on their daily existence as nearly as possible to former habits.

And yet life today in Michigan small cities and towns is vastly different than what is was just 95 days ago.

Many changes have taken place since Pearl Harbor.

More changes are coming, inevitably, like spring and summer and fall.

Michigan is awakening to the realities of 1942. Most of these realities art not pleasant. Some may be blessings in disguise.

Since Pearl Harbor, just 95 days ago, we Americans have been moving at a faster pace than at any time in 166 years. History has been on the run. And we have been hurrying to keep up with it.

Gone is the illusion of isolation. Vanishing by degrees are illusions that we cannot lose the war, that we are invulnerable against attack, that we will fight best when we are optimistic, that we can beat the Axis on a 40-hour week, that we can win somehow without using our best men in government regardless of party, that lease-lend of arms will suffice without American men to arm them, that the war can be done by defense instead of offense.

We realize that we now face our greatest crisis in 166 years—probably in the next six to eight months.

Gone is the illusion that Michigan and Malaya have little in common.

Who thought, prior to Pearl Harbor, that automobiles and rubber tires would be rationed within 95 days? What had South Sea islands to do with the American way of life, anyway?

It all seemed far-fetched, didn't it?

And yet we know today that we must make our present family automobile do for many years to come—two, three, five and possibly ten!

When present automobile tires are gone, many of them cannot be replaced. And this realization, too, in 95 days.

One immediate effect of Malaya on Michigan is a reverse in the trend of mobile shopping, a return of trade to hundreds of Main Streets.

Automobile and good roads made Michigan a land of gasoline go-getters. We thought nothing of traveling 10 to 50 miles, or even more, to the nearest large city—shopping in the morning, having lunch, enjoying a movie and hurrying back home in time for evening dinner.

Retail trends for luxury goods have been toward larger centers at the expense of small towns. One exception has been the large metropolitan centers — those over 500,000 population — where population and trading trends have been in the direction of decentralization.

Michigan Main Street, which steadily prospered during the 1930-40 decade, has an opportunity in 1942. Here is one of the unforeseen blessings in the war readjustments now fast unfolding.

Although signs were available in 1941 of coming events, who among us was convinced that we must do without—even in 1942—such commonplace commodities as refrigerators, washing machines, stokers, radios, and girdles? The mechanical nature of modern warfare, plus the plain fact that we are five years behind the Germans in converting our industrial plants for war production, is bringing revolutionary upsets in our easy-going mode of living.

In 95 days we learn that democracy must become dictatorial to save itself from dictatorship, that we must deprive ourselves of freedoms so that we can save them, that a dozen expeditionary forces and our home units will require upwards of ten million men by 1944 that tends of thousands of women must replace men in war plants everywhere. What a change!

The prospect of outright shortage in many lines of civilian goods has brought on a wave of hoarding. January retail sales were far ahead of January, 1941.

Economists tell us that the national income for 1942 will be approximately 102 billions, taxes and savings 22 billions, leaving 80 billions to be spent. Yet the production of civilian goods, because of war priorities, will decline to 65 billions.

Here will come the pinch: 15 billions looking for a market that doesn't exist. MORE BUYING POWER vs. fewer things to buy. That's the making of inflation.

Five dollar silk shirts absorbed some of World War dollars. Railroad and bus transportation may combine to save Michigan's vacationland from a war-time depression. Certainly we Americans are going to spend more money for recreation in 1942 than we did in 1941, surprising as this may sound. It will be the normal reaction to war nerves, and a healthful prescription to take.

The home-town merchant who makes the grade in this critical period of fast-made adjustments will be the merchant who keeps his head—and uses it, too.

Positive thinking, not negative thinking, is needed today.

All thinking must be subjected to one paramount objective: Winning the war.

War is a temporary interruption to the normal way of life, a call for common sacrifices to be made willingly and cheerfully.

All this in 95 days!

We're taking it on the chin now. Soon we're going to be giving it, blow for blow, sacrifice for sacrifice, to Adolph, Bruno and Charlie Hirohito.

We peace-loving Americans are getting mad.

As he watched the sunrise he told them that he knew he was dying; his last words were: "I knew I would see it all again."

The Three Dimensions Of

Newspaper Advertising Value

1. PAID CIRCULATION

No advertising medium can be effective unless it reaches people WHO WANT IT. Every week The Tecumseh Herald goes into the homes of Tecumseh and surrounding communities. It is the medium that covers both the village and rural area. The circulation is PAID CIRCULATION —indicating that these readers want THE HERALD and are willing to pay for it.

2. TYPE OF CIRCULATION

No advertising can be effective unless it is read by the people who are ABLE TO BUY the articles advertised. The Herald reaches the homes that can afford a newspaper—and the things advertised in a newspaper. They represent the buying power of Tecumseh and vicinity —people with jobs, farmers who are producing and selling their products.

3. READER CONFIDENCE

No advertising medium can be effective unless it is believed by the people who read it. It must be read and preferred for news and editorials as well as advertising information. This reader confidence is attained only over a period of years—after the medium has proved it is worthy of that confidence. THE HERALD has this reader confidence—evidenced by the fact that people voluntarily choose to pay for The Herald because they want to read it, and for no other reason.

Offensive War Must Wait Arms

THE REAL NEED IN THE U. S. IS FOR COMPLETE COOPERATION OF EFFORT

(By Hugo S. Sims)

Let's have the truth about this war even if it is impossible for us to know the details of the fighting on land and sea.

It's high time for every American to understand not what the army or the fleet is doing but the stern reality of our present position and the causes for our present humiliation.

We should not be misled by frantic efforts to lay our ills to lack of administration, the defensive spirit and policies framed by our leaders.

The sober realization that we are without adequate arms for the struggle is the first step toward meeting the danger that besets us. While Germany, Italy and Japan armed themselves to the teeth, during the past seven or eight years, the people of this democracy wallowed in a dream of world peace.

Our Congress reluctantly voted insufficient funds for national defense while Congressmen, for various reasons, spouted denunciation of war in general. When pressed to prepare for war in time of peace the majority of our legislators chanted, "Peace! It's beautiful!" This lovely phrase proves no present substitute for guns, tanks, planes or ships.

The failure of many political leaders to understand the impossibility of defending the United States, is the root evil of our misfortune. The reiterated determination of unwise Congressmen to prevent this country from preparing for war, away from our shores, explains our inability to meet our foes in battle now on fields of their own choosing.

Enemies Scorn Our War Strength

Today we are in a total global war. We have been attacked by nations which happen to be enemies of the ideals of freedom and civilization. They did not even give us the opportunity to ignobly surrender our ideals for peace. Their contempt for our strength was so great that they attacked us with a boldness that can be explained only on the assumption that they held our fighting strength in utter scorn.

When Japan attacked Pearl Harbor the other Axis powers immediately declared war upon us. This nation geared to peaceful progress was confronted by overwhelming force in the Far East — the very area in which we neglected to prepare even for defense.

It does little good for Congressmen and others to clamor for an offensive to save Gen. MacArthur. The only way to rescue this brave general and his men requires a relief expedition of a strength that we cannot provide. The situation would be otherwise if Guam and the Philippines had been prepared for war and if a fleet had been constructed for performing such a job.

Certainly, Americans know that an offensive spirit is not a substitute for weapons or bases. It is foolish to clamor for an attack until the nation's fighting forces are ready to attack. It would be suicide to send an improperly equipped force thousands of miles from its base to engage the enemy under conditions that make our defeat almost a certainty.

Let's not fool ourselves about this war. While there is no cause for cowardly pessimism there is less excuse for bombastic optimism. We need trained men. They must be adequately armed. Men and material must be moved in ships. We must patiently await the day when this nation is fully armed and prepared for warfare.

Enemy Superiority Reaps Reward

This means, undoubtedly, that we must suffer defeats and experience humiliations. Our enemies, better prepared, reap the inevitable rewards of present superiority. Until the tools are ready for army men and ships available for navy men we must bide our time which will assuredly arrive.

Forget the street-corner strategist whose only advice is to "assume the offensive" and "carry the war to the enemy." With what? Ignore the super-patriot who knows that our military leaders are "defensively minded." In view of what they haven't got to fight with, why shouldn't they be? Nobody but a fool would order an attack, on land or sea, without a chance of complete success.

Don't fool yourself with the idea that our forces are being held back for fun, while our enemy gains ground. Just remember that battles are not won by popular opinions. Our military and naval leaders know what they are doing and, you can take it from us, no group in the nation is more eager for offensive action. Our fighting men have the offensive spirit but it takes much more to beat an enemy. The "much more" includes guns, tanks, planes, ships and equipment but it also includes the loyalty, courage and faith of a nation.

It is time for the people of Lenawee County to show their intelligent understanding of this war and our relative unpreparedness. It is time to redouble production, to proclaim confidence and to serve America on the home front. Do your bit!

Red Cross Gets 110 Pts. Blood

"BLOOD BANK CAR" STAFF HAPPY FOR CONTRIBUTIONS MADE BY TECUMSEH FOLK

The Rev. O. V. Robinson, chairman of the Tecumseh committee for securing blood donations for the American Red Cross, reported that 110 pints of blood were donated on Monday of this week to the "Blood Bank" from the Detroit Red Cross. It was hoped that at least 100 pints might be given.

Through the efforts of the Rev. Mr. Robinson and his committee of local pastors, the Methodist church parlors were secured as headquarters for the Red Cross mobile unit that arrived in town from Detroit about 10:50 last Monday morning. Also, ladies from the Friends Episcopal, Baptist, Presbyterian, and Methodist churches worked in the kitchen, preparing lunches for the workers and the donors.

A total of 141 persons offered to give blood, but because of temperatures, colds, heart conditions, and other reasons, 31 were rejected. However blood was accepted from 60 men, and 50 women.

Dr. L. E. Heideman, the physician in charge of the unit said, "We were mighty happy to be invited to Tecumseh. The steady flow of donors coming to give blood made our work easy, and more efficient. This indicated good organization by the committee."

Mrs. Hervey King, county chairman of the Lenawee Red Cross chapter, was here during the day. Assisting her were the following ladies: Mrs. Paul Ahleman, Miss Margaret Sauter, Mrs. Cecil Holsington, Mrs. Thos. Ingersoll, Mrs. Ed Perry, Mrs. Flora Rogers and Mrs. Sam Lieberman from Adrian; Mrs. Lola Richardson, from Clayton, and Mrs. Esther Swift from Blissfield.

Dr. Heideman explained that blood from all humans was the same, regardless of race or color. He said that the American Red Cross had been asked to secure 350,000 pints by July 1, 1942, and an additional 550,000 pints by July 1, 1943. This is being held for use by our armed forces. In describing the process by which human blood is secured, and made available for saving lives on the other side of the world, Dr. Heideman explained how great care was taken first to see that no one donated blood who was not in fit condition to do so. Then, Dr. Heideman explained, how additional fluids were given to the donor. At Tecumseh, orange juice, pineapple juice, grapefruit juice, and tomato juice were given to the donors, through the courtesy of Yale Kerby. The purpose of this was to increase the fluids and to give added sugar.

The blood was shipped from Tecumseh to Indianapolis, and the name of each donor is attached to their gift. This arrives in containers built especially and equipped with dry ice. Then the plasma is separated from the blood corpuscles and the individual lots of blood are pooled in lots of 20. This plasma is then frozen and stored in a temperature of 20 degrees below zero until it can be put in large vacuum chambers. In these chambers, all but 1 pct. or 2 pct. of the water is removed, leaving a dry powder. This powder is then sealed under vacuum, and placed in hermetically sealed tin cans, packaged with a can of distilled water, and all tubing necessary to administer the dissolved plasma to victims when needed.

Mrs. King commented upon the wonderful spirit of cooperation that was manifested in Tecumseh. "It's that spirit that makes a community successful," she said. She referred to the help from the hospital, to the aid rendered by Mr. Robinson, and the kitchen workers.

"In fact," said Mrs. King,—"There wasn't a break anywhere."

The last thing Dr. Heideman said when the unit drove away was, "Be sure to thank the folks for the meals."

Hudson, and Clinton have made application for the unit to come to their communities, but no dates have as yet been given. Tecumseh is one of the smallest towns outside of the Detroit area to undertake this project.

Indian Cagers Go to Jackson Tonight After Winning Regional Meet at Ypsi

Persons interested in bus transportation to Lansing, Friday evening, to witness the semi-finals in the cage tournament, in the event Tecumseh wins at Jackson tonight, are requested to call either Clarence Gilman or the Superintendent's office at the high school. If there is sufficient interest, W. L. Berkhof, superintendent, said a bus will be chartered for the Lansing game. Reservations may be made either today or tomorrow for Lansing.

By Bob Larsen

For the first time in the history of Tecumseh high school, Coach Fred Raikx's 1942 basketball team won the Michigan Regional Class C Tournament at Ypsilanti, last week-end. The Indians, led by the magnificient playing of "Bob" Wilson, defeated Mount Carmel (Wyandotte) on Friday night, and St. Thomas, (Ann Arbor) on Saturday evening.

As a result of their regional winnings, the Tecumseh cagers will journey to Jackson this evening to enter the quarter-finals of the state tournament. On the neutral Jackson floor, the Indians will meet a quintet from Williamston. If they win the Jackson game they will go to Lansing on Friday to participate in the semi-finals in that city.

"We have an even chance to win at Jackson tonight," was the way one of the local cage enthusiasts commented, "Tecumseh, you know, has a superb team this year, playing like clock-work. We have won both the district and regional tournaments, and we should not suffer any stage-fright at Jackson."

Williamson, however, is expected to give Tecumseh plenty of competition this evening. The quintet from that town is fast and shifty.

Scores of fans from Tecumseh witnessed the games in Ypsilanti last week-end. The Indians encountered their most serious difficulty with the St. Thomas team, the Ann Arbor boys operating with an almost air-tight defense.

After upsetting a strong Blissfield team in an overtime game, St. Thomas played a war of nerves against the Indians. It was a minute and a half after the start of the game that the Redmen got the ball for the first time. St. Thomas guards did an excellent passing job in an effort to draw out Tecumseh's defense, but the Indians were not to be fooled. The ball shifted back and forth during the entire game with neither team making an outstanding play. At the end of the third quarter the score was eight to seven, in favor of Tecumseh. It was in the final stanza that the Redmen paced their opponents and stepped into a 13 to 8 victory.

In the game with Mt. Carmel, Wilson was high point man with 10 to his credit, Green and Hamilton were next with nine and eight, respectively. Mt. Carmel's players averaged six feet in height, but gave the Indians very little difficulty. Mt. Carmel started a second quarter rally but toward the end of the third it petered out and the Indians won by a score of 33 to 21.

Another Waste Paper Drive Here, Saturday

The seventh "Salvage for Victory" waste paper collection by the Boy Scouts of Tecumseh will take place on Saturday of this week, the Rev. O. V. Robinson, in charge of the work, announced today. Residents are urged to have their waste paper in boxes and old newspapers tied, and left in a conspicuous place, that the Scouts may see them as they pass along the streets.

"Tecumseh is doing a marvelous work in the collection of this paper," was the Rev. Mr. Robinson's comment. "Thus far, we have shipped about 16 tons of waste paper to the mills, and we have about three tons more ready for shipment. We should receive a ton or two in this week's collection."

Tecumseh stages two "Salvage for Victory" pick-ups monthly, the first and third Saturdays of each month, Mr. Robinson expressed his appreciation to the public for its cooperation, and pointed out that waste paper is badly needed to keep mills in production for defense.

Fire Fans Face Severe Penalty

ORDINANCE "WITH TEETH" IS PASSED BY THE TECUMSEH VILLAGE COUNCIL

If you are one of Tecumseh's numerous fire fans—and according to the village council the "woods is full of 'em"—be prepared for a real jolt when the traffic officer says, "Report next Monday to Justice Blank; he'll impose the sentence."

The reason—well, the council enacted a new ordinance at a special session last Thursday evening, making it a violation of the law for a persons to drive or park a car in the block in which a fire is in progress, and empowered the chief of the department with the right to remove or cause to be removed any cars already parked there.

Violators of the ordinance will be subject to a fine of not LESS than $10 or more than $100, or not less than 10 days or more than 90 days in jail, plus costs or both such fine and jail sentence, for the first offense. Second offenders are punishable by a fine of not LESS than $25 or more than $100, or both, plus costs, or not less than 30 or more than 90 days in jail.

The council some months ago enacted a new ordinance in an effort to control traffic at the time of a fire, but Mayor J. Floyd Elliott declared that more "teeth" are needed for its rigid enforcement.

Firemen say that motorists do not use their common sense at the time of a fire, that some motorists try to race with the department, some of them succeed in passing the fire truck, and others arrive at the fire before the department and hamper its operation.

"This ordinance has teeth and its going to be enforced," was Mayor Elliott's comment on the new law. "It was given immediate effect by the council, and we intend to put it into immediate operation. I trust that we will not have to use it the first time the department goes out, but if we do, the violator is going to have to pay at least $10 for his 'fun' plus the costs. That may cause him not to commit the offense the second time."

There was little other business before the meeting, which was called for the purpose of canvassing the vote at last weeks' election. The earlier tabulation was found to be correct, there being 62 votes cast for the Peoples Ticket, headed by Mayor Elliott. All incumbent officers were re-elected.

Current bills were audited and ordered paid, and the council adjourned after a 30-minute session.

County Jail System Is Wrong, Scott Says At Rotary Meet Here

JAIL SHOULD HAVE CELLS; URGES SHORTER TERMS, SOLITARY CONFINEMENT

The boy who drinks a bit too much or commits some other offense for the first time, and who, while in his teens, is thrown into jail for his crime, doesn't belong in the Lenawee county jail or in many county jails in the state of Michigan, Sheriff Roscoe Scott of Adrian, told Rotarians when he spoke at the noon-day club luncheon meeting in St. Peter's parish house here, Tuesday.

"I'm not making a plea for a new county jail, and I'm not saying that our jail is worse than the average jail in Michign," the sheriff said, "but I am saying that I wouldn't want my boy in such a jail, or your boy. We are our brother's keepers, and every boy that goes to jail is somebody's boy.

"At the jail in Adrian, because we lack room, we must put all of the prisoners in a single room. They all use the same toilet, the same bath, the same lavatory. They must mingle with each other, play cards for pastime, eat and sleep with one another. The boy

Red Cross Here Is Without Work

HAS HAD NO YARN SINCE LAST NOVEMBER; 50 WOMEN ANXIOUS TO GET BUSY

There are at least 100 hands—100 hands that are willing to give of their time and effort for the American Red Cross—that are idle in Tecumseh today, because the local branch of the Lenawee Chapter is without materials with which to furnish them employment.

Mrs. Edna Codling, local chairman, pointed out today that there are more than 50 women who are willing and anxious to give of their time, but the Lenawee Chapter with offices in Adrian has failed to furnish the necessary materials.

Tecumseh has received no Red Cross yran since last November, Mrs. Codling said. Since January 1, Tecumseh has received 93 garments for sewing, mostly boys shirts and overalls. These have been completed and returned, but another supply, although promised, has not been forthcoming.

"I don't know what the trouble is or can be," Mrs. Codling said. "We have a dispensing room in the basement of the library ready for the sewing, but there's no need for it, because we have nothing to dispense. We want to work, but we can't. We haven't anything to work with."

Mrs. Codling said she did not feel it was up to the Tecumseh women to go to Adrian daily for materials.

"With the present tire short areg," she said, "we think the materials should be delivered to us by the Red Cross, and returned by them. Tires can be had for Red Cross cars. We can't replace ours."

E. C. Heilman, local air raid wardn and a member of the Civilian Defense Committee of the county, said today that he would investigae the complaints of the local women, and meet with Mrs. Herbert King, county Red Cross chairman, in an effort to remedy the condition.

"Certainly," Mr. Heilman commented, "this is not the time to have a shortage of work so far as the Red Cross is concerned. If we have 50 women here who are anxious and willing to work, they should be given employment. I don't know what's wrong, but I have been hearing these complaints for several weeks. As a member of the county committee, I intend to make a thorough investigation."

HIGH MARKS AND HIGH SALARIES—

There is little relationship between high marks in college and high salaries or advancement in later life, according to a 10-year analysis of the records of more than 1,000 college graduates by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

The report raises some interesting speculation. It may surprise some people to hear that high college standing does not foreshadow financial success but it may also be observed that, in our imperfectly organized society, men do not always reap the rewards that are earned by social usefulness.

After 10 years, the survey shows, one-quarter of the graduates were earning less than $2,000 a year; about three-quarters were earning less than $3,500 a year and only one-quarter were earning more than $3,500.

Dr. William S. Learned, head of the Foundation, finds no "close correspondence between academic records and later achievement as expressed in salaries or advancement in positions." He reports, however, that more than forty per cent of the high mark men selected their life occupations because of their "interest" rather than because of "money return."

It goes without saying that, in an ideal society, financial reward to the individual should be based upon the contribution of the individual to society. This, it is plain, is not the fact in many cases.

It must not be overlooked that many students in colleges and universities fail to exert their maximum capacities in acquiring an education. Very often their mental attention is diverted to extra-curricula activities. This accounts, in part, we suspect, for instances where college students of mediocre ability make outstanding records in later life.

QUITTING IS UN-AMERICAN—

One illustration of what should not happen during war is the resignation of twenty-eight air raid wardens in the City of Washington.

These civilian volunteers were dissatisfied with the way their organization was being run and with their inability to get the equipment that they desired.

It may be that these little Americans would be satisfied if the President, Admiral King and General Marshall would forget other matters and see that they are supplied with whistles, arm-bands, ropes, hand-books, etc.

A fitting comment comes from Colonel Lemuel L. Bolles, head of the Office of Civilian Defense in Washington, who remarked that "there are a number of men under MacArthur in the Philippines who are not resigning and who are not getting equipment either."

Civilians in the United States must understand that this is their war. They should not expect a cake-walk. They must endure privation if the nation is to win. The quitting spirit is un-American, regardless of difficulties, large or small.

TRAFFIC DEATHS INCREASE—

Exactly 3,140 Americans died in traffic accidents in January, according to the National Safety Council, which says this is an increase of seven per cent over January, 1941.

The increase occurred despite curtailment of automobiles and tires. Despite this, there seems to have been no decrease in automobile travel in January.

Just how many people will be killed, per month, when automobiles become worn and tires unsafe, no one can predict. Every person, however, can exercise caution and care in connection with the operation of his or her vehicle.

COUNTY JAIL SYSTEM IS WRONG, SCOTT SAYS

who is a first offender must 'live' with the toughest prisoner in the jail, he must use the same lavatory, regardless of the disease of his fellow prisoner."

Sheriff Scott does not believe that such treatment builds better men. He does not think that a first offender is made a better man because of such treatment at the hands of the county. He does not believe that the things first offenders hear from fellow prisoners makes them better men.

"I've heard old-time offenders, Jackson-hardened criminals, advise these young fellows how to 'beat the rap.' And the peculiar part of it is that many of these young fellows believe the Jackson criminals, it gets them started on the wrong path."

Sheriff Scott believes that the proper way to house prisoners at the jail is in separate cells, each with shower and lavatory and toilet. In this way the cells can be kept sanitary. He believes that the prisoners should be confined 24 hours a day in these cells, with nothing but the Scriptures to read. He also believes that under such a system it would be possible to reduce the sentences one-half (make a normal 30 day sentence 15 days) and accomplish more good than is now the case.

"You'd save half the cost of keeping prisoners, or, in Lenawee county in the past 20 years a sufficient sum to build a new jail of the type we need. That's the money, out-of-your-pocket money that you would save. How much you would save in building better manhood—manhood free of diseased minds and bodies, I can't tell you. I do know, however, that you and I as taxpayers would be well repaid."

Sheriff Scott made it plain that he was not condemning the Lenawee jail alone. He said that a similar condition exists in almost every county jail in the state.

Sheriff Scott made one of the finest, most interesting talks heard by the Rotarians here in many months. He told of the work that is being done by his department, how his deputies in the past year caused more arrests than all other officers in the county put together, this aside from their other duties.

"Your sheriff's office is a mighty busy place," he concluded. "You may not, and probably do not realize it, because you have no occasion to dealing with us. But I invite you to come over any time—stay for a week if you wish—and watch us work. You'll find that our business is growing, just as it is in every other department of your government."

WE CAN
SUIT YOU for EASTER

For two reasons, you should join the Easter Parade this year in a new suit or coat, fashioned in fine wool, modeled in the latest design. The first reason is that you desire to be in style, the second —and the most important—clothing is becoming harder and harder to buy—especially wool.

We anticipated this condition and we have on hand a large assortment of suits, coats, skirts and jackets, priced to suit and carefully styled. We urge you to take advantage of these offerings NOW.

Men—had we told you last November that you were going to face a shortage of tires, would you have laid in a supply? We know your answer.

We are not telling you that there is going to be a rationing of clothing, but we do know that clothing is going to be scarce—that fine all-wool garments are going to be very scarce.

That's why we are saying to you now — just before Easter—to buy the clothes you need. We're not urging you to buy more than you need—we're warning you.

We have the finest garments in town—including the famous Michael-Sterns brands of Suits, at pre-inflation prices. Our topcoats, too, are all wool and of the finest materials.

Why not buy now—while you can buy wool.

KITE FLYING

A SAFE KITE FLYER OBSERVES THE FOLLOWING RULES

1. He never flies his kite near electric wires of any kind. Kites with metal parts are dangerous if they fall across electric wires.
2. He never uses wire or twine that has wire in it for a kite string. Wet string is dangerous because it conducts electricity.

A TELEPHONE

Help is never far away—if you have a telephone! A telephone call will bring neighbors or the nearest fire department. When fire starts, a few minutes, one way or the other, may mean the difference between losing your buildings or saving them.

Besides being priceless in emergencies—the telephone, for everyday use, is worth much more than its small cost. It runs errands, keeps you in touch with friends, helps sell your produce and livestock — brings pleasure to the entire family.

Clerk Dies In Torch Slaying

MYSTERY AT MANCHESTER STILL UNSOLVED; RECALL SIMILAR DEATH YEAR AGO

Washtenaw county authorities are puzzled today by the mysterious torch slaying of Orville Wurster, 34-year-old dry-goods store clerk in Manchester, whose nude and burned body was found early Tuesday morning on a farm two miles east of Manchester. Wurster's death occurred within three miles of the spot where last May 10 the body of Miss Hazel Briggs of Detroit, 38-year-old spinster, was found under somewhat similar circumstances. She had been visiting her mother who lived at the edge of Manchester.

Wurster's body was found by a searching party in woods on the farm of Oscar Buss. Nearby were two cans that had contained kerosene. Some 200 feet way, buried in an 18-inch trench, were the man's clothes. No weapon was found.

The fact that Wurster's feet were clean, indicating that he had not walked bare-foot, and that authorities doubt that the burns on his body would have caused death, puzzle officers. They doubt that he may have committed suicide, and recall the similar slaying of Miss Briggs.

Wurster, unmarried, clerked in his uncle's store, G. H. Breitenwischer, in Manchester. The uncle identified one of the kerosene cans and a flashlight, found near the body, as being from his store.

Wurster, who in his youth suffered from infantile paralysis, disappeared sometime Sunday night. His car was parked near his uncle's store.

Officers are of the opinion that Wurster's death and the death of Miss Briggs were caused by the same hands, and are conducting their investigation along those lines.

New Fire Truck Up to Electors

PROPOSAL ON APRIL BALLOT IN THE TOWNSHIP; WOULD BE "FREE" SERVICE

A proposition, authorizing the Tecumseh township board to expend an amount not in excess of $8,500 for the purchase and equipment of a new rural fire truck, will be submitted to electors when they go to the polls here on Tuesday, April 6. The proposal was placed on the ballot after the board had received a petition, bearing the names of 100 farmers, asking that it be submitted to the voters.

"Of course we have not asked for bids on a new fire truck, and we do not know exactly what a new one would cost today," H. H. Hanna, township clerk, said. "We do know, however, that the $8,500 figure will be sufficient to make the purchase, and to properly equip it, and we believe we will have considerable money left. We do not intend to pay any more for the truck than is necessary, and we hope in another week to have some definite figures available for the public."

It was pointed out that the new truck must, of necessity, be heavier than the one recently purchased by the village. Also, that it must be equipped with tanks for the carrying of a water supply, and be of the cab type, rather than open, as was the case with the village truck. All of the approved rural trucks now carry one or two tanks of water, sufficient to mix chemicals, etc., immediately upon arrival at the scene of a blaze. This greatly speeds up the work of the firemen.

The new truck would replace the rural apparatus now some 15 years old, and housed in the Tecumseh fire barn. The present truck, it was pointed out, is badly in need of repair, and is obsolete from the standpoint of insurance companies. It also was said that it is difficult to obtain repairs for the present truck, inasmuch as motors of that type are no longer manufactured.

The present truck has been housed by the village, and operated by village firemen, and answers only those calls where farmers are members of the association, or where payment is guaranteed before the "run" is made.

The plan, if a new truck is purchased, is to house it in the village barn, and it would be operated by village firemen, but it would answer calls anywhere in the township, whether farmers were members of the association or not. In other words, the "association" would no longer exist, and all rural residents would receive the same service, and without payment either before the run was made or after. The cost of operating the equipment would be borne through taxation, the same as is now the practice in the village.

Members of the township board pointed out that there is at this time a considerable sum in the sinking fund, and it is believed a part of this might be used toward the payment of the truck. It might be necessary, it was said, to spread out the payment of the balance over a one or two year period, and adding a one mill tax (one dollar a thousand assessed valuation) would easily meet such a delayed payment plan. The $1 a thousand tax would raise about $3,000 annually.

It is also possible that neighboring townships might like to enjoy the services of the Tecumseh rural truck, and in such an event it was said that townships now are permitted under the law to spend not to exceed $750 annually for such proection. Thus far, members of the Tecumseh board said that neighboring townships had not asked for service, but some farmers in this area believe that such a request might be made if Tecumseh buys a new truck.

How quickly a new truck might be delivered here, if voters approve the plan, is entirely problematical. With the shortage of materials, due to the war, and with priorities to defense plants, it might be several months before the township is able to obtain delivery. The village, when it purchased its truck last summer, waited delivery for several months.

The Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service will meet at the church Thursday, April 2, for a planned pot luck luncheon at one o'clock. Mrs. Ruth Staninger of Northville, president of the Ann Arbor district of the society, will be the speaker.

TWENTY-THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF UNDERWOOD-ORR POST IS CELEBRATED

The twenty-third anniversary of the founding of the American Legion was celebrated Thursday night by members of Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 and Auxiliary, at a seven o'clock dinner in the Legion hall. Sixty members attended and Past Commanders and Past Presidents were the honor guests.

Lyman Curtiss, commander of the post, called the meeting and colors were presented by Jack Smith, sergeant-at-arms. This was followed by the pledge of allegiance and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Don Goddard, post chaplain, gave the invocation.

A three tiered birthday cake in blue and white, centered with 23 lighted red candles and topped with a flag, centered the speakers' table. Other tables were attractive with red, white and blue tapers and large red V's for Victory.

After the dinner a program was announced by Mrs. Paul Keyser, president of the auxiliary, and opened with a reading "Grand Opera for Breakfast" by Mrs. L. A. Carlson. All past presidents of the Auxiliary were introduced by Mrs. Louis Schneider, the first president of the Auxiliary. Mrs. C. W. Howe, in behalf of the president and the past presidents, presented the auxiliary with a gavel bell, which was accepted for the auxiliary by Mrs. Jack Smith, vice-president. Dr. H. H. Hammel was then introduced as the first commander of the Legion Post and after a short talk he introduced the past commanders.

An amusing "courtship quiz" was conducted by Mrs. Ray Sluyter after which the colors were retired and the program concluded with the singing of "America."

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drewyor of Lansing and Mrs. Florence Honsinger of Ypsilanti.

The fracture bed project conducted by the auxiliary has been completed. The bed will be obtained as soon as possible and the cash surplus will be used by the unit for rehabilitation purposes.

Mrs. Sarah A. Nobles Will Be Buried Today

Mrs. Sarah Agnes Nobles, aged 79 years, widow of the late Merton Nobles, passed away Monday at 5:30 in Tecumseh hospital where she had been a patient since Sunday. Mrs. Nobles fell nine weeks ago and broke her arm and had since been confined to her bed most of the time, sitting up only for her meals. Last Wednesday the cast was removed but Mrs. Nobles never recovered from the shock of the fall and grew steadily worse. She had been in poor health since the death of her husband six years ago. She was a member of the Friends Church and of the Royal Neighbors of America.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Eva Beevers, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Fern Stewart of Toledo; two granddaughters, Mrs. Hazel Murphy and Mrs. Sadie Seeburger; also eight great grand children. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Sophia Layton of Jackson and Mrs. Dolly Brooks of Horton.

Funeral services will be held today at 2:30 at the Belding Funeral Home, with Rev. Edward Escolme officiating.

Peevish Voters Might Oust Leaders If They Faced Election This Spring

By Gene Alleman
Special To The Herald

LANSING, Mar. 26 — If the fall elections were to be held today, many Michigan office-holders would be buried in a landslide protest.

Fortunately for these public officials, in Washington as well as in Lansing, we're still going to have an election in November, not this spring.

Right or wrong, the man on the street is pretty mad today. He is mad about the way the war is going. He is made about labor's insistence of double pay for Sunday work, while the government asks him to buy bonds cheerfully and to pay more taxes. He is made about a 40-hour week, while his son serves in the army for $21 a month.

He is mad about Congress. He is made about the state defense officials.

He is just plain mad—frustrated, peeved, and sore.

The popular protest is a reaction to several developments.

We are losing a war, and we don't like it a bit. The idea of Americans being beaten isn't natural to us. Hence, we would like to kick someone in the pants, toot sweet, and if a Nazi or Jap isn't handy, we'll take the next best thing at home.

We read headlines that the C.I.O. in Detroit automobile plants must be paid double time for work on Sunday, and that Michigan sons who get $21 a month are killed in Java. That doesn't make sense.

Nearly 400,000 Michigan men registered a few weeks ago for selective service. On March 18 many of us learned of our numbers after a lottery at Washington. We face possible military sacrifice, and that brings the war home closer than ever.

Our income taxes are higher, too. That is all right, but it makes us think a bit more.

Governor Frank Murphy, friendly to labor during the sit-down strike, was caught in a protest wave at the following November election.

Politicians will tell you that the late Frank Fitzgerald wasn't elected by an uprising of citizens who went to the polls to vote for Fitzgerald. He won because a lot of

At next week's meeting reports of the State Federation will be given by Mrs. R. H. Moore and Mrs. Sam Sisson. The program will include a paper on "Ohio" by Mrs. C. H. Women's Clothes Styles To Stay For Duration

Present fashions in women's clothes will prevail until the war is won in accordance with an order affecting women's apparel that will be issued soon by the War Production Board, R. R. Guthrie, chief of the textile, clothing and leather goods branch of the WPB, announced.

"It is our desire to more or less freeze the existing silhouette," Guthrie said. "The object will be to prevent radical changes in style that would make women's clothes now worn or already cut out of style, resulting in a waste of materials in clothes now manufactured and a heavy demand for the new materials required for new style clothes.

"We are fully cognizant of the importance of fashion and fashion creators to the garment and retail trades, and to the general field of public morale."

Red Cross Needs More Materials

YARNS AND CLOTH SCARCE, COMMITTEE TOLD; TECUMSEH GETTING "SHARE"

There is a distinct shortage of American Red Cross materials, but Tecumseh is receiving its "share" of yarn and cloth that have been sent to the Lenawee County Chapter at Adrian, Mrs. Harvey King, county chairman, told a local committee at a meeting held here Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Edna Codling, Tecumseh chairman.

"We have tried to get more materials, and we have requisitioned them time and again from the national association," Mrs. King said, "but we are advised that there is a shortage. We are, in Lenawee county, receiving materials as rapidly as they are released by the national organization. We have, from time to time, tried to buy needed yarns and materials locally, but we have found that a shortage also exists in our own community."

The meeting Tuesday was for the purpose of advising persons here interested in Red Cross work that Tecumseh is not being slighted by the county chapter in its apportionment of work materials. The shortage, it was made plain, exists not only here, but throughout the state and the nation.

Mrs. King, however, pointed out that the national organization is bending every effort to obtain the release of more materials, and that more may arrive here at any moment. She warned that it is necessary to keep all Red Cross units intact to meet any emergencies, and urged hat Tecumseh women meet to map out a program of "making" or "finding" work that they might do, pending the arrival of yarn and cloth. In some communities, she said, women are piecing quilts and making lap robes from material scraps. She brought a box of such scraps to be distributed locally, and suggested that more might be found here.

Mrs. King also urged that Tecumseh immediately appoint a "home service" chairman, to contact families of men who have been inducted into the armed service, that the Red Cross may be of assistance to any family where help is needed.

"This is one branch of the Red Cross work that cannot be publicized," she said, "but it is a branch that is growing rapidly, and is needed badly. I cannot urge too strongly that you act here at once."

Mrs. Kng was advised that Tecumseh is anxious and willing to be of every asstance possible to the Red Cross. It was pointed out that the community recently contributed 110 units of blood to the Red Cross "bank," and in the last emergency drive, subscribed approximately 80 cents per capita, more than doubling its quota.

Those attending the meeting with Mrs. King were Mrs. C. J. Caughey, county production manager, Mrs. Alleman, roll call chairman of Adrian, Mrs. Codling, local chairman, Perry Hayden, Mrs. Vincent Haight, E. C. Hellman and Earl L. Wickwire.

Indian Cagers Happy in Defeat

ALTHOUGH THEY LOST AT LANSINNG, STUDENTS ARE ELATED OVER VIICTORY

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school cage team, for the first time in history, won the state quarter finals last Thursday night on the Jackson high court, by defeating the Williamston quintet.

Friday night they journeyed to Lansing where they tasted of defeat for the first time this season why they met a strong St. Mary's (Flint) team in the state semi-finals.

This has been the most successful year for the Indians in the history of the school. After the grid team had successfully defeated all opponents in eight successive games, the cage team carried on by defeating Milan, Hudson, Morenci, Clinton, Blissfield, Manchester and Addison each twice. They then went on to new heights by defeating Dundee, Lambertville and Petersburg, to become the district champions of 1942, in the district at Dundee. They then journeyed to Ypsilanti where they drew a bye for the first round of the regional eliminations and defeated Mt. Carmel to gain a place in the state semi-finals.

In the regional they played St Thomas (Ann Arbor) and defeated them in a defensive game by a score of 13-8.

For the first time in history then, a Tecumseh high cage team won the right to go to the state eliminations.

Tecumseh was assigned to the Jackson court with Williamston as an opponent. On last Thursday the Indians defeated the Williamston quintet by a score of 35-33.

Max Green, rangy center, was high point man for Tecumseh with 11 points to his credit. John Hamilton was next with eight and Bob Mohr followed with seven.

Spectators got a thrill when Williamston rallied in the last two minutes and the Indians ten point lead dwindled to only two points.

Williamston is the most unorthodox team the Indians met all year. With no real organized offense and a peculiar defense they had managed to fool every team they had met thus far. But in state competition a team cannot depend on confusing their opponents to win the game for them.

On last Friday, the Indians journeyed to Lansing where they ran up against a very strong Flint team, which handed them their first defeat in the '41-42 cage season. The game was tied up at five all at the end of the first period, and it looked like anybody's ball game. But after the first quarter Tecumseh could

Many Gardens Are Available

VICTORY COMMITTEE SURVEYS TOWN; LISTS AVAILABLE PLANTING PLOTS

With the approach of the gardening season the work of the committee on Tecumseh Victory Gardens is moving into high gear. Tuesday evening, the committee met at the office of the Freeze-it Lockers. Much of the time was spent in checking over the results of the survey made by C. R. Dustin and the class in economics of Tecumseh high school.

The survey showed that many persons have gardens or vacant lots that may be secured by others for gardens. Many of these are available on rental basis, a few are availble without rent. As the Victory Garden Committee is simply promoting the idea of vegetable gardens, and of giving counsel in this and related subjects, such as planting schedules, advice on soils, canning, etc., it does not as a committee handle such matters as rentlas of property or the sale of the seeds.

"Persons who want to secure a garden may make arrangements with some one listed below," the Rev. Edward Escolme, chairman of the committee, said. "Some of the gardens will be large ones, others small ones. Choose the one you can work to good advantage. Better have a good small garden, than a large poor one. This list will be revised next week. If you have a garden or a lot that is available to som one else please call Miss Marian Whelan, the secretary of the Victory Garden Committee, and it will be listed next week. Furthermore the committee will be glad to help in the solution of local gardening problems. Leave a statement of your problem with Miss Whelan.

The Tecumseh Garden Club is cooperating with the Victory Garden Committee, and on behalf of the club Mrs. F. C. Hanna is preparing an attractive display in Palman's store on E. Chicago Blvd. The committee extends its thanks to Palman's for the free use of the building.

Individuals in Tecumseh who have gardens available for someone else are:

L. W. Larsen, 710 West Pottawatamie; Yale Kerby, West Chicago Blvd.; Mrs. Margaret Kidman, 215 West Shawnee; Blanche Perrin, 109 West Patterson; Miss Phoebe Wagner, 315 East Shawnee; Della Brown, 210 South Oneida; C. Sugar Rationing Will Begin About April 13

The amount of sugar available under the sugar rationing program which will go into effect about the second week in April will be one-half pound per person per week, according to a statement made by Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner.

The rationing registration period originally set for March 16, was delayed to permit a thorough distribution of the millions of rationing booklets. While the word 'sugar' does not appear on the rationing booklets, the first eight stamps in the booklet will be good for one pound of sugar each, and each stamp will be good for two weeks.

"I believe it is important to note that the War Rations booklet is not just for sugar alone," Governor Van Wagoner said, "but is for any other product which may be rationed—coffee or a sult of clothes or gasoline or what not. The present plan is for the Government to announce what the stamps may be used for."

ADVERTISING HAS CHANGED—

On examining newspapers and magazines today, it is apparent to the average reader that advertising has changed. No longer do we find high pressure salesmanship. Concerns are not bragging how good their particular commodities are.

Reading the advertisements is now almost as essential to the average citizen as reading the news articles and the editorials. The ads are full of good sound advice telling you how to conserve various essential materials such as oil, tires, rubber and sugar. Patriotic concerns sponsor ads advising them to buy United States Defense Stamps and Bonds.

Subscribers to The Herald should not miss a single advertisement in any issue of the newpaper. Readers should remember that the concerns are spending their money to get this vital information to the residents of Tecumseh and its trading area.

DON'T HOARD SILK HOSE—

The Bureau of Home Economics discovered some years ago that women with average and less than average incomes spend from 12 to 20 per cent of their clothes money for silk stockings.

Our tense, teethy yellow enemies in the Pacific have, however, cut off our supply of silk, and thus the American woman is facing a bare-legged future.

When present supplies of silk stockings run out, women will be forced to accept a substitute. Enters cotton!

Fortunately, experts have been working out ways of treating cotton and styles for cotton stockings for three years. There are more than 150 different designs from sheerest cobweb meshes for evening wear to heavy knit for service wear.

To make the best looking cotton stockings, long cotton fibers are needed. This is one of the reasons why the government is encouraging the growth of long fiber cotton.

Some women seem to feel that cotton stockings are inferior to silk ones, and they are tempted to buy an extra supply of silk. But hoarding silk won't pay. How would you feel walking down the street in silk stockings if everyone else wore cotton? Silk stockings may become as conspicuous as a sore thumb.

—o—

WAKE UP! WE'RE AT WAR—

This is not a new war. It is the same struggle of barbarism against civilization which has been fought again and again in the past. The democracy of Athens went down before the massed armies of the Persians. Once before Rome crumbled under the onslaught of Germanic tribes. The forces of the East were halted only just outside the gates of Vienna. A battle in the Straits of Trafalgar, and the snows and cold of Russia were all that turned another would-be Ruler of the World back across the Beresina ice to his downfall at Waterloo. So it has been.

Such is the war that wages today. We must face the grim reality that we are fighting those who have nothing to lose but their lives. For years they have concentrated on preparing for this fight. It is easy to say that if they had spent on production what they have spent on destruction, on intrigue, in inciting hatreds, they could have attained peace and prosperity. It is true—but they did not want peace. They wanted just what every other gangster has wanted since the beginning of time. LOOT.

Can we, knowing this, continue to sit back comfortably and say we are the richest nation in the world and that, therefore, we will surely win? We are the righest—in loot. But in order to win, we must wake up to a realization of what defeat would mean to you and to me. We must put all of our forces, mental and physical, to work. We must mobilize ALL our resources and be ready to sacrifice everything to the all-out struggle to win this war. This we must do NOW before it is too late.

Wake up. The soft and easy days of peace are gone. In the words of Patrick Henry: "If we wish to be free; if we wish to preserve inviolate these inestimable privileges for which we have been so long contending; if we mean not basely to abandon the noble struggle in which we have been so long engaged, and which we have pledged ourselves never to abandon until the glorious object of our contest shall be obtained—we must fight! An appeal to arms, and the God of Hosts, is all that is left us."

folks were mad. They expressed their anger at sit-downs by voting against Murphy, and in so doing they had to vote for his opponent.

We are not saying that Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner faces the same fate. The situation is not parallel.

But a lot of people are restless today. And voters usually do rational things when they are in a mood to kick someone in the pants —whether the fault lies at Washington or at home. By November they may feel differently about it.

That Harry F. Kelly is going to toss his hat into the ring is conceded at Lansing.

The question is: What ring?

Will he run for governor or for United States senator?

The secretary of state would like to go to Washington. His inclinations are reported to be more in the direction of national service chiefly because of the war. And yet Harry is a good soldier, and he will abide by the party's decision.

An announcement is expected in the very near future.

Another factor in today's unrest is the grim realization that Michigan's part in World War (with its army of less than four million men) will be greatly eclipsed by today's military demands for war manpower.

Washington is talking today in terms of 8,000,000 to 10,000,000-man army, while another 1,000,000 will be needed for our navy.

To get that many men the government is lifting selective service restrictions. Col. E. M. Rosecrans, director for Michigan, announces that Uncle Sam will furnish eyeglasses and even teeth.

An army of eight or ten millions will take many men with family dependents. (Sixty-four per cent of all registered men have been deferred to date because of their dependents.)

More taxes and more bonds are inevitable, too. War spending is now around $2,300,000,000 a month and is due to reach $4,500,000,000 by the end of 1942. By next year this outpour of dollars will reach $7,500,000,000—a month! Inflation is already here; standards of living are going down; regimentation is certain.

United Automobile Workers (C. I. O.) demand from General Motors Corp. $1 day pay increase, 30-minute paid lunch period, double time Sunday and holidays, 10 pct. premium for work between 3:30 p.m. and midnight; 15 pct. premium for work between midnight and 8 a.m.; 60 days' pay if a worker enters the military service instead of two weeks; $100 bond in lieu of two weeks' vacation.

* * *

Right or wrong, justly or unjustly, the public is going to hold labor to blame for acts of everyone attached to the labor movement. If war production is stopped by strikes, labor will be responsible—in the public's mind. The public also favors limitation of profits by management as well as by labor. Post-war pensions for war veterans are now being conceived.

Such is the unrest which is evident everywhere in Michigan today.

We are losing a war, and we don't like it.

Anderson and Edyth Shull, 203 East Chicago; Mrs. Paul Sheldon, 15 Mill Street; Ethel Keyser, 507 West Chicago; 511 East Chicago Blvd.

Some reasons for Victory Gardens pointed out by the committee are:

The U. S. gov't. expects to take 44% of the asparagus pack.

The U. S. Gov't expects to take 22% of the lima beans packed.

The U. S. Gov't. expects to take 38% of the peas packed.

Other reasons:

1. To release great number of freight trains and trucks from transporting vegetables and fruits, and allow them to transport vital war supplies.

2. To make every family as self sufficient as possible. Little or no gin can vegetables should have to be bought.

3. Vegetables and fruits, together with meat, are necessary in daily meals, for proper nutrition.

4. A supply of fresh and preserved vegetables on hand gives the family a sense of security. The cost of vegetables on the market will possibly increase.

5. Labor for harvesting crops will be scarce.

6. Army camps will use increasing quantities of vegetables.

7. Cash value of half an acre devoted to vegetables well managed ranges from $100.00 to $150.00, while half an acre of oats is worth from $10.00 to $30.00.

(Seed of a few vegetables is scarce. Spinach is one such vegetable.)

BY ALL MEANS DO NOT BUY MORE SEEDS THAN YOU CAN USE.

Don't plow up lawns and flower beds. It is not necessary.

With long evenings and reduced usage of cars, a garden will yield much in enjoyment and profit and health.

65 High Schools Form Councils of Defense

"Approximately 65 high schools in Michigan are forming junior councils of defense following the model of the council at Mackenzie High School, Detroit, which proved so successful in drawing youth into the civilian defense organization, Robert C. Hargreaves of the Michigan Council of Defense staff announced. The councils represent schools in about 40 counties.

Hargreaves said a new activity of the councils would be to establish information centers to answer questions from students, teachers, alumni and parents relating to the war effort. "By this method we hope that opportunities to serve during the war period will become known to high school students."

The council will organize youths ofr community services and farm work, sponsor vocational training programs, sell defense stamps, sponsor victory gardens, collect books for soldiers and sailors, help in the salvage program and write letter to men in the armed forces.

★ Your modern range enables you to follow our food authorities' vitamin-saving, waterless cooking method so that you can serve better more nourishing foods. Your modern refrigerator keeps foods and leftovers safe. Now you can take another big step toward winning this war by helping to decrease the number of accidents that occur in the American home each year.

Would you believe that the deaths caused by accidents in the home last year were nearly equal to the number of deaths due to motor vehicle accidents? Think of it, nearly 32,000 deaths last year, but still more surprising is the fact that home accidents cause four times more disabling injuries than did auto accidents.

Let's put an end to all this grief and expense by guarding against many of these unnecessary accidents, by practicing greater safety in the home this year. There are a great many "Dos and Don'ts" for "Home Safety." Here are a few that will help you to get started on the road to happier safer living.

Check your lighting . . . protect your eyes
Check your wiring . . . guard against fire
Check your fuses . . . don't overload them . . . keep extra fuses handy
Check your appliances . . . keep them in good repair
Keep all knives . . . out of the reach of small children
Don't keep poisons . . . in the medicine cabinet
Don't clutter your stairs . . . with mops, brooms, etc.

These are only a few of the many things that you should check right now. Don't wait, look around your home today and then put away the things that might cause falls, burns, cuts and other serious accidents.

2nd War Front Seen in Europe

JAP TRIUMPH IN PACIFIC MORE THAN OFFSET BY STEADY RUSSIAN GAINS.

(By Hugo S. Sims)

The war began for the United States a little more than 3 months ago when Japan delivered an attack on Pearl Harbor, crippling our admittedly inadequate naval strength in the Pacific.

Since that day the Japanese have moved to secure the entire Southwest Pacific, taking Hong Kong, Singapore, Java and threatening to invade India and Australia. Every island fortress in the area, of vital importance, is denied the United Nations after one hundred days of warfare.

The Japanese triumph, for that is what this unprecedented conquest amounts to, can be attributed to thorough preparation for attack, control of the seas, superiority in the air and the use of trained soldiers in over-whelming numbers at points of attack.

The Japanese have not hesitated to take risks, accept losses and batter forward. Only on Bataan have the Japanese failed to exceed expectations. Elsewhere, the Nipponese are well on their way to dominion of the Far East, to the absolute exclusion of the Western Powers.

Will Japan Attack Russia?

The fighting front now extends close to 5,000 miles from Tokyo but this iniative remains with the Japanese. Long lines of communication may be broken in the future but, for the business in hand, the Japanese have been able to transport men, planes, tanks and supplies with amazing precision.

Whether the Japs will now (1) advance a gainst India to seek a junction with Germany, isolate China and sever important supply lines to Russia, or (2) launch an all-out attack upon Australia, in the effort to close the back-door to a United Nations' offensive, cannot be guessed.

Japan has other alternatives, to adopt the defensive, hold on to conquered lands and entrench, with the option of attacking Russia or not, as Tokyo sees fit. The Soviet looms as a future threat to Japan. The Japanese know that a German victory is essential to their complete victory and a Japanese attack upon Russia may be necessary to prevent Hitler's defeat by the Red army.

Germans Suffer Heavy Mauling

On the Russian front the Red army continues to make good progress. Hitler's soldiers are taking a severe mauling and German reserves are being poured into the battle in an effort to prevent Soviet advances that might imperil the entire German position.

The striking performance of the Red army, in the past three months, has equalled the exploits of the Japanese. In the eyes of many observers the Russian advance is the more important. It presents the only apparent opportunity of an early triumph over an aggressor nation.

That the United States and Great Britain are rushing supplies to the Russians is certain. Both nations understand the supreme urgency of delivery and take some comfort in Moscow's optimistic prediction that bold methods will bring victory in 1942.

Supplies Help But Attack Needed

Where and how the forces of Great Britain and the United States can strike the most damaging blow to their enemies is the question that concerns our leaders. Naturally, the supplies that this nation is sending to the various fronts play a major part in the strategy of future campaigns.

Huge convoys are reaching Russia, with planes, tanks and guns. These weapons, placed in the hands of the Red army, cannot better accomplish the destruction of Nazi military might. Much the same observation applies to the Near East and Australia but there is increasing belief that joint British and American effort will be used to open up a second front in Europe.

If this can be successfully accomplished, the Nazis will face a real two-front war at a time when Russian successes have impaired the striking power of the German armies. It is conceivable that such a battle-zone would compel Hitler to abandon plans for an ambitious campaign, involving the oil fields of the Near East.

Whether this front can be created in time to prevent the Germans from undertaking one more super-drive to win the war is doubtful. That Germany will resume the offensive, on a mammoth scale, within the next two months, is reasonably certain. What happens will determine the duration of the war and, possibly the outcome of the great world struggle.

BLOOD

Since the Pearl Harbor attack there has been a 100 per cent increase in blood donations to the Army-Navy plasma supply. During January and December over 55,000 persons gave blood donations. By February 15 about 100,000 pints of blood had been collected; this falls far short of military and naval needs.

RAIN

In the East the stream flow shortage is more acute because of a lack of rain and snow during January. Florida is the only state in the Union whose stream flow did not decrease.

Rent Boosting Roils Herrick

SAYS PROPERTY OWNERS MUST BE REASONABLE OR HE WILL ASK FOR CEILING

Landlords in Tecumseh, who are attempting to "cash in" on the housing shortage by boosting their rents from 20 to 30 per cent every other month, must discontinue the practice or an appeal will be made to Washington, asking that a "ceiling" be established on house rents in this village, Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products company, declared today.

"I believe in a fair return on investments, but I don't believe in profiteering," Mr. Herrick said. "I realize that we have a housing shortage in Tecumseh, and that we will not be able to build more houses for the duration unless we are declared a defense area. But I also believe in being reasonable with the man who is paying rent. I believe he should be treated fairly. I don't believe that he should be forced to pay $40 a month for a house or a few rooms that should rent for $25 at the most.

"Because there is a shortage, the man with a family is at the mercy of those who would profiteer in house rent. He can't afford to see his wife and kiddies pushed into the street because he refuses to pay $5 or $10 more a month for the house he is living in. Maybe it isn't actually worth the rent he has been paying, but he'll pay the 'asked price' in order to live near his work, and to have a home for his family.

"I've had several complaints of rent boosting from my employees. In many cases they've been forced to pay the increases because they could find no other houses. They're caught in a trap.

"People in Tecumseh who own property for rental purposes should not take advantage of this condition. We're busy at our plant making war materials. We're more interested in winning this war than we are in profits. We know that unless we win this war profits will make no difference to us or to the landlords, now or later.

"Our last payroll amounted to about $129,000 for two weeks' work for our employees, about 1,000 of them. It's big money, yes, but the employees so-called 'profit' is going to go back to the government in the form of taxation. None of us today is going to make a big profit, and we don't want to. As I said, we want to win a war, and we'de willing to pay taxes to do it.

"But what roils me is the fact that some Tecumseh landlords are taking advantage of this housing shortage and are profiteering on their rents. They are asking far more for many houses and apartments than they are worth. They know it, just as well as I know it.

"We're going to employ more men. By July or August we'll have 300 to 400 more men on our payroll than we have today. Our payroll will be larger. The demand for houses here is going to be far greater by fall than it is today.

"I'm interested in keeping my employees satisfied, and they can't be happy paying rent raises every other month. Many of our workmen now are driving from 12 to 50 miles a day because they cannot find places here to live. I venture to say that $75,000 of our last payroll never was or will be spent in Tecumseh. It's too bad, but Tecumseh should get up on its toes and whip this shortage of houses by building. The Chamber of Commerce and the business men should get their shoulder to the wheel and never stop working and demanding until we are declared a defense area, enabling us to build the houses we need. It's to everybody's interest that a defense area be declared.

"But defense area or no defense area," Mr. Herrick concluded, "if this rent grabbing continues, I'm going to Washington and ask that a ceiling be placed on rents in Tecumseh. We can't continue to have help, and keep satisfied employees if rents continue to climb, all out of reason.

"I hope that property owners here will cooperate in this program. Our first interest now is to win the war. Let's 'peg' rents for the duration and forget about excessive profits. It's the patriotic thing to do."

Pupils Given Health Check

SECOND ANNUAL INSPECTION IS COMPLETED IN TECUMSEH PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The second annual health inspection program which has been conducted in the local public school was completed yesterday. This program designed to make available valuable data regarding possible physica l handicaps of pupils and to stimulate the regular instructional program in health, was carried out under the direction of Paul Johnson, with the assistance of the members of the Tecumseh Child Study Club and a number of other interested parents.

The inspection which was carried out in its entirety in the kindergarten and in grades two, four, six, eight, and ten, consisted of tests for defective vision and examination for defects or disorders of teeth, tonsils, lymphatic glands, nutrition and skin. This data, together with height and weight measurements will furnish school authorities with a valuable health index for each child.

A second place of the health inspection program consisted of a test for tuberculosis administered by Dr. Guy M. Claffin to all children whose parents indicated their desire to have their children tested. The very fine response on the part of the parents has made possible a check of approximately 80 percent of the students enrolled. The follow-up of this part of the program will be carried out directly by Dr. Claflin and will be limited to such cases in which a positive reaction to the test was indicated.

The follow-up of the regular inspection program will consist of such corrective measures as the school is capable of providing and also of letters to the parents of children who appear to have defects or disorders as revealed through the inspection. The letters to the parents will stress the fact that the inspection which has been given should be followed by a real examination by the family doctor or dentist and that the school inspection is intended only to discover the need for a more thorough examination.

Special attention of all parents is also being called to the need for immunizing all children against smallpox and diphtheria at the present time when, because of the war efforts, special demands may be made upon our physical reserves. This need was recognized by the President in his Child Health Day proclamation issued February 11, when he urged that a national immunization program be initiated designed to immunize all children over 9 months of age against the two diseases mentioned above. Parents are, therefore, urged to consult with their local physician regarding these important precautions.

The examinations of children in the health program which has just been completed were made by Mrs. Elise Kehoe, a registered nurse who was employed for this purpose with funds made available through the community drive by the Youth Council. Mrs. Paul Johnson, president of the Child Study Club, and Mrs. W. N. Winfield, chairman of the school program committee of the club assumed charge of providing and scheduling the assistants listed below who took charge of the clerical work and such phases of the inspection program as could be carried out without the assistance of the nurse.

These assistants were Mrs. Harold Baser, Mrs. Wm. Martin, Mrs. P. B. O'Brien, Mrs. W. L. Berkhof, Mrs. Lynn Harris, Mrs. Ben Hammack, Mrs. Tom Rodda, Mrs. Hugh Andrews, Mrs. John Thompson Mrs. Vincent Haight Mrs. Earl Lindsley, Mrs. Elmer Burleson, Mrs. Hoyt Raymond, Mrs. Kenneth Will, Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Mrs. H. H. Hanna, Mrs. Keith Barron, Mrs. Roland Mohr, Mrs. Kenneth Johnston, Mrs. George Wilson.

New Fire Truck Issue At Polls

WITH ONLY ONE TICKET IN FIELD, LIGHT VOTE IS EXPECTED ON MONDAY

The proposition of whether or not Tecumseh township should purchase a new fire truck—and this is expected to carry by a heavy majority was seen as the only issue that would attract voters to the polls here on Monday when Tecumseh township names its officers for another year. There is only one ticket in the field, and with but one expection, all candidates are incumbents.

The nominees for office are: Albert Howard, supervisor; H. H. Hanna, clerk; Clyde Barber, justice-of-the - peace; Amey Scutt, treasurer; Geo. Sanford, highway commissioner; E. J. Lowry, member, board of review; constables, Floyd Woodcox A. B. Harding Geo, rge Isaacson and Rupert Arnold.

The voting will, as usual, take place in the council building, and the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The proposal to purchase a new fire truck for the township, are placed on the ballot by petition and the proposition calls for the expenditure of not more than $8,500 for the equipment. The township board prepared and issued these questions and answers on the proposal:

Some questions and answers in regard to the proposed purchase of a new fire truck:

1. What will the fire truck cost?

Ans. No definite figures have been obtained as yet. The $8,500 mentioned on the ballot is the limit that can be appropriated. It is hoped and expected that adequate equipment can be purchased for much less. If the proposition passes, the township board will ask for bids and purchase a truck at the best possible figure.

2. Why is the price so much more than the new truck recently purchased by the village?

Ans. The truck must of necessity be much heavier. It must be of the cab type and must carry water tanks. Things not necessary on the village truck.

3. How much will the purchase of a rural truck increase my taxes?

Ans. The tax limit is $15 per thousand. The 1941 rate was $14.80 in school district No. 7. Therefore your taxes this year can not be raised more than 20c per thousand. The township has surplus enough to pay at least one-half of the cost, and the balance can be spread over more than one year.

4. Who is sponsoring the proposition?

Ans. The proposition is placed on the ballot according to law, one hundred former and village tax payers having filed a petition with the Township Clerk, asking that the proposition be put up to a vote at the April election.

5. Who will have control of the truck?

Ans. According to law the truck must not lose its identity as a township truck, but a contract will no doubt be made with the council whereby the village will have the use of the truck when necessary, for housing and manning it.

6. Who will pay for runs into the country?

Ans. Runs into the township outside of the village will be paid for by the township. Special arrangements will have to be made for any runs beyond the township limits.

7. Why is it desirable to purchase a truck when prices are so high?

Ans. Fire is no respecter of time or conditions. During this emergency there is no doubt that the chance of having fires is much greater than at any other time. Everyone knows that a disastrous fire in our industrial district would be a calamity for everyone in the town. If an extra truck will help to prevent such a disaster, the extra cost is cheap insurance, and the quicker we can get it the better. Adequate fire protection also means lower fire insurance rates.

An Editorial Printed from the Memphis Commercial Appeal

LET ALL KEEP FAITH!

The Commercial Appeal does not permit anyone who is not a member of the staff to write its editorials. There are many reasons for this rule, reasons too numerous to recount here. Today we suspend the rule to present as an editorial a letter from a member of the Arkansas Bar who served with the United States forces in the first World War. An effort to internolate or embellish would only serve to detract from the elements of sheer forcefulness that make it a document every thinking citizen of these United States should read and ponder. The letter follows:

"To The Commercial Appeal:

"My only son was born while I was in France during the first World War. Today he is a member of the United States Marine Corps. He sailed from California the first of January and we have heard nothing from him since. We know he is somewhere in the Pacific. We are anxious about him. Thousands of other parents are like us.

"The President says we do not have enough ships to send supplies to our troops, and that we must build ships in a hurry. Even as he spoke several hundrd shipbuilds refused to work on Washington's Birthday because they were not paid double time.

"How can fathers and mothers of boys who are in the danger zone and who are being call upon to sacrifice their lives feel any 'surge' of unity when the President and the Congress permit a bunch of shipbuilders and munitions workers to quit when they get good and ready?

"Do our boys at the front get 'overtime' and 'double time' in the fox holes of the Philippines? Do our sons who are giving thir lives to protect the jobs of these and others like them quit on holidays? Like hell they do!

"One of my friends, who is a good mechanic, with a family to support, went to get a job in a munitions plant. Every day we hear on the radio and read in the newspapers that such men are needed to turn out munitions for our soldiers, sailors and marines. But this man refused a job until he could get a union card. He could not get a union card because he did not have enough money to buy one.

"It is the idea of our Government that it is more important to preserve labor unions than it is to preserve the American Union? Why can't a freeborn American citizen get a job in a plant where the Government needs workers without having to pay tribute to a highpowered labor leader?

"If our sons are to be drafted to give their lives for their country, why should not Labor and Capital be drafted to supply them with munitions of war? Why should Congress, which has the power to make laws, be so tender of the regard for laborers and management who work and prosper in safety while having an utter disregard for the lives of the boys at the front?

"We don't like it, and we don't mind saying s right out loud. Maybe it is time we were electing some senators and congressmen who will crack down and compel Capital and Labor to get into this war. And, come to think of it, this is election year, and we might as well get busy while we have the time and opportunity."

"JOHN C. SHEFFFIELD."

WOODEN TIRES

We won't guarantee them but a New Jersey inventor is ready to patent wooden automobile tires.

In a recent test run, on a smooth road, the tires were used on the front wheels of a light coupe which made seventy-five miles an hour, without annoying vibration.

The tires are constructed of five layers of wood, running the long way, not one atop the next, as with rubber. They would cost less than $10 each under mass production.

We just throw out this information for the benefit of those who have tires that are wearing rather thin. There may be somthing to the wooden tire idea, even if the speed has to be less, as the inventor suggests.

HERE'S OUR BET

So far as we are concerned we are ready to bet all that we have on the American fighting man.

Given equal equipment, he will beat his weight in any enemy army, navy, or air force.

If he doesn't, we will not need what we have; it will be worthless.

A STATEMENT

THE COAL SITUATION!

To Our Customers and All Coal Consumers:

In the light of prevailing conditions we, as distributors of bituminous coal, wish to ask that you give serious consideration to the question of your coal supply, to end that we may avoid, if possible, many of the things that we feel ahead of the coal and railroad industries.

Have you taken a long range view of your requirements?

Have you had time to analyze the situation that confronts us all and, if so, are you absolutely certain that you have taken advantage of the situation that exists today with respect to your equirements of the country?

These are not idle qustions presented as a sales talk.

As coal merchants we feel a distinct obligation on our part to pass on to you such information as we have so that should we run into difficulties at a later date no customer of ours can say that we have not used reasonable precautions.

Today the capacity and facilities for producing coal are not being us- This is also true of railroad facilities.

It is our firm belief that this condition will not prevail for any great length of time.

Full advantage should be taken of the lull before defense requirements of other industries press down upon all of us.

The railroads are asking for further increases in their coal rates. If granted, they may become effective soon.

The railroads are now called on to handle an unprecedented tonnage to and from the West Coast because of the shortage of ships, and this requires a great amount of locomotive power. It is probable that it will affect coal movement in the East.

The President recently named a coordinator for all transportation (Hon. Jos. B. Eastman), with full authority to use and direct transportation facilities to the best advantage.

The President recently named a solid fuel coordinator (Hon. Harold L. Ickes), with authority to dirct production and distribution of solid fuels, etc.

We may expect defense industr tries to be gven preference in coal and transportation.

We may expect non-defense industries and household users of coal to be inconvenienced if coal or transportation is otherwise needed.

We may expect a curtailment in the movement of coal by trucks as a result of the inability of truck owners man and maintain them.

We all know that unless it is moved regularly and full advantage taken of the present situtation, difficulties will arise.

The mining industries are having difficulty in getting equipment, etc., to keep going.

We all know that should be the Government once started allocating or parceling coal out to consumers nothing but confusion will result. Rubber and tires are now being rationed— oil and gas may soon follow.

All of this governmental red tape can be avoided if those who use coal will place their orders now for all that they can accommodate.

With these facts before us, our duty is plain. Let's not procrastinate. All authorities say we are in for a long hard fight.

Let's keep coal rolling, and in this way do our bit to keep the wheels of industry moving and win the war. LET COAL HELP WIN THE WAR!

Spring Prices are now in effect on coal—So Don't Wait.

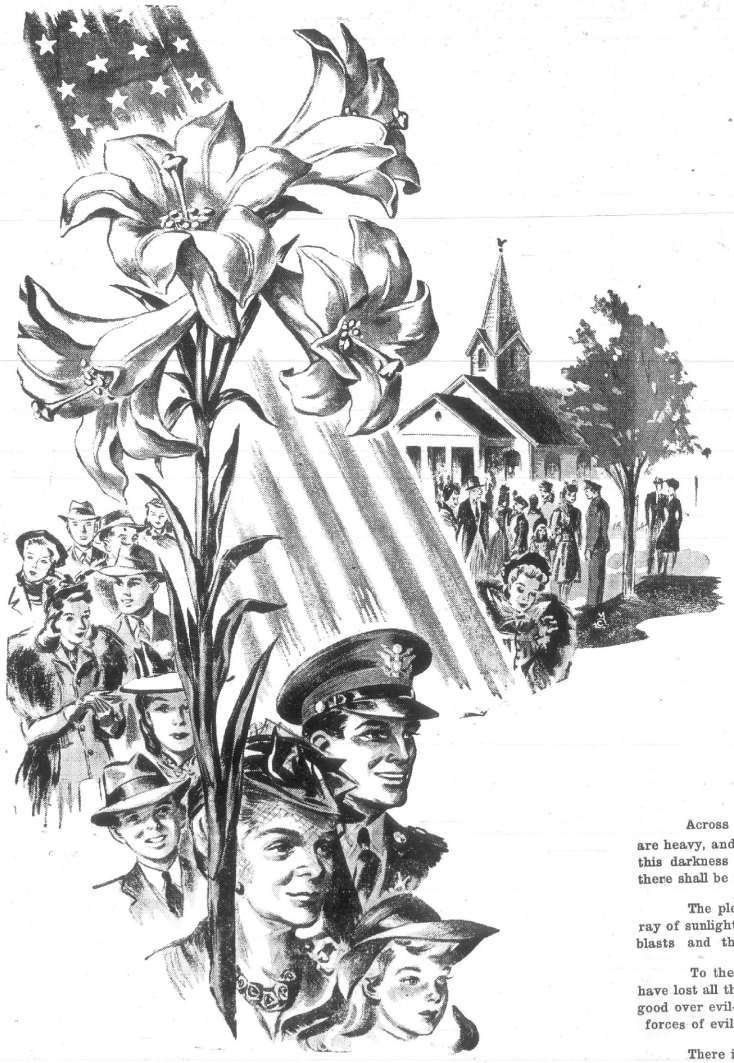
Come to Church for Easter Services



"The Pledge of the Resurrection, Symbolized In Easter, is like a Light in the Darkness"

Across the darkness of a war-torn world—in homes where countless millions of hearts are heavy, and minds and spirits are weighed down by separation, anxiety and death—across this darkness falls the light of Easter, the pledge of life and of life eternal, a life in which there shall be neither sorrow of parting nor affliction of heart and soul.

The pledge of the resurrection, symbolized in Easter is like a light in the darkness—a ray of sunlight falling across a woodland glade, dank and cold from the devastation of wintry blasts and the melting snows of countless storms.

To the worried, Easter brings hope; to the downcast of spirit, courage; to those who have lost all that was dear to them in life, it brings the comfort of faith. It is the truimph of good over evil—of truth over error, of life over death, of the Eternal Goodness over the forces of evil.

There is no deeper human experience than the realization of the impermanence of evil. It is that knowledge which will sustain and support us through the dark days ahead. We know that ours is the ultimate Victory for we fight on the side of right.

Sorrow there is, and suffering and pain and loss,, but beyond them all is the glory of the Easter morning when the stone is rolled away. In the words of the old hymn, "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

Easter is the eternal pledge of the resurrection. The voice of the prophet, Job, paraphrased and set to truimphant strains of music, still rings out: "I know that my Redeemer liveth—and because He lives, I too shall live again."

To our Easter prayer this April, then, should be added a very special prayer for America's legions of men in uniform. For those at their parents' sides in the Church of their faith—for those far from home, in flying ships, on ammunition-spouting decks and on battlefields around the world.

May Victory quickly be theirs, and may they soon return to enjoy to the full that democratic way of life for which they fight. For their sakes—and for our own spiritual security, let us all go to Church this Easter.

Will Test Soil

LOCAL SCHOOL WILL CO-OPERATE IN MAKING VICTORY GARDENS A SUCCESS

The department of agriculture of Tecumseh high school is prepared to test the soil of your garden, is the announcement today by the Tecumseh Victory Garden Committee. Good seed and an abundance of energy will not produce a good garden if the soil is low in fertility. Also good seed and labor coupled with large applications of fertilizer on good soil is a waste of money. Have your soil tested by the agriculture department of Tecumseh high school. This is the only way of dealing with the unknown factor—soil fertility, the committee warns.

Scrape off about one inch of top soil and then collect about one half a teacup of exposed soil. Take about five samples in a garden. Place them in a paper bag, mix well, and send it to the high school. Buy your fertilizer on the basis of this soil analysis. There is no charge for this soil analysis.

Further pointers for victory gardeners are: Don't waste seed. Don't waste fertilizer. Don't waste your time and energy. Don't take a garden unless you intend to care for it. Don't get a larger garden than you can care for. Much better have a good small garden than a large poor one.

Raid Wardens Are Named

ARE ASKED TO TAKE FIRST AID TRAINING; PUBLIC COOPERATION REQUESTED

E. C. Heilman, chief air raid warden of Tecumseh, today announced section and block air raid wardens for the village, and at the same time appealed for public cooperation and interest in the town's protection."

"It seems to me," Mr. Heilman said, that the public is too apathetic. Speak of the war, and you'd think you were talking about something entirely foreign to Americans. We're in this war, and there's no fooling. It is not impossible for enemy planes to bomb Tecumseh. If they do, we want to know what to do, and do it quickly. That is why we are training our citizens for such an emergecy. This is not the time for play, it is the time for work and serious thinking. I am appealing for every citizen of the village to cooperate completely."

Section and block wardens announced today by Mr. Heilman are:

Downtown district, C. O. Butler, section warden. Assistants, Yale Kerby, George Wilson, Charles Howe, Walt Nichols, Clarence Gilman, M. Mulvany, A. Porter, M. Watkins, H. Tuckey, Earl Updyke, Lester Rogers, Wm. Wright.

Brownville: Rev. E. T. Rodda, section warden. Block wardens: Ed Kimball, Wm. Kerentoff, Hal Lewis, Glenn Driscoll, Roy Hamilton.

Northwest section, Leon Rosacrans, section warden. Block wardens; Norman Bailey, Karl Schneider, Clayton Young, Clyde Barber, John Truesdale, Fred Van Tyne, Lawrence Derby, Fred Dickinson, Ed Smalledge, Otto Teske, Wm. Service, Harry Abbott, M. L. Dannells, W. Winfield, D. Oliphant, Paul Wolf and Wm. Wick.

Northeast section, Rev. R. W. Scheele, warden. Block wardens: C. Wagner, L. Randall, C. Cederquist, F. Chase, E. Pritchard, H. Smith, F. Rice, A. Filter.

Southeast section, E. Richardson, warden. Block wardens: J. Tresler, H. Sisson, Lester Reed, L. Gurtzweiler, S. Warren, K. Ashley, O. Curtis, E. Cordray, N. Hart, R. Fletcher, J. Frantz, G. Hooten.

Southwest section, R. H. Moore, warden. Block wardens: J. Artman, E. Brandt, O. Farver, W. Beardsley, B. Updyke, P. Ammer, H. Wilson, R. Robinson, A. Brazee, Rev. Edw. Escolme, G. Green, H. Hanna, J. Smith, R. Puffer, D. Hodges, L. Harris, A. Teske, F. Arnold, C. Stevenson, C. Beach, L. Perrin, S. Cole

E. M. Campbell, who is giving first aid instruction to wardens here, began another class in that subject last evening, and he plans to continue the course until all wardens have familiarized themselves with the training. Every warden is urged by Mr. Heilman to take the course, and those who already have heard the lessons are asked to attend again, that they may get the benefit of added training.

"It is something that will come in very handy if we are attacked locally, and if we are not the instructions received will prove of benefit in every day life. I cannot urge too strongly that the wardens cooperate in this program," Mr. Heilman said.

The chief warden plans to have an actual bomb demonstration in Tecumseh in the near future, and also a practice blackout. Details of this part of the program have not been completed. Defense and first aid pictures will be shown here at some future date, it was said.

Britton Folk Wed 50 Years

MR. AND MRS. C. D. ZELUFF CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

"I never was without a day's work in my life, and I never asked a man for a job. I've always been busy; even today I'm working 18 hours out of the 24 and I like it." That, in a couple of sentences, sums up C. D. Zeluff's receipe for long life and happiness, and he should know on Sunday, with Mrs. Zeluff, he celebrated his 50th wedding anniversary.

"I guess happiness comes from hard work all right," Mrs. Zeluff added, "and we've known plenty of it. Long hours don't seem to mean anything to 'Cas' but I'm insisting that he is going to take a little vacation. I think we've earned it, don't you?"

Happy as a bride and groom in their 20's, Mr. and Mrs. Zeluff entertained some 300 persons in their homes at Britton on Sunday afternoon and evening, after they had presided at a dinner at the Britton hotel at noon, when some 50 persons were served. It was a "big day" for Mr. and Mrs. Zeluff, but 'Cas' was up at 6 o'clock Monday morning as usual, ready to begin his 18-hour work day at his tavern in Britton.

Mr. Zeluff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Zeluff, was born in Britton. His bide, Nellie Rappeleye, was born in Ridgeway. They were married April 5, 1892, at the Rappleye home in Ridgeway by Elder James Wright of the Christian church of Britton.

Mollie S. Dunn of Ann Arbor, a sister of Mrs. Zeluff, and Mrs. Flora Exelby of Britton, and Eugene Zeluff of Toledo, brother and sister of Mr. Zeluff, were present at the wedding and also attended the golden wedding celebration.

The first five years that Mr. and Mrs. Zeluff were married they lived on the Zeluff farm, about a mile and a quarter east of Britton. Then they moved to the village and for seven years Mr. Zeluff worked for O. B. Leonardson. He then opened a general store which he operated for 22 years. He served Britton as its postmaster for ten and a half years of that time, the postoffice department being in the rear of his store.

Tired of the general store, Mr. Zeluff turned his business into a restaurant and about eight years ago to a restaurant and tavern, known as the 2-Z's Inn. For a time his son was associated with him in the business, but he now operates it with the aid of employed help. The Zeluffs only child, Lawrence Zeluff, now lives in Adrian. There are two grandchildren, Richard and Larry.

A fiftieth wedding anniversary is not an unusual event in the Zeluff family. Mr. Zeluff's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Zeluff, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Britton in 1913. His grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. David Zeluff, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Tecumseh in 1893.

At the dinner and "open house" in Britton on Sunday were friends and relatives from Detroit, Gaylord, Ann Arbor, Toledo, Tecumseh, Dundee, Adrian, Willis, Belleville, Ridgeway, Clinton, Macon, Harvey, Ill., and scores from Britton and vicinity. Each guest had a piece of the large wedding cake and tea.

"I would like to write to each of our guests, and to the 250 persons who sent us card of greeting, but I'm afraid that would be impossible," Mrs. Zeluff commented. "Our flowers and gifts were beautiful, and we want to extend our thanks to everyone, including Elder Priest of Britton."

"No, we didn't have a second marriage ceremony," Mrs. Zeluff said in answer to the question. "We didn't think it was necessary. The knot Elder Wright tied 50 years ago in our opinion was sufficient."

Admits Thefts

YOUTH, 15 IMPLICATES ANOTHER; ENTERED 50 HOMES IN THIS VILLAGE, HE SAYS

Admitting that he and his boy friend had entered some 50 homes in Tecumseh, a 15-year-old Adrian boy who was arrested by Adrian police, yesterday afternoon made a confession to Deputy Sheriff George Isaacson that might serve well as the basis for a movie story.

The youth, who is to be committed to a state reformatory, told the officers that he and his pal had been in many of the larger homes in the village. In one place, he couldn't remember just where, $27 was taken from the family Bible. He admitted the robbery at the Mrs. H. B. Tallman home, where $25 was taken, and said that someone was asleep on the davenport where they were ransacking the house.

In another place, he said they took a bow and arrows. At this home they narrowly escaped detection. Someone came into the bedroom, he told the deputies and they hid in a closet while "the man changed his clothes."

Isaacson spent most of yesterday afternoon with the boy, driving him around town while he identified some of the homes he and his friend had visited in the past two years. The officers said that in many of the instances no robbery reports had been received.

The boy and his friends were recently taken into custody of Adrian for investigation of robbery charges. They "split" whatever money they found, the boy said, and jewelry they either kept or sold.

"We entered homes in Tecumseh some of them while the folks were there. If a house is locked, it quite certain that the folks are away and the pocketbook's gone. The time to get into the house is while there is someone there. Then you'll find money," Isaacson said the boy told him.

The deputy obtained the confession after he bought the boy an ice cream sundae.

Junior Class Will Give Play

"GOOD NIGHT LADIES," A THREE-ACT COMEDY, TO BE PRESENTED APRIL 16-17

Rehearsals are well under way for the Junior class play "Good Night Ladies" to be presented nert Thursday and Friday, April 16-17, in the high school auditorium. The play is a rollicking three-act comedy by Edwin S. Day.

The unusual plot is centered about the attempts of the three Raleigh, Helen, Jane and Sam, to keep their mortgaged home. As a last resort the girls have decided to use the house as a girls' dormitory, hoping that the revenue will take care of current expenses. Aunt Flora and Aunt Barbara Stevens have agreed to act as chaperons. A postponement of the Aunts' arrival brings about a crisis, for Miss Eggleby (whose brother, by the way, holds the mortgage on the house), refused to allow any girls to occupy the dormitory until it is properly chaperoned. In fact, when Judy West arrives, accompanied by her bashful brother, George, the Dean immediately compels her to go to another dormitory. In the meantime Judy becomes terrific homesick and decides to return home. George, however, has seen Angela Rimini, another new student, and has himself decided to go to college.

Larry Dobson devises a plan whereby he'll fake a telegram, announcing the arrival of the Aunts —providing someone will impersonate Barbara and Flora. "Jag" Brown, Jane's carefree boyfriend, and Sam Raleigh finally agree to try and fool the near-sighted Dean of Women by doning Aunt Flora's and Aunt Barbara's clothes. Professor Dexter comes bustling in while the "Aunts" are dressing and confides to Helen that he intends to propose to Flora as soon as she arrives—he's been waiting to do this for twenty years and has decided that he "won't dillydally any longer."

Bly now of Adrian, suffered a fractured skull, a double fracture of the left leg and severe lacerations of the throat, head and right knee. She was still unconscious at last reports and her condition is critical.

The accident occurred when Mr. Kuehn turned out to go around a truck and collided with a gravel truck. The Kuehn car was pinned between the trucks and both he and Mrs. Kuehn were crushed.

Mr. Kuehn was general sales manager for the Farm Crest Baking Co. and was near their home in Northville when the accident occurred.

BUYS BALL PARK

The new building will replace the sheds that have been used by the company on the west side of Evans street, and the old Central hotel—one of the oldest buildings in the village—will eventually be torn down to make way for other improvements to the Evans street property, R. H. Moore said.

Voters Approve New Fire Truck

REPUBLICAN TOWNSHIP OFFICERS REELECTED; ALL SUPERVISORS GO BACK

In an election marked by unusually light balloting, Tecumseh township on Monday returned its Republican officers to their jobs, and by a six and a half to one vote approved the expenditure of not to exceed $8,500 or the purchase of new rural fire truck.

One hundred and twenty-three votes were cast in the election here. On the proposal to purchase the fire truck, only property owners could cast their ballot. That vote was 98 in favor of the purchase, 15 against.

County-wide, Monday's election found few voters sufficiently interested to visit the polls. In every township the voting was light, but all incumbent supervisors were returned to their offices, making the county board again predominenly Republican.

Members of the Tecumseh township board said that they would take immediate steps to attempt the purchase of the new rural fire apparatus but first they must obtain necessary government priorities. With the State of Michigan experiencing difficulty in obtaining fire fighting equipment, local officials said that they did not know when a new truck might be obtained locally.

The proposed new truck will replace a 15-year-old piece of apparatus considered obsolete by insurance companies, and now being used to fight local rural fires. The new truck would be housed in the village barn, and manned by village firemen, and would be on call for fires anywhere in the township, without charge to the residents.

In the general election on Monday, Tecumseh voted as follows:

WE SHOULD WAKE UP

Last week, The Herald carried a news story emphasizing the shortage of houses in Tecumseh, quoting Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Company, to the effect that "rent boosting" here must stop or he will be forced to ask the federal government to establish a rent ceiling in this village.

The Herald has known for many months, and has said in both its editorial and news columns that Tecumseh's housing shortage is acute; that something should be done to relieve it. A few weeks ago we warned, editorially that thousands of dollars in Tecumseh payrolls are going out of this village because workers could not find homes for their families. We urged at that time a definite effort on the part of business and professional men to relieve the situation.

What has been done? Very little, if anything.

Now Tecumseh has the word of its largest employer of labor—the president of the company that is dumping $65,000 a week in payrolls in the laps of local business—to the effect that Tecumseh needs to awaken to the housing shortage. Will Mr. Herrick's appeal bring action?

We realize full well that Tecumseh, too, is "caught in a trap" on its house-building. We realize that there are many "critical" materials that go into the building of homes that cannot be had unless Tecumseh is declared a defense area. We realize that Tecumseh has not been declared a defense area, although the pressure very has been completed and is now on somebody's desk, awaiting the clipping of government red tape.

But that's not what we are interested in—what we want is action. If we sit on the side lines and wait for the government to act, we'll probably wear out our pants and accomplish nothing. There are too many communities like Tecumseh, needing houses. And in these communities there are business and professional men and Chambers of Commerce constantly on the alert, prodding government agencies for action. The way to accomplish action on the part of the government is to make yourself heard often enough and long enough to get action.

We're in favor of discarding the letter and postcard method of appeal. We are in favor of sending someone to Washington who will let the red tape makers know that here in Tecumseh we need homes and we need them now. We'd like to send somebody to Washington who "knows his way around" and who would make himself heard. We'd like to have him make such a nuisance of himself in Washington that they'd be glad to give Tecumseh some relief, just to get rid of him.

Yes, it will cost a few dollars to send such a man to Washington, but what of that. Its an established fact that Tecumseh is losing thousand of dollars worth of business every week, because we do not have homes to house our employees. It also is a fact that if we are to continue the manufacture of war materials, and Mr. Herrick says that he soon will need 300 to 400 more men, then we must have a place to house them.

We can't have satisfied and satisfactory labor unless labor can be properly housed. Labor cannot continue to pay rent increases every 30 or 60 days. And Tecumseh business men—from a financial standpoint—cannot afford to continue to lose $65,000 every other week in payrolls.

Let's do something about this condition and do it quickly. We'll all benefit—labor, the village of Tecumseh, the federal government.

ADVERTISERS AND NEWSPAPERS

We are rather interested in the statement of John Benson, president of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, who says that advertising agencies are spending thousands of dollars in research and testing to determine the best possible uses of newspaper advertising.

Without knowing the details of the expenditure, we nevertheless hazard the guess that the agencies are overlooking thousands of county newspapers, similar to The Tecumseh Herald, which have small circulations when compared to the large dailies but which completely cover the trading areas in which they circulate.

Naturally, newspaper men are interested in the statement of Mr. Benson that he continues "to regard the newspaper medium as the main highway to the consumer market of the country." Despite this, many agencies, located in the larger cities and controlling most of the national advertising, persist in attempting to cover the areas through magazines.

We know that a national advertiser who overlooks The Herald when he seeks to advertise in Lenawee makes a mistake. We know, furthermore, that there are literally thousands of county newspapers that furnish the same advertising service in their county that we furnish in this country.

There are hundreds of advertisers in Lenawee who could tell the national advertising agencies that it pays to advertise in The Herald. Naturally, if we tell them this, we are under suspicion of trying to boost our wares for the purpose of a sale.

From our angle, it looks like the national advertisers do not know as much about advertising as they should know. Perhaps some of them will see this editorial and get the idea.

MACHINERY FOR FARMERS

Concern over the shortage of farm labor is being expressed by a number of Congressmen but, so far as we know, none of them has taken the obvious step to increase necessary farm production.

While many farms in the United States are highly mechanized and geared for capacity production, there are thousands of small farmers in the nation who are unable to purchase the machinery necessary to increase production.

Doesn't it appear obvious that if the Government wants greater farm output, it should assist farmers to buy necessary farm machinery?

This idea will seem radical to the metropolitan business boys, including industrialists, bankers and capialists, but it represents nothing but an extension of the assistance that the Government is rendering to industry. Demanding increased production of war weapons, the Goverment has readily made available capital to industrial companies. It can make similar capital available to farmers to increase farm production.

Of course, there are farmers, just like industrialists, who are worrying about what will happen after the war. This concern seems a little premature to us, but, just the same, here will be a tremendous demand for manufactured and farm products after the war. All that will be necessary will be some form of international cooperation to make possible the easy flow of trade between all the peoples of the world.
